The Loneliness Of The Long Distance Teacher:

The Loneliness of the Long Distance Teacher Edward A. Joseph, 2001-08-10 Transforming Teaching and Learning Colin Weatherley, Bruce F. Bonney, John Kerr, 2003-03-01 This powerful book describes in theoretical and practical detail how the widely acclaimed Critical Skills Programme addresses all the current priority issues of UK education Classroom Management Philip Waterhouse, Chris Dickinson, 2001-05-01 It contains practical advice and checklists for the management of resources and staff teaching and learning activities Best Behaviour Peter Relf, Rod Hirst, 1998-03-01 A clear and well organised starting point for improving behaviour and motivation and creating the right emotional conditions for learning This book identifies action points for staff and whole school management issues and is an invaluable INSET resource for any school aiming to improve behaviour Literacy and Learning in the Content Areas Sharon Kane, 2017-07-05 The 3rd Edition of Literacy Learning in the Content Areas helps readers build the knowledge motivation tools and confidence they need as they integrate literacy into their middle and high school content area classrooms Its unique approach to teaching content area literacy actively engages preservice and practicing teachers in reading and writing and the very activities that they will use to teach literacy to their own students in middle and high school classrooms Rather than passively learning about strategies for incorporating content area literacy activities readers get hands on experience in such techniques as mapping webbing anticipation guides booktalks class websites and journal writing and reflection Readers also learn how to integrate children s and young adult literature primary sources biographies essays poetry and online content communities and websites into their classrooms Each chapter offers concrete teaching examples and practical suggestions to help make literacy relevant to students content area learning Author Sharon Kane demonstrates how relevant reading writing speaking listening and visual learning activities can improve learning in content area subjects and at the same time help readers meet national content knowledge standards and benchmarks Teacher Education in the 21st Century Antje-Marianne Kolde, Ruth Frehner, Brigitte Kürsteiner, Lukas Bleichenbacher, 2016-08-17 How can teacher education prepare future teachers for their work in increasingly diverse classrooms How does the concept of plurilingualism inform language educational policy in different countries What are the current opportunities and challenges in the domain of internationalisation in teacher education The contributions to this volume address these questions from different theoretical perspectives and with a strong emphasis on the actual practices in various classrooms At a time when simplistic essentialist biased and discriminatory ideologies and practices see a rebirth in public discourse and represent a risk to education the contributors here take stock and describe some worthwhile alternatives The first set of chapters addresses the integration of ethnic religious and gender diversity in teacher education colleges In the second part the notion of plurilingualism in different educational contexts is explored from a critical sociolinguistic point of view The chapters in the third part present evidence from innovative international academic exchange programs and how they contribute to socio spatial learning amongst others The common denominator in this volume is the notion of convergence the coexistence of people and practices in diverse contexts Schools as Dangerous Places Tom A. O'Donoghue, 2007 The lack of serious study on how dangerous schools as institutions can be is a little surprising given that the matter was put squarely on the research agenda in persuasive fashion by Waller back in 1932 The lack of response to the possibilities opened up means that a vibrant research agenda still awaits construction This book will stimulate debate on the matter from the historical perspective It consists of fifteen chapters drawing on historical case studies from the United States Canada England Ireland Scotland and Australia written by international scholars in the field These chapters are helpfully grouped into three sections The first section focuses on certain dangers to which pupils were exposed in the past and on certain dangerous practices which they promoted The second section examines dangers to which teachers were exposed in the past along with dangerous practices which they themselves promoted In the final and third section the chapters explore the dangers to which teachers and students were exposed in the past at the university level Throughout the book the emphases range from dangers emanating from the institutions themselves and the patterns of relationships that developed in them to what occurred due to particular ideologies and practices connected with sport sex religion and science Schools as Dangerous Places delivers a historical perspective of schools in a manner that is most unusual This unique study helps us examine education through a very different lens

Self-studies in Rural Teacher Education Ann K. Schulte, Bernadette Walker-Gibbs, 2015-08-17 The purpose of this book is to highlight the work of teacher educators in the field of rural education In this book education faculty who work in teacher education study the ways in which one's identity impacts one's teaching and the partnerships with rural schools Although the field of research on teacher preparation has an abundance of studies on preparing students for the challenges of urban settings there is much less emphasis on rural education despite the prevalence of rural schools This book problematises notions of rural or rurality which is often considered via a deficit or a generalised model where a stereotype of one kind of rural is outlined Developing more multi faceted understandings of rurality is a key to attracting and retaining teachers who understand the complexities and opportunities of living and working in rural spaces The Enquiring
