Handbook of Successful Aging Rocío Fernández-Ballesteros,Athanase Benetos,Jean-Marie Robine,2019-01-24 Recent studies show that more people than ever before are reaching old age in better health and enjoying that health for a longer time This Handbook outlines the latest discoveries in the study of aging from bio medicine psychology and socio demography It treats the study of aging as a multidisciplinary scientific subject since it requires the interplay of broad disciplines while offering high motivation positive attitudes and behaviors for aging well and lifestyle changes that will help people to stay healthier across life span and in old age Written by leading scholars from various academic disciplines the chapters delve into the most topical aspects of aging today including biological mechanisms of aging aging with health active and productive aging aging with satisfaction aging with respect and aging with dignity Aimed at health professionals as well as general readers this Cambridge Handbook offers a new positive approach to later life Successful Aging Paul Boris Baltes,Margret

M. Baltes,1993-05-28 More and more people live into old age This demographic revolution underscores the fact that old age is the last uncharted and unattended phase of the life cycle The Study of Human Development Richard A. Settersten Jr.,Megan M. McClelland,2018-10-18 If you had just one wish for the study of human development what would it be How would it advance the field And what would it take for your vision to be realized This was the charge given to twenty eight scholars coming from different disciplines and fields and who study different periods of the life course This book compiles provocative contributions from a wide range of established scholars organized into seven thematic areas conceptual advances systems levels and contexts individual differences methodological advances harnessing science for human welfare and social justice underexplored life course dynamics and interdisciplinary collaboration and playing well with others This book was originally published as a special issue of Research in Human Development Risk and Resilience in Human Development Corey L.M. Keyes, 2018-12-07 This special issue is devoted to the topic of risk and resilience in human development a topic that epitomizes the complexity of human development as a process of constancy and change throughout life The three empirical papers in this issue represent strong contributions to the growing corpus of research on risk and resilience in human development The first one focuses on the uniquely vulnerable population of urban ethnic minority adolescent males The second paper focuses on the risk and resilience from trauma in a sample of mostly Caucasian individuals from rural Iowa who were at the last assessment in the midst of transition into young adulthood It measures an array of mental disorders outcomes and reveals the theoretical importance of timing of the risk factor The last paper is a study begun in 1978 of a cohort of individuals with serious adolescent onset mental disorder It compares these individuals against the risk and resilience profiles of a matched sample without serious adolescent onset psychiatric disorder In sum this issue adds to the corpus of the frontiers of resilience research Social Work with the Aged and Their Families Roberta R. Greene, Colleen Galambos, Harriet L. Cohen, Nancy Greene, 2016-11-30 Social Work with the Aged and Their Families presents the functional age model FAM of intergenerational treatment an integrative theoretical framework for social workers practicing with older adults and their families In keeping with the Council on Social Work Education's curriculum mandate of 2015 social workers are now encouraged to use human behavior theories in working with their geriatric clients This fourth edition incorporates much needed additional techniques to address the mental health assessments of the elderly FAM addresses the assessment of older adults biological psychological socio cultural and spiritual age It also incorporates an evaluation of the family system family roles and family development in this assessment Interventions at the individual family group and community levels are discussed This volume augmented with recent concepts related to successful aging spirituality and resiliency presents the major converging conceptual trends that constitute a model for twenty first century social work practice in the field of aging It is an indispensable text for those training in social work practice with the elderly or those currently in practice Aging and Development Peter G. Coleman, Ann O'Hanlon, 2017-02-03 The psychology of aging usually focuses upon cognitive changes with a particular focus on dementia and other forms of cognitive decline But getting older is about more than simply changes to the brain and related health issues Changes to our social and emotional lives are also hugely significant as we adapt across our lifespan The second edition of Aging and Development is the only textbook available that responds to the growing interest in social personal and emotional development in older age Ideally suited to complement texts on cognitive change the book provides a holistic developmental perspective on aging It highlights a range of issues including the development of personal meaning and spirituality improvements in emotional control uses of reminiscence and life review the importance of healthy attitudes to aging as well as the maintenance of close personal relationships It does not avoid the difficult issues of late life decline but illustrates how even in circumstances of physical and mental frailty a positive sense of self can be created and enhanced Fully updated to provide the most cutting edge overview on this burgeoning topic of interest Aging and Development includes a glossary and list of useful websites both on the study of gerontology and the psychology of aging It will be essential reading for all students of developmental psychology as well as anyone either training to work or already working with older people Clinician's Handbook of Adult Behavioral Assessment Michel Hersen, 2011-04-28 Given the vast amount of research related to behavioral assessment it is difficult for clinicians to keep abreast of new developments In recent years there have been advances in assessment case conceptualization treatment planning treatment strategies for specific disorders and considerations of new ethical and legal issues Keeping track of advances requires monitoring diverse resources limited to specific disorders many of which are theoretical rather than practical or that offer clinical advice without providing the evidence base for treatment recommendations This handbook was created to fill this gap summarizing critical information for adult behavioral assessment The Clinician's Handbook of Adult Behavioral Assessment provides a single source for understanding new developments in this field cutting across strategies techniques and disorders Assessment strategies are presented in context with the research behind those strategies along with discussions of clinical utility and how assessment and conceptualization fit in with treatment planning The volume is organized in three sections beginning with general issues followed by evaluations of specific disorders and problems and closing with special issues To ensure cross chapter consistency in the coverage of disorders these chapters are formatted to contain an introduction assessment strategies research basis clinical utility conceptualization and treatment planning a case study and summary Special issue coverage includes computerized assessment evaluating older adults behavioral neuropsychology ethical legal issues work related issues and value change in adults with acquired disabilities Suitable for beginning and established clinicians in practice this handbook will provide a ready reference toward effective adult behavioral assessment Ageing and the Visitor Economy Stephen J. Page, Joanne Connell, 2022-03-29

