Studying the British Crime Film Paul Elliott, 2014-10-01 Ever since its inception British cinema has been obsessed with crime and the criminal One of the first narrative films to be produced in Britain the Hepworth s 1905 short Rescued by Rover was a fast paced quick edited tale of abduction and kidnap and the first British sound film Alfred Hitchcock s Blackmail 1930 centered on murder and criminal guilt For a genre seemingly so important to the British cinematic character there is little direct theoretical or historical work focused on it The Britain of British cinema is often written about in terms of national history ethnic diversity or cultural tradition yet very rarely in terms of its criminal tendencies and dark underbelly This volume assumes that to know how British cinema truly works it is necessary to pull back the veneer of the costume piece the historical drama and the rom com and glimpse at what is underneath For every Brief Encounter 1945 there is a Brighton Rock 2010 for every Notting Hill 1999 there is a Long Good Friday 1980

Cinematic Terror Tony Shaw, 2014-11-20 Cinematic Terror takes a uniquely long view of filmmakers depiction of terrorism examining how cinema has been a site of intense conflict between paramilitaries state authorities and censors for well over a century In the process it takes us on a journey from the first Age of Terror that helped trigger World War One to the Global War on Terror that divides countries and families today Tony Shaw looks beyond Hollywood to pinpoint important trends in the ways that film industries across Europe North and South America Asia Africa and the Middle East have defined terrorism down the decades Drawing on a vast array of studio archives government documentation personal interviews and box office records Shaw examines the mechanics of cinematic terrorism and challenges assumptions about the links between political violence and propaganda
