Star Fall:

Starfall Lars Kleberg, 1997 An imaginative tour de force Starfall consists of three dramatic dialogues among real people in imagined settings Anchoring each of the dialogues is the great Russian film director and theoretician Sergei Eisenstein whose artistic theories in all their formations and reformations run throughout the book illustrating the influences that affected the Soviet art world in the period between the two world wars In The Aquarians Eisenstein meets Bertolt Brecht in the first class compartment of a train heading from Berlin to Moscow in 1932 They spend the night discussing and arguing about everything from the use of Renaissance magic in art to some kind of Wagnerian Gesamtkunstwerk in which everything in art is connected The Sorcerer s Apprentices takes place at a meeting held in Moscow on April 14 1935 on the occasion of performances given during a visit by a noted Chinese actor Mei Lan Fang and his troupe the prime representatives of early twentieth century classical Chinese theater Conceived as a series of speeches by noted members of the Soviet theater and film circles Eisenstein again The Sorcerer s Apprentices contrasts the Russian theater with that of the Chinese the German antifascist emigre theater of Brecht and Erwin Piscator and even the avant garde British drama as represented by Gordon Craig Ash Wednesday has Eisenstein engaged in a dialogue with Mikhail Bakhtin They speak about German culture in particular Eisenstein s desire to stage Wagner s The Valkyrie which Bakhtin appears to object to on both political and artistic grounds the influence of astrology in Soviet literary circles and jazz music as a symbol of pure art Filled with references familiar and arcane biographical and political steeped in literary history from the mid nineteenth century to the mid twentieth and peppered with references to the writings of such dissimilar thinkers as Giordano Bruno Rabelais Goethe and Antonin Artaud Starfall will appeal to all readers interested in the developments of twentieth century dramatic art

Starfall Yolanda Faye Daniel, 2022-06-26 Come away with the perpetual wanderer on a journey through ice In defiance of her mother Tierahna Tierney if you want to stay in her good graces runs away from the Keep For the first time she strikes out on a journey for self fulfillment alone Or else she will become a victim to her mother s machinations Traditions restrictions and oh yeah a mother stronger than gale force winds have held her back all her life making her greener and pricklier than thistledown A scheme to open the borders of their isolated land is the catalyst to her meeting an exile One who is an anathema to every rule she s been taught and sets her on a course no one foresees The pampered princess of the land has not had enough experience to know how to handle a foreigner who has already snaked across their border He comes crashing into her life and deceives her in everything he does On a harrowing trip across the lands she picks up hangers on and endures conflicts and other lands with agendas that can kill them which forces her to rely on him against her better judgment all while in a body advancing with powers that she has no control over her family s secrets unraveling and everything she s ever known changing Tierney latches on to the foreigner as the fate of her land is thrown into her hands
