Diane Atkinson, 2018-02-08 Marking the centenary of female suffrage this definitive history charts women's fight for the vote through the lives of those who took part in a timely celebration of an extraordinary struggle An Observer Pick of 2018 A Telegraph Book of 2018 A New Statesman Book of 2018 Between the death of Queen Victoria and the outbreak of the First World War while the patriarchs of the Liberal and Tory parties vied for supremacy in parliament the campaign for women's suffrage was fought with great flair and imagination in the public arena Led by Emmeline Pankhurst and her daughters Christabel and Sylvia the suffragettes and their actions would come to define protest movements for generations to come From their marches on Parliament and 10 Downing Street to the selling of their paper Votes for Women through to the more militant activities of the Women's Social and Political Union whose slogan Deeds Not Words resided over bombed pillar boxes acts of arson and the slashing of great works of art the women who participated in the movement endured police brutality assault imprisonment and force feeding all in the relentless pursuit of one goal the right to vote A hundred years on Diane Atkinson celebrates the lives of the women who answered the call to Rise Up a richly diverse group that spanned the divides of class and country women of all ages who were determined to fight for what had been so long denied Actresses to mill workers teachers to doctors seamstresses to scientists clerks boot makers and sweated workers Irish Welsh Scottish and English a wealth of women's lives are brought together for the first time in this meticulously researched vividly rendered and truly defining biography of a movement Christabel Pankhurst June Purvis, 2018-01-18 Together with her mother Emmeline Christabel Pankhurst co led the single sex Women's Social and Political Union WSPU founded in 1903 and soon regarded as the most notorious of the groupings campaigning for the parliamentary vote for women A First Class Honours Graduate in Law the determined and charismatic Christabel a captivating orator revitalised the women's suffrage campaign by rousing thousands of women to become suffragettes as WSPU members were called and to demand rather than ask politely for their democratic citizenship rights A supreme tactician her advocacy of militant unladylike tactics shocked many people and the political establishment When an end to militancy was called on the outbreak of war in 1914 she encouraged women to engage in war work as a way to win their enfranchisement Four years later when enfranchisement was granted to certain categories of women aged thirty and over she stood unsuccessfully for election to parliament as a member of the Women's Party In 1940 she moved to the USA with her adopted daughter and had a successful career there as a Second Adventist preacher and writer However she is mainly remembered for being the driving force behind the militant wing of the women's suffrage movement This full length biography the first for forty years draws upon feminist approaches to biography writing to place her within a network of supportive female friendships It is based upon an unrivalled range of previously untapped primary sources The Wrens of World War II Peter Hore, 2021-09-29 The World War II codebreaking station at Bletchley is well known and its activities documented in detail Its decryption capabilities were vital to the war effort significantly aiding Allied victory But where did the messages being deciphered come from in the first place This is the extraordinary untold story of the Y service a secret even more closely guarded than Bletchley Park The Y service was the code for the chain of wireless intercept stations around Britain and all over the world Hundreds of wireless operators many of them who were civilians listened to German Italian and Japanese radio networks and meticulously logged everything they heard Some messages were then used tactically but most were sent on to Station X Bletchley Park where they were deciphered translated and consolidated to build a comprehensive overview of the enemy's movements and intentions Peter Hore delves into the fascinating history of the Y service with particular reference to the girls of the Women's Royal Naval Service Wrens who escaped from Singapore to Colombo as the war raged only to be torpedoed in the Atlantic on their way back to Britain the woman who had a devastatingly true premonition that disaster would strike on her way to Gibraltar the Australian who went from being captain of the English Women's Cricket team to a WWII Wren to the head of Abbotleigh girls school in Sydney how the Y service helped to hunt the German battleship Bismarck in the North Atlantic and how it helped to torpedo a Japanese cruiser in the Indian Ocean Together these incredible stories build a picture of World War II as it has never been viewed before Bad Girls Caitlin Davies, 2018-03-08 LONGLISTED FOR THE 2019 ORWELL PRIZE FOR POLITICAL WRITING Davies's absorbing study serves up just enough sensationalism and eccentricity along with its serious inquiry SUNDAY TIMES A revealing account of the jail's 164 year history DAILY TELEGRAPH 5 review Insightful and thought provoking and makes for a ripping good read JEREMY CORBYN A much needed and balanced history OBSERVER Davies explores how society has dealt with disobedient women from suffragettes to refugees to women seeking abortions for decades and how they've failed to silence those who won't go down without a fight STYLIST Society has never known what to do with its rebellious women Those who defied expectations about feminine behaviour have long been considered dangerous and unnatural and ever since the Victorian era they have been removed from public view locked up and often forgotten about Many of these women ended up at HM Prison Holloway the self-proclaimed terror to evil doers which until its closure in 2016 was western Europe's largest women's prison First built in 1852 as a House of Correction Holloway's women have come from all corners of the UK whether a patriot from Scotland a suffragette from Huddersfield or a spy from the Isle of Wight and from all walks of life socialites and prostitutes sporting stars and nightclub queens refugees and freedom fighters They were imprisoned for treason and murder for begging performing abortions and stealing clothing coupons for masquerading as men running brothels and attempting suicide In Bad Girls Caitlin Davies tells their stories and shows how women have been treated in our justice system over more than a century what crimes real or imagined they committed who found them guilty and why It is a story of victimization and resistance of oppression and bravery From the women who escaped the hangman's noose and those who didn't to those who escaped Holloway altogether Bad Girls is a fascinating look at how disobedient and defiant women changed not only the prison service but the course of history The Militant Suffragette Movement in York Krista Cowman, 2007

