

The illustration depicts a red steam locomotive with a friendly face, featuring large eyes and a smiling mouth. The engine is shown in profile, moving from left to right. It has a tall smokestack with a small flame at the top and a large flywheel. The background is a dark blue night sky filled with numerous white, streaky fireworks exploding in various patterns. The ground is dark with some white specks, suggesting a path or tracks. The overall style is classic children's book illustration with bold colors and dynamic action.