This significant volume is the first to use primary research evidence to examine tourism ageing and the implications of an ageing population for the visitor economy Adopting a multidisciplinary approach this book offers insights into the new opportunities threats and challenges that the growing ageing tourism markets poses The ageing population has created a demographic time bomb with a population structure that is skewed towards a growing proportion of older people When this is combined with the impact of health conditions such as dementia the future shape of visitor demand and tourism behaviour is likely to change and face many new challenges albeit at different rates in time and space Chapters include cutting edge insights into future issues while interviews are used to illustrate and explain issues affecting ageing and tourism creating a much needed synthesis of the ageing tourism nexus to demonstrate intellectual leadership around this theme This book will be of great interest to all upper level students academics and researchers in the fields of tourism hospitality leisure studies and health and social care Developing Sport Expertise Damian Farrow,Joseph Baker,Clare

MacMahon,2007-11-29 An athlete s development from ordinary talent to elite accomplishment in sport is a long one The emergence and fine tuning of high level sport skills takes place in increments over many years and is a journey that fascinates sport scientists sports coaches and sports fans alike Developing Sports Expertise the first available textbook for undergraduates in sports skills development examines the science behind sports skill acquisition and explores the application of science to optimal sports training and talent identification The text also contains Coaches Corner insets throughout to provide effective day to day advantage based on in the text Edited by three of the world s leading scientists in sports skills acquisition and with contributions from both world class coaches and cutting edge researchers this textbook provides comprehensive authoritative guide to the field Encyclopedia of Human Development Neil J. BMA Medical Book Awards The Social Psychology of Aging Scott F. Madey, 2018-12-07 This special issue highlights how social psychology can further the understanding of important social health interpersonal and intergenerational issues facing people as they age This issue has three goals to generate more interest in aging as an area of study for social psychologists by showcasing researchers who are currently integrating basic social psychological research with issues in aging and lifespan development to challenge readers to think about how their research programs can interconnect with issues in aging and to demonstrate how social psychological processes have direct application to many of the issues facing people as they age Contextual Influences on Life Span/life Course Jacquelynne S. Eccles, 2018-12-07 This special issue covers different aspects of life course development The central argument of the first paper is that human development should be viewed as the product of the interpenetration of cultural and biological processes The following article outlines how current sociology constructs life courses The notion of developmental biocultural co constructivism and specifically the zone within which human development can be expressed is the focus of the third paper Next a developmental account of civic engagement and political participation is provided Finally the special issue concludes with a paper marking individual differences in patterns of rhesus monkey biobehavioral development through the life span Ageing in the Asia-Pacific Region David R. Phillips, 2002-11-01 First Published in 2004 The Asia Pacific region is now clearly witnessing the rapid ageing of many of its nations and Asia is already the region with relatively the largest number of older persons This book focuses on the challenges that this demographic trend poses to economies and societies in the region and the policies that have evolved to date to meet new demands It looks forward over the coming decades to consider how societies and economies will deal with ageing and the necessary structural and behavioural changes that this will entail The book is organized into two main sections The first introduces the key features demography research and long term care issues of the region and provides region wide context and analysis The second section offers in depth case studies of thirteen countries including China Japan Korea and Indonesia As well as providing a wealth of original research material the book also offers valuable comparative analysis while the larger economies have had to develop policies to maintain their social and economic successes in the face of demographic ageing developing countries must find ways to build their economies around an ageing population With contributors drawn from a range of academic and professional disciplines including many practising social gerontologists this book will be of interest to scholars in economics sociology social policy health policy politics and development studies With its particular emphasis on the future it will also be an essential reference for anybody with a professional interest in policy making in the region