Bletchley Park's Secret Source Peter Hore, 2021-03-23 A captivating history of the highly secret group of women who helped win the Second World War The World War II codebreaking station at Bletchley is well known and its activities documented in detail Its decryption capabilities were vital to the war effort significantly aiding Allied victory But where did the messages being deciphered come from in the first place This is the extraordinary untold story of the Y Service a secret even more closely guarded than Bletchley Park The Y Service was the code for the chain of wireless intercept stations around Britain and all over the world Hundreds of wireless operators many of them who were civilians listened to German Italian and Japanese radio networks and meticulously logged everything they heard Some messages were then used tactically but most were sent on to Station X Bletchley Park where they were deciphered translated and consolidated to build a comprehensive overview of the enemy s movements and intentions Peter Hore delves into the fascinating history of the Y service with particular reference to the girls of the Women s Royal Naval Service Wrens who escaped from Singapore to Colombo as the war raged only to be torpedoed in the Atlantic on their way back to Britain the woman who had a devastatingly true premonition that disaster would strike on her way to Gibraltar the Australian who went from being captain of the English Women s Cricket team to a WWII Wren to the head of Abbotleigh girls school in Sydney how the Y service helped to hunt the German battleship Bismarck in the North Atlantic and how it helped to torpedo a Japanese cruiser in the Indian Ocean Together these incredible stories build a picture of World War II as it has never been viewed before We get to see how the work of individual Wrens helped in such operations as the interception and sinking of the Bismarck the Slapton Sands disaster several naval battles Channel Dash Matapan etc the ongoing small warship clashes in coastal waters convoy defense and more A good read for anyone interested in the naval side of the war in Europe or in the role of women in military service The NYMAS Review Will reward a patient reader with a remarkably intimate view into the lives and times of these hidden heroes Naval Historical Foundation international Test cricket series against England in the summer of 1934 1935 Their stories and this extraordinary time in Australian sport are told here for the first time After the contentious bodyline mens series in 1932 1933 sporting relations between Australia and England were at an all time low The long traditions built on fair play and sportsmanship had been shattered and controversy raged in the media At the same time a group of talented young women were invited to play for their country Hailing from all classes and backgrounds these exceptional players defied social and family expectations to pursue the sport they loved gaining recognition and celebrity in Test series here and abroad Drawing from rare source material photos and interviews with the original players The Bodyline Fix shines a long overdue light on gender race and class in 1930s Australia The impact and legacy of these early sportswomen lives on to inspire current generations New Books on Women and Feminism ,2004 Women of the Right Spirit Krista Cowman,2007-07-15 This book is the first investigation on how official organizers built and sustained the national militant campaign of the Women s Social and Political Union between 1903 and 1918 While the overall policy of the Union was devised by an ever decreasing circle of women centered around the mother daughter team of Emmeline and Christabel Pankhurst much of its actual activity including its more extreme militant actions such as arson was devised and implemented by these organizers who worked in the provinces and in London Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff,Staff Bowker, Ed,2004 Equal Rights ,1936 Suffragette: My Own Story Emmeline Pankhurst,2015-04-01 The gripping memoir of the leader of the British suffragette movement who was named by Time as one of the 100 Most Important People of the 20th Century With insight and great wit Emmeline s autobiography chronicles the beginnings of her interest in feminism through to her militant and controversial fight for women s right to vote While Emmeline received a good education attending an all girls school and being expected to conform to social norms she rebelled against conventional women s roles At the age of 14 a meeting of women s rights activists sparked a lifelong passion in her to fight for women s freedom and she would later claim that it was on that day she became a suffragist As one after another of the proposed feminist bills were defeated in parliament Pankhurst was inspired to turn to extreme actions While she was the figurehead of the suffragette movement it advocated some controversial tactics such as arson violent protest and hunger strikes Even today there is still debate about the effectiveness of her extreme strategies but her work is recognized as a crucial element in achieving women s suffrage in Britain Her mantle was taken up by her daughters and granddaughter with her legacy still very much alive today
