Moving into Adolescence Roberta G. Simmons, 2017-07-05 From the sociological point of view adolescence traditionally has been described as a period of physical maturity and social immaturity Adolescents reach physical adulthood before they are capable of functioning well in adult social roles The disjunction between physical capabilities and socially allowed independence and power and the concurrent status ambiguities are viewed as stressful for the adolescent in modern Western society It has been assumed that the need to disengage from parents during these years will result in high levels of rebellion and parent child conflict Moving into Adolescence follows students as they make a major life course transition from childhood into early adolescence Substantial controversy has been generated within the behavioral sciences concerning the difficulty of adolescence as a transitional period On the one hand there are those who characterize the period as an exceptionally and necessarily stressful time in the life course On the other hand many investigators treat this view of adolescence as their straw man To them the supposed tumult of adolescence is just that supposed and mythical The purpose of this book is to study the transition from childhood into early and middle adolescence in order to investigate change along a wide variety of psychosocial dimensions with a particular focus on the self image The authors investigate the impact of timing of pubertal change and also the movement from an intimate elementary school context into a large scale secondary school environment The first major movement into a large scale organizational context may cause difficulty for the child as may the dramatic changes of puberty In addition gender differences and changes in gender differences are studied Both short and long term consequences of transition are examined focusing on is the role of pubertal change and school transition Spectrum Hands-On Math , Grade K Spectrum,Carson Dellosa

Boyer,2014-04-09 This is my story of my memories thoughts and interpretations that I made from my experiences starting at the beginning of my age of awareness I grew up on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation in South Dakota where I faced living in two different cultures to the time I joined the U S Army My story is not about the accumulation of wealth or being famous or being some savior It is about a simple dream My story starts from the time I remember reaching the age of awareness to the present I do not claim to be a writer so my story may not be a well planned or polished literary work that meets all the high standards of writing The story is about being on a path out of poverty I was raised by my grandparents from a baby to the time I joined the U S Army For some reason my mother left me to be raised by her parents They were poor people seasonal laborers who lived with a strong belief in their God We lived in a two room shack with tarpaper siding that had not inside toilet running water or electricity That was our home They were always short of money to buy necessities and usually faced hunger However they were a good couple and had a faith to believe in God However I was fortunate to get a good education and had the opportunity to join the army for a career I experienced new horizons that exposed me to new learning s that tempered my attitude I wish to share my experiences and thoughts from traveling along a path chosen with especially the Lakota youth and the non Lakota youth what have written in this book Pilamaya Thank you Teaching Informational Text in K-3 Classrooms Mariam Jean Dreher, Sharon Bengé Kletzien, 2015-09-18 Revised edition of Informational text in K 3 classrooms 2004 The Kindergarten and First Grade ,1916 Magazine of practical help and suggestion for teachers of kindergarten and first primary grade Advancing Knowledge and Building Capacity for Early Childhood Research Sharon Ryan, M. Elizabeth Graue, Vivian L. Gadsden, Felice J. Levine, 2021-01-20 This volume employs a multidisciplinary approach to research on a high profile topic very much on the agenda of state and national policy leaders early childhood development and education It aims to reflect how scholarly perspectives shape the contours of knowledge generation and to illuminate the gaps that prevent productive interchange among scholars who value equity in the opportunities available to young children their families and teachers caregivers The editors and authors identify and prioritize critical research areas assess the state of the field in terms of promising research designs and methodologies and identify capacity building needs and potential cross group collaborations The Kindergarten-primary Magazine Bertha Johnston, E. Self-directed Learning Oriented Assessments in the Asia-Pacific Magdalena Mo Ching Mok, 2012-10-09 The Asia Pacific region needs to maximize the benefits of education to enable it to compete in an economic future dominated by innovation in which assessing student progress must be an empowering rather than delimiting factor This detailed exposition of the theoretical basis and application tools of self directed learning oriented assessment SLOA reflects the very latest research championed by the Assessment Research Centre at The Hong Kong Institute of Education Featuring a range of relevant case studies it explores the varied theoretical issues related to SLOA and offers an integrated view of the system fully in line with the constructivist paradigm of learning which advocates formative rather than summative assessment Many of the initiatives outlined here are firsts in the region SLOA is already being applied in many schools with links to the ARC It is an approach to assessment that acknowledges the centrality of self directed learning and which positions assessment as a tool to enable and enhance self directed learning It draws on several theories of learning and assessment including the constructivist notion that learning is best achieved when students take ownership of their educational process setting their own goals and monitoring their own progress towards those goals SLOA has been the research and service approach of the ARC since 2005 In the intervening years the centre has developed a number of tools to facilitate SLOA learning and assessment including vertical ability scales teacher friendly computer software and packages for self directed learning

Immersion Education in the Early Years Tina Hickey, Anne-Marie de Mejía, 2017-10-02 Worldwide more parents are opting for immersion pre schooling for their children in order to benefit from its linguistic educational and cultural benefits This immersion can be either bilingual or monolingual aimed at early second language learning or at language maintenance offering minority language children mother tongue support and enrichment This book examines some of the key issues and policy concerns relating to immersion education in the early years The term itself can be difficult in some political contexts as can the differing outcomes noted by studies comparing monolingual programmes and bilingual programmes for minority language children The importance of training in immersion methodology for educators is discussed as is the need to adapt preschool pedagogical practices to the immersion context in order to provide optimal input for young language learners One of the most pressing discussions surrounds differentiated provision ensuring that the varying needs of children with language impairment typical second language learners and mother tongue speakers with significant socioeconomic or linguistic disadvantages are all met Overall the book explores the challenges currently facing the sector particularly with regard to training and professional development for practitioners and the provision of appropriate materials in less widely used languages Given the documented benefit of high quality immersion pre schooling this book fulfils an urgent need to increase the recognition of the sector This book was published as a special issue of International Journal of Bilingual Education and Bilingualism
