Examining the Landscape of Transfer Support Catherine Hartman, Jeffrey Mayo, 2025-01-14

Transfer students are an important yet often understudied and underserved population within postsecondary education Millions of students rely on the transfer function of community colleges and two year schools to earn bachelor s degrees Yet low student transfer and bachelor s degree completion rates indicate a leaky transfer pipeline Given the growing interest and increase in transfer and transfer intending students across the postsecondary landscape and the longstanding degree completion challenges these students often face institutional leaders and staff must understand how they can best support transfer students and bolster their persistence For this reason the National Resource Center for The First Year Experience and Students in Transition created the inaugural National Study of Transfer Student Initiatives This report details the results from the 2021 National Study of Transfer Student Initiatives and is intended to provide leaders researchers and policymakers with a national overview of transfer related policies practices and procedures as well as institutional and bureaucratic barriers to their development coordination and implementation In addition it prompts discussions for leaders and staff as they consider how transfer related efforts may be improved to better meet the needs of students

Adjunct Faculty Voices Roy Fuller, Marie Kendall Brown, Kimberly Smith, 2023-07-03 As the debate regarding the increasing use of adjunct faculty in higher education continues to swirl the voices of adjunct faculty themselves are rarely heard Stories abound regarding the poor working conditions in which most adjunct faculty labor yet many of those that employ adjunct faculty are unaware of how the conditions impact an adjunct's ability to teach effectively Adjunct Faculty Voices gives a voice to this growing population It shares the experiences and clear benefits adjuncts gain from having access to professional development opportunities In spite of a shortage of resources there are institutions offering development programs that target the pressing needs of this population The first part of the book features the voices of adjunct faculty who tell their stories of finding professional development and creating or connecting with communities of colleagues for mutual support These adjunct voices represent a range of disciplinary perspectives career stages and institutional types In the second section the authors draw upon a benchmarking study of adjunct faculty developing programs examine specific challenges and highlight successful practices Institutions can support adjunct faculty through teaching academies and faculty learning communities mentor programs conference support and adjunct faculty liaison positions Topics discussed include Best professional development practices that support and benefit adjunct faculty Faculty social isolation and community building opportunities An overview of changes affecting the academic workforce An outline of issues and working conditions Current demographics and types of adjunct faculty Survey results from adjunct faculty developers Adjunct faculty narratives featuring their professional development and community experiences Teaching and Learning centers across the country are responding to the growing adjunct cohort in innovative and efficient ways Administrators deans department chairs and adjunct faculty will all benefit by hearing the voices of adjuncts as they express the challenges faced by adjunct faculty and the types of professional development opportunities which are most beneficial
