Dare to Stand Alone Bradley Booth,2008 Sir when the regulations of my country clash with the laws of my God I must obey my God Ivan declared

The general studied Ivan's face seriously. Does that include the regulations of your army? Religion was suppressed. Christians were forced to practice their faith secretly. Yet one teenage boy found the courage to stand up and speak boldly about his God. Not just to his friends or in a private church meeting, but on a military base in front of nearly 3,000 enlisted men and one colonel. Foolish. Maybe. Risky. Definitely. But Ivan Gumenyuk had determined to follow God's calling, and right then God was calling him to be a missionary in the Soviet army. Like Daniel of old, Ivan faced trials that tested his faith to the limits. And like Daniel, Ivan accomplished incredible things for God.

A Stand-Alone Boy and the Utterly Profound Touch of Heaven Arthur Lucas Jones, 2019-02-23. Seeing thoughts as text to quote a creative poet has been part of what is attempted here. The Child at Bethlehem who became the adult Jesus of Nazareth has never left us. He left no money or property. He left the Paraclete as his Voice and listener. We do not pray through a ceiling; we pray to someone who calls out alongside us and brings our prayers to the heart of God. I have been conversing with Jesus every day since I was a child. Prayer is both speaking and listening to God. The term used to describe this process and experience is The Utterly Profound Touch of Heaven. I call its practice Conversational Spirituality, and I want to share it. It is based on our innate capacity to turn thoughts into speech and listen for the response, and then turn our thoughts into texts for the guidance of life. That's how the New Testament was written. Welcome the Christ as we speak and listen to him through his bequeathed Voice in the world, the Paraclete. We speak and we listen. That's how we talked to God so naturally as children. Let's recapture it. We are speech-making beings, and there is no point in speech without a listener to respond. The brand here is Christian, but it applies with great respect across the board to all faiths and wider spiritual searches. A scientist uses many lenses to see the universe, and we use many lenses to see God. Sometimes we stand alone to do it, as with the boy and man in this book. My personal life has its unusual traits for my profession in that I have been married three times. That is not hidden here. A trail of sadness has followed me as well as a trail of joy. Read on to follow the unusual aspects of my story, ultimately as a Bishop of the Church. I pay tribute to those leaders of the Church who gave me permission, via compassion, to emerge with someone at my side who encouraged me to stay fully alive as a person of faith. That is a great gift of love and forgiveness. This story is set in very diverse backgrounds and cultures. The spirituality herein depends on the still small voice of God answering our speech when it is projected into the mystery of God. That is a clear test of faith in the Numinous, the Divine Presence.
