International Perspectives on Workforce Education and Development Jay W. Rojewski, 2004-12-01 Development of this text has been based on the notion that workforce education and development WFED systems such as secondary and postsecondary vocational and technical education VTE career education and guidance human resource and organizational development HROD and adult training and retraining including literacy programs have essential roles to play in supporting both individual and national efforts to successfully participate in and reap the benefits offered by globalization While this assumption has intuitive appeal not everyone believes that vocational preparation programs result in positive outcomes Psacharopoulos 1997 an outspoken international critic of vocational education and training argues that WFED programs often have a low rate of return on a country's investment when compared to that of the general academic curriculum He contends that WFED initiatives often fail because too much emphasis is placed on these efforts to address myriad complex issues and that decision makers do not utilize the available evidence about VTE to make prudent informed choices Instead major players in the global economy like the World Bank tout basic academic education as an essential priority for developing countries wanting to enter into global markets and exchange

Community Resources William Crimando, T. F. Riggart, 2005-01-26 Counselors often refer their clients to particular human services agencies to deal with specific problems outside their organizations area of expertise How do they find out which outside agencies can help their clients What limitations exist What new helping organizations have been developed and programmed and what existing programs have been enhanced What has new legislation funded This comprehensive and authoritative volume provides the answers human service professionals need to assist and guide their clients Written by credentialed practitioners the book provides detailed explanations and descriptions of the most prominent and beneficial human service agencies Also included is information on agency personnel as well as specific organizational certifications licensing and accreditation This indispensable guide is suitable for use in courses covering the types of human services that exist in every community and as a follow up or adjunct to case management courses It is also an invaluable aid to professional counselors for investigating agencies and or services for client referral
