Tarbert, 1998 Motion Picture News, 1912 The Publishers Weekly, 2001 The Words Jean-Paul Sartre, 1981-04-12 Jean Paul Sartre's famous autobiography of his first ten years has been widely compared to Rousseau's Confessions Written when he was fifty nine years old The Words is a masterpiece of self analysis Sartre the philosopher novelist and playwright brings to his own childhood the same rigor of honesty and insight he applied so brilliantly to other authors Born into a gentle book loving family and raised by a widowed mother and doting grandparents he had a childhood which might be described as one long love affair with the printed word The Words explores and evaluates the whole use of books and language in human experience The Horn Book Guide to Children's and Young Adult Books, 1998 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2002 Mists of Regret Dudley Andrew, 2021-11-09 Just before World War II French cinema reached a high point that has been dubbed the style of poetic realism Working with unforgettable actors like Jean Gabin and Arletty directors such as Renoir Carn Gremillon Duvivier and Chenal routinely captured the prizes for best film at every festival and in every country and their accomplishments led to general agreement that the French were the first to give maturity to the sound cinema Here the distinguished film scholar Dudley Andrew examines the motivations and consequences of these remarkable films by looking at the cultural web in which they were made Beyond giving a rich view of the life and worth of cinema in France Andrew contributes substantially to our knowledge of how films are dealt with in history Where earlier studies have treated the masterpieces of this era either in themselves or as part of the vision of their creators and where certain recent scholars have reacted to this by dissolving the masterpieces back into the system of entertainment that made them possible Andrew stresses the dialogue of culture and cinema In his view the films open questions that take us into the culture while our understanding of the culture gives energy direction and consequence to our reading of the films The book demonstrates the value of this hermeneutic approach for one set of texts and one period but it should very much interest film theorists and film historians of all sorts      School Library Journal ,1997      Metropolis on the Styx David L. Pike,2018-07-05 In Metropolis on the Styx David L Pike considers how underground spaces and their many myths have organized ways of seeing thinking about and living in the modern city Expanding on the cultural history of underground construction in his acclaimed previous book Subterranean Cities Pike details the emergence of a vertical city in the imagination of nineteenth century Paris and London a city overseen by hosts of devils and undermined by subterranean villains a city whose ground level was replete with passages between above and below Metropolis on the Styx brings together a rich variety of visual and written sources ranging from pulp mysteries and movie serials to the poetry of Charles Baudelaire and the novels of Marcel Proust F Scott Fitzgerald and Elinor Glyn to the broadsheets and ephemera of everyday urban life From these materials Pike conjures a working theory of modern underground space that explains why our notions about urban environments remain essentially nineteenth century in character even though cities themselves have since changed almost beyond recognition Highly original in subject matter methodology and conclusions Metropolis on the Styx synthesizes a number of critical approaches periods of study and disciplines in the analysis of a single category of space the underground Pike studies the built environments and the textual and visual ephemera including little known or unknown archival material of Paris London and other cities in conjunction with canonical modern literature and art This book integrates a rich visual component photographs movie stills prints engravings paintings cartoons maps and drawings of actual and imagined subterranean spaces into the fabric of the argument      The Moving Picture World ,1913
