Star Maker The Story Of D W Griffith:

Star Maker Homer Croy,2012-03-01 Star Maker; the Story of D.W. Griffith. Introd. by Mary Pickford Homer Croy,1959 D.W. Griffith: Master of Cinema Ira H. Gallen,2015-12-15 Exhaustively researched and accessibly written D W Griffith Master of Cinema is a remarkably comprehensive biography of the legendary director and his days creating his craft at the American Biograph Company between 1908 through 1913 Meticulously detailed utilizing a wealth of archival documents and photographs the book effectively details Griffith s place as a film pioneer Even a casual film fan can see the lines being drawn from the techniques Griffith developed to modern cinematic experience Ira Gallen s exploration of Griffith s family and his early life sets the stage for his career and give great context for who he would become His intricate details about early stage and film paint such a vivid and evocative picture of the time that you will be truly drawn into another world while reading it Inventing the Dream Kevin Starr,1986-12-04 This second volume of Starr s cultural history of the Golden State focuses on the turn of the century years and the emergence of Southern California as a regional culture in its own right D.W. Griffith Richard Schickel,1996-01-01 He transformed a nickelodeon novelty into a new art form and a powerful glamorous American industry He codified the rules and techniques of screen story telling and pioneered the conventions that brought films to life from surging spectacle to soul baring close ups A poor farm boy from the South Griffith rose to fame with The Birth of a Nation a cinematic masterpiece stained by the racism that infected his heritage Though he went on to direct some of the most legendary films of the silent era Griffith was doomed by his over reaching drives and he died an embittered man shunned by the community he had largely created His story is told here with unsparing truth and compelling narrative sweep D. W. Griffith Anthony Slide,2012-07-02 D W Griffith 1875 1948 is one of the most influential figures in the history of the motion picture As director of The Birth of a Nation he is also one of the most controversial He raised the cinema to a new level of art entertainment and innovation and at the same time he illustrated for the first time its potential to influence an audience and propagandize a cause Collected together here are virtually all of the interviews given by D W Griffith from the first in 1914 to the last in 1948 Some of the interviews concentrate on specific films including The Birth of a Nation Intolerance and most substantially Hearts of the World while others provide the director with an opportunity to expound on topics of personal interest including the importance of proper exhibition of his and other s films and his search for truth and beauty on screen The interviews are taken from many sources including leading newspapers trade papers and fan magazines They are often marked by humor and by a desire to please the interviewer and thus the reader Griffith may not have been particularly enthusiastic about giving interviews but he seems always determined to put on a good show Ultimately D W Griffith Interviews provides the reader with a unique insight into the mind and filmmaking techniques of a director whose work and philosophy is as relevant today as it was when he was at the height of his fame in the 1910s and 1920s The Films of D. W. Griffith Edward Wagenknecht,Anthony Slide,1975 100 People Who Changed

20th-Century America Mary Cross, 2013-01-07 To what extent does a person's own success result in social transformation? This book offers 100 answers providing thought-provoking examples of how American culture was shaped within a crucial time period by individuals whose lives and ideas were major agents of change. 100 People Who Changed 20th Century America provides a two-volume encyclopedia of the individuals whose contributions to society made the 20th century what it was. Comprising contributions from 20 academics and experts in their field, the thought-provoking essays examine the men and women who have shaped the modern American cultural experience: change agents who defined their time period as a result of their talent, imagination, and enterprise. Organized chronologically by the subjects' birthdates, the essays are written to be accessible to the general reader yet provide in-depth information for scholars, ensuring that the work will appeal to many audiences. The 20th Century Go-N Frank N. Magill, 2014-03-05 Each volume of the Dictionary of World Biography contains 250 entries on the lives of the individuals who shaped their times and left their mark on world history. This is not a who's who. Instead, each entry provides an in-depth essay on the life and career of the individual concerned. Essays commence with a quick reference section that provides basic facts on the individual's life and achievements. The extended biography places the life and works of the individual within an historical context, and the summary at the end of each essay provides a synopsis of the individual's place in history. All entries conclude with a fully annotated bibliography. William Beaudine Wendy L. Marshall, 2005 In his unsurpassed employment of 60 years in the business, Beaudine racked up more than 500 films and in excess of 350 television programs. Until his death at age 78, he was the oldest active director in the business. This detailed biography chronicles Beaudine's swift rise to the top. The Movies in the Age of Innocence, 3d ed. Edward Wagenknecht, 2014-10-01 Upon its original publication in 1962, Edward Wagenknecht's The Movies in the Age of Innocence immediately earned recognition as a classic in the history of early cinema. A tribute to American silent film from the first-person perspective of one who grew up with the medium, the volume surveys the pre-feature and feature era of silent films from a distinctly literary standpoint and considers the careers of directors like D.W. Griffith and Erich von Stroheim and actors such as Charlie Chaplin, Mary Pickford, and Lillian Gish. With nearly 90 illustrations from early films, fan magazines, and brochures, indices of film titles and names, and an appendix containing Wagenknecht's otherwise unavailable 1927 pamphlet Lillian Gish: An Interpretation, this third edition retains its significance today. The 1931-1940: American Film Institute Catalog of Motion Pictures Produced in the United States American Film Institute, 1993 The entire field of film historians awaits the AFI volumes with eagerness. Eileen Bowser, Museum of Modern Art Film Department, comments on previous volumes: "The source of last resort for finding socially valuable films that received such scant attention that they seem lost until discovered in the AFI Catalog." Thomas Cripps, Endlessly absorbing as an excursion into cultural history and national memory. Arthur Schlesinger Jr. Rituals of Race Alessandra Lorini, 1999 Washington could attempt to effect social change. The First Female Stars David W. Menefee, 2004-03-30 The First Female Stars: Women of the Silent Era rediscovers the fascinating lives and pioneering achievements of 15 women who dared to venture into early motion pictures an industry dominated by men and who not only succeeded but became the focal points of the industry Each star earned a position at the height of her profession and though many are largely forgotten today made a lasting and significant contribution to early cinema In this entertaining and informative volume author David Menefee reveals these women and their signature roles drawing on many original sources to show us how such actresses as Theda Bara Sarah Bernhardt Dorothy Gish and Norma Talmadge were received in their time and the many ways in which their influence remains important today Each profile contains a biographical treatment an analysis of key films from her career a discussion of the actress's influence on the medium and selected filmography Each also includes two photographs most often one of the actress herself and a still from a film
