Suffering in Silence Shakita Mitchell, 2020-06-23 Many people live their lives suffering in silence they walk around with their mouths smothered never speaking about their past or current pain because fear has paralyzed them from speaking They walk through life with hurt and brokenness in their heart carrying the burden of their pain and all along they are suffering in silence The reason people suffer in silence is because they don't speak on their pain they may feel the guilt of shame and embarrassment of their past so they cover up their pain by finding a coping mechanism such as drugs alcohol sex and more They also mask their pain with pretend trying to distinguish between what's reality and what is fictional and yet suffering in silence What does it mean to suffer in silence It means to be unhappy without saying anything however what causes a person to suffer in silence could be depression grief abuse and much more It's a pain that is unspoken of that can eat you up if it's not dealt with your outward appearance look good but your inner self is suffering In Silence Don't allow the enemy to use fear to paralyze you from speaking You have a voice break your silence and speak be healed and be free
