Star Quality:

Star Studies Martin Shingler, 2019-07-25 Martin Shingler presents the mother volume for Palgrave's Film Stars series in three easily navigable chapters in which he provides a summative and instructive account of star studies for today's film student. Via a critical evaluation of the work of leading film scholars he provides a convincing argument for how this important area of film studies has evolved. Building on this he offers some new directions for star scholarship and ends by offering the film student a useful set of themes and issues for his or her own investigation. Star Studies is the perfect companion for the student who wishes to foster further research on stardom across a wide range of contexts from national cinemas to mainstream and marginal cinemas to different historical periods and beyond. Coming Attractions Lisa Kernan, 2009-07-21 Movie trailers those previews of coming attractions before the start of a feature film are routinely praised and reviled by moviegoers and film critics alike. They give away too much of the movie. They're better than the films. They only show the spectacular parts. They lie. They're the best part of going to the movies. But whether you love them or hate them, trailers always serve their purpose of offering free samples of a film to influence moviegoing decision making. Indeed, with their inclusion on videotapes, DVDs, and on the Internet, trailers are more widely seen and influential now than at any time in their history. Starting from the premise that movie trailers can be considered a film genre, this pioneering book explores the genre's conventions and offers a primer for reading the rhetoric of movie trailers. Lisa Kernan identifies three principal rhetorical strategies that structure trailers' appeals to audience interest in film genres, stories, and/or stars. She also analyzes the trailers for twenty-seven popular Hollywood films from the classical, transitional, and contemporary eras, exploring what the rhetorical appeals within these trailers reveal about Hollywood's changing conceptions of the moviegoing audience. Kernan argues that movie trailers constitute a long-standing hybrid of advertising and cinema and as such are precursors to today's heavily commercialized cultural forms in which art and marketing become increasingly indistinguishable.
