The Luck Of The Draw:

The Luck of the Draw Peter Stone, 2011-04-15 From the earliest times people have used lotteries to make decisions by drawing straws tossing coins picking names out of hats and so on We use lotteries to place citizens on juries draft men into armies assign students to schools and even on very rare occasions select lifeboat survivors to be eaten Lotteries make a great deal of sense in all of these cases and yet there is something absurd about them Largely this is because lottery based decisions are not based upon reasons In fact lotteries actively prevent reason from playing a role in decision making at all Over the years people have devoted considerable effort to solving this paradox and thinking about the legitimacy of lotteries as a whole However these scholars have mainly focused on lotteries on a case by case basis not as a part of a comprehensive political theory of lotteries In The Luck of the Draw Peter Stone surveys the variety of arguments proffered for and against lotteries and argues that they only have one true effect relevant to decision making the sanitizing effect of preventing decisions from being made on the basis of reasons While this rationale might sound strange to us Stone contends that in many instances it is vital that decisions be made without the use of reasons By developing innovative principles for the use of lottery based decision making Stone lays a foundation for understanding when it is and when it is not appropriate to draw lots when making political decisions both large and small

The Luck of the Draw C. Kenneth Ruiz, 2005 The author recalls his wartime experiences first aboard the cruiser USS Vincennes which was attacked and sunk by a surprise Japanese attack and later on the submarine USS Pollack

Luck of the Draw Addison Albright, 2023-07-22 Drawing the short straw is bad luck isn't it A treaty between three warring realms calls for a mass wedding ceremony amongst their eligible princes and princesses to solidify the peace But since the number of males and females differ one of the marriages must be between two of the princes Prince Obren of Canna draws the short straw sealing his fate and Prince Dukan of Butari volunteers to be the other half of the nontraditional marriage The two princes fought nobly in the years long war and are willing to do whatever it takes to finalize the treaty ending the conflict that took the lives of their loved ones Obren's brother and Dukan's lover Each harbors a dark secret and King Rogan of Canna has long nurtured a deep hatred of Obren blaming him for bringing home the deadly virus responsible for the untimely death of his much adored wife Obren and Dukan can't deny their chemistry but can they overcome the ugly truths complicating their path to a friendly respectful and dare they hope loving relationship Will King Rogan stop at nothing to dash Obren's chance at happiness or does that short straw represent good luck after all
