The Lost Traveller:

The Lost Traveller Sheila Connolly, 2019-01-08 Danger comes to Cork in the seventh County Cork mystery from New York Times bestselling author Sheila Connolly and it's up to Maura Donovan to find a way to protect all she's worked for. Pub owner Maura Donovan is settling into a charmed life in Ireland until a mutilated body on her property ends her lucky streak. Boston expat Maura Donovan came to Ireland to honor her grandmother's last wish but she never expected to stay in provincial County Cork much less to inherit a house and a pub. Sullivan's in the small village of Leap. After a year-long struggle to stay in the black Sullivan's is finally thriving and Maura has even brought back traditional Irish music to the pub. With a crop of new friends and a budding relationship with handsome Mick Nolan Maura's life seems rosier than ever but even in Ireland you can't always trust your luck. It begins with Maura's discovery of a body in the ravine behind the pub. And then the Irish gardai reveal that the victim's face has been battered beyond recognition. Who is the faceless victim? Who wanted him dead? And why was his body dumped in the backyard of Sullivan's Pub? Even after the dead man is finally given a name nobody admits to knowing him. In the tight-knit world of Leap no one is talking and now it's up to Maura to uncover the dark secrets that lurk beneath the seemingly quiet town. Laced with warm Irish charm, a delightful small-town setting and a colorful cast of characters, New York Times bestselling author Sheila Connolly's seventh County Cork mystery The Lost Traveller conspires to delight. The Lost Traveller Antonia White, 1977 Lost Traveller Barber John (author), 1901

The Lost Traveler Sanora Babb, 2013-11-15 An autobiographical novel long out of print continues Sanora Babb's story as begun in her memoir An Owl on Every Post. Set in Kansas in the early 1930s, it is a rich character study of a classic American individualist and his family. The father, a gambler, is a complex and magnetic man portrayed from the perspective of his brave and proud daughter Robin. Against the dark background of his declining fortunes stand Robin's high spirits and intelligence as she experiences the turbulent emotions of first sexual love and rebels against the circumstances of the gambler's rambling life. The novel's depiction of the Great Depression era and its lost families is one that will haunt readers long after the final page. The author's first book manuscript was her Dust Bowl novel Whose Names Are Unknown, which Random House didn't publish because The Grapes of Wrath came out first. Thus The Lost Traveler, published in 1958, was her first published and well-received novel. www.sanorababb.com There is a good deal of laughter in The Lost Traveler. There is a good deal of tragedy in it too, for Miss Babb has given us a living and unflinchingly honest picture of a wandering gambler and his family. This is her first novel and she shows herself to be a searching storyteller. A living and unflinchingly honest picture. New York Times Strongly recommended. A fascinating story of a professional nomadic gambler who starts by being a hero in the eyes of his wife and daughters and ends in lonely disgrace, occasionally embarrassing, frequently funny, and as an account of the development of family relationships good by any standards. London Sunday Times a remarkable job of making the hero sympathetic and understandable in spite of his occupation and occasional brutality. The author has made the whole family come alive particularly Robin the only member of the family with fortitude enough to stand up to her father Los Angeles Mirror News spare and accurate in its depiction of the stark Kansas towns of the 1930s Mary Clearman Blew author of All But the Waltz and editor with Kim Barnes of Circle of Women An Anthology of Contemporary Western Women Writers A brilliant first novel Los Angeles Times Lost Traveller Antonia White,1998-12 The Lost Traveller Sanora Babb,1958
