bow and the eyes would smile back But he never knew who owned the eyes or even that he was performing one of the little courtesies of life All he knew was that Helen May was going the way her mother had gone and that the only way to prevent her going that way was to take her to New Mexico or Colorado or Arizona and she was worth saving even the doctor had been struck with her worth and a bungalow out against the hills wouldn't do at all not even with a sleeping porch and the open air ride back and forth every day Radical change she must have Arizona or New Mexico or the moon which seemed not much more remote or inaccessible When his street was called he edged out to the steps and climbed down wondering how the doctor expected a man with Peter's salary to act upon his advice You do that said the doctor and left Peter to discover if he could how it was to be done without money in other words had blandly required Peter to perform a modern miracle Helen May was listlessly setting the table when he arrived He went up to her for the customary little peck on the cheek which passes for a kiss among relatives and Helen May waved him off with a half smile that was unlike her customary cheerfulness

Starr, of the Desert B M Bower,2020-06-02 We are always exclaiming over the strange way in which events link themselves together in chains and when the chains bind us to a certain condition or environment we are in the habit of blandly declaring ourselves victims of the force of circumstances By that rule Peter found himself being swept into a certain channel of thought about which events began at once to link themselves into a chain which drew him perforce into a certain path that he must follow Or it may have been his peculiar single mindedness that forced him to follow the path however that may be circumstances made it easy If Helen May worried about her cough and her failing energy she did not mention the fact again but that was Helen May's way and Peter was not comforted by her apparent dismissal of the subject So far as he could see she was a great deal more inclined to worry over Vic who refused to stay in school when he could now and then earn a dollar or two acting in mob scenes for some photoplay company out in Hollywood He did not spend the money wisely Helen May declared that he was better off with empty pockets Ordinarily Peter would have taken Vic's rebellion seriously enough to put a stop to it He did half promise Helen May that he would notify all the directors he could get hold of not to employ Vic in any capacity even to chase him off the studio grounds as Helen May put it But he did not because chance threw him a bit of solid material on which to rebuild his air castle for Helen May Starr, of the Desert Annotated B.
