Start 1904 1930 Twentieth Century Journey:

20th Century Journey: The start, 1904-1930 William Lawrence Shirer, 1976 In this second volume of his memoirs the author a newspaper journalist and overseas radio correspondent provides an eyewitness and intensely personal vision of the crucible out of which the Nazi monster appeared Start, 1904-1930 William L. Shirer, 1992-06-01 The author of The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich chronicles his life from the years 1904 to 1930 describing the people and places he encountered

William L. Shirer: Twentieth Century Journey William L. Shirer, 2020-10-16 Now in one volume the three part autobiography from the National Book Award winning author of The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich The former CBS foreign correspondent and historian provides an invaluable look back at his life and the events that forged the twentieth century The Start 1904 1930 In the first of a three volume series Shirer tells the story of his early life growing up in Cedar Rapids and later serving as a new reporter in Paris The Nightmare Years 1930 1940 In the second of a three volume series Shirer chronicles his time in Europe as Hitler dominated Germany and began one of the most dangerous conflicts in world history A Native s Return 1945 1988 The most personal of the three volumes this edition offers an honest look at the many personal and professional setbacks Shirer experienced after World War II ended and delivers a fascinating take on the aftermath of the war Series praise Mr Shirer stirs the ashes of memory in a personal way that results in both a strong view of world events and of the need for outspoken journalism Had Mr Shirer been merely a bland objective reporter without passion while covering Hitler s Third Reich this book and his other histories could never have been written The New York Times Included in Shirer s well wrought narrative are such little known events as the trials of American broadcasters who propagandized for the Third Reich during WWII as well as such more familiar matters as the McCarthyism of the 1950s The author s comments are refreshingly unfettered by self consciousness A fine fitting conclusion to an important work of autobiography Kirkus Reviews

Tripp Evans, 2010-10-05 He claimed to be the plainest kind of fellow you can find There isn t a single thing I ve done or experienced said Grant Wood that s been even the least bit exciting Wood was one of America s most famous regionalist painters to love his work was the equivalent of loving America itself In his time he was an almost mythical figure recognized most supremely for his hard boiled farm scene American Gothic a painting that has come to reflect the essence of America s traditional values a simple decent homespun tribute to our lost agrarian age In this major new biography of America s most acclaimed and misunderstood regionalist painter Grant Wood is revealed to have been anything but plain or simple R Tripp Evans reveals the true complexity of the man and the image Wood so carefully constructed of himself Grant Wood called himself a farmer painter but farming held little interest for him He appeared to be a self taught painter with his scenes of farmlands farm workers and folklore but he was classically trained a sophisticated artist who had studied the Old Masters and Flemish art as well as impressionism He lived a bohemian life and painted in Paris and Munich in the 1920s fleeing what H L Mencken referred to as the booboisie of small town America We see Wood as an artist haunted and inspired by the images of childhood by the complex relationship with his father stern pious the manliest of men with his sister and his beloved mother Wood shared his studio and sleeping quarters with his mother until her death at seventy seven he was forty four We see Wood s homosexuality and how his studied masculinity was a ruse that shaped his work Here is Wood s life and work explored more deeply and insightfully than ever before Drawing on letters the artist s unfinished autobiography his sister s writings and many never before seen documents Evans s book is a dimensional portrait of a deeply complicated artist who became a National Symbol It is as well a portrait of the American art scene at a time when America s Calvinistic spirit and provincialism saw Europe as decadent and artists were divided between red blooded patriotic men and hothouse aesthetes Thomas Hart Benton said of Grant Wood When this new America looks back for landmarks to help gauge its forward footsteps it will find a monument standing up in the midst of the wreckage This monument will be made out of Grant Wood s works 20th Century Journey: A native's return, 1945-1988 William Lawrence Shirer,1976

Writing Walter J. Boyne, 2007-04-01 Today's Best Military Writing is the first ever collection of the finest articles on the military published in recent years. Esteemed military historian and bestselling author Walter J. Boyne has gathered twenty-one writers, both military and civilian, and their published articles and essays on all aspects of the various branches of the armed forces and on the military history of the United States. From searching analyses of wars spanning two centuries to examinations of how our country's modern armed forces are coping with new threats that are more dangerous than any they've faced before, these articles represent the best of the best: incisive, thoughtful, and probing opinions and information often written by the people who have lived and breathed their topics. Article subjects in this volume include: A chillingly logical hypothesis that could be the next step in terrorism: mating cruise missiles with biological warfare. A call to assign coastal U.S. defense to the branch of the armed forces that is most equipped to deal with it: the Coast Guard. The history and development of the F-15 Eagle, one of the most famous jet fighters in the world. Little-known facts about the use and deployment of artillery pieces during the Indian Wars of 1860-1890. The role of U.S. Army chaplains tending to German war criminals during the Nuremberg Trials. At the Publisher's request, this title is being sold without Digital Rights Management Software (DRM) applied. Writing the Lost Generation Craig Monk, 2010-11

Members of the Lost Generation, American writers and artists who lived in Paris during the 1920s, continue to occupy an important place in our literary history. Rebellious against increased commercialism and the ebb of cosmopolitan society in early twentieth-century America, they rejected the culture of what Ernest Hemingway called a place of broad lawns and narrow minds. Much of what we know about these iconic literary figures comes from their own published letters and essays, revealing how adroitly they developed their own reputations by controlling the reception of their work. Surprisingly, the literary world has paid less attention to their autobiographies. In Writing the Lost Generation, Craig Monk unlocks a series of neglected texts while reinvigorating our reading of more familiar ones. Well-known autobiographies by Malcolm Cowley, Ernest Hemingway, and Gertrude Stein are joined here by works from a variety of lesser-known but still important expatriate American writers, including Sylvia Beach, Alfred Kreymborg, Samuel Putnam, and Harold Stearns. By bringing together the self-reflective works of the Lost Generation and probing the ways the writers portrayed themselves, Monk provides an exciting and comprehensive overview of modernist expatriates from the United States. Henry R. Luce and the Rise of the American News Media James L. Baughman, 2001 A solid account of Luce's life and legacy. A concise, readable volume. Journalism Quarterly
