Situatedness Or Why We Keep Saying Where We're Coming From:

Situatedness, Or, Why We Keep Saying Where We're Coming From David Simpson, 2002-01-09 A distinguished critic explores the term situatedness the self's position in time and place in the world and its treatment seen in legal theory social science literature and philosophy

Decentring and Diversifying Southeast Asian Studies Goh Beng Lan, 2011 This admirable book contains fascinating autobiographical accounts by some of Southeast Asia's most eminent scholars concerning their struggle to find their own voices in interpreting the region to which they belong The book should be indispensable to anyone interested in thinking about knowledge production and its politics in a postcolonial world In the views of these scholarly Southeast Asians we are made to see in very personal terms the link between the global crisis in the social sciences and the need to find remedies for it that are neither Eurocentric nor parochially anti-Western Professor Alexander Woodside Professor of Chinese and Southeast Asian History University of British Columbia Vancouver Canada This book marks the shift of the centre of Southeast Asian Studies from the West to Southeast Asia The insights provided by the authors are not simply explanations of colonial and postcolonial experiences of major Southeast Asian scholars Rather the book provides a unique set of intellectual genealogies that show that distinctions between humanities and social sciences are less important than the development of distinctive local and regional traditions and practices of scholarship Goh Beng Lan's introduction frames the collection through her subtle deconstruction of international discourses on Southeast Asia This introduction then allows the reader to view the different generations of Southeast Asian scholars in their social political and academic contexts The end result is a combined view of the state of the art of Southeast Asian Studies a view that is greater than the sum of its national parts Professor Adrian Vickers Chair of Southeast Asian Studies University of Sydney and Director Australian Centre for Asian Art and Archaeology The collection represents a coming of age of scholars from Southeast Asia What we hear is not bluster that comes from a wounded pride or doctrinal certainties but a quiet confidence that acknowledges the multiple currents in which their scholarship has been formed and a willingness to engage the perspective of the other both within and without The reflexivity in this volume sets the stage for scholars from the region to develop perspectives and concepts to address the challenges of the new configuration of the Asia being ushered in by ASEAN Professor Prasenjit Duara Raffles Professor of Humanities and Director of Research Humanities and Social Sciences National University of Singapore

Being Made Strange Bradford Vivian, 2004-05-11 Offers a revised understanding of human subjectivity that avoids the extremes of both traditional humanism and cultural relativism Acknowledging the importance of the middle voice of rhetoric is a worthwhile endeavor For this Vivian's goals are to be applauded Rhetoric and Public Affairs something that concerns mainly words and intellectual history or science and law Dagmar Sch fer Annapurna Mamidipudi and Marius Buning propose technology as a central heuristic for studying the many implications of knowledge ownership Toward this end they focus on the notions of knowledge and ownership in courtrooms workshops policy and research practices while also shedding light on scholarship itself as a powerful tool for making explicit the politics inherent in knowledge practices and social order The book presents case studies showing how diverse knowledge economies are created and how inequalities arise from them Unlike scholars who have fragmented this discourse across the disciplines of anthropology sociology and history the editors highlight recent developments in the emerging field of the global history of knowledge as science as economy and as culture The case studies reveal how notions of knowing and owning emerge because they reciprocally produce and determine each other s limits and possibilities that is how we know inevitably affects how we can own what we know and how we own always impacts how and what we are able to know Contributors Dagmar Sch fer Annapurna Mamidipudi Cynthia Brokaw Marius Buning Viren Murthy Marjolijn Bol Amy E Slaton James Leach Myles W Jackson Lissant Bolton Vivek S Oak J rn Oeder Thinking in Public Benjamin Aldes Wurgaft,2009 Bibliographie de la philosophie International Institute of Philosophy,2004 Keats and Philosophy Shahidha K. Bari,2012 John Keats remains one of the most familiar and beloved of English poets but has received surprisingly little critical attention in recent years This study is a fresh contribution to Keats criticism and Romantic scholarship positioning Keats as a figure of philosophical interest who warrants renewed attention Exploring Keats s own Romantic accounts of feeling and thinking this study draws a connection between poetry and the phenomenological branches of modern philosophy The study takes Keats s poetic evocation of touching hands wandering feet beating hearts and breathing bodies as a descriptive elaboration of consciousness and a phenomenological account of experience The philosophical terms of analysis adopted here challenge the orthodoxies of Keats scholarship traditionally characterised by the careful historicisation of a limited canon The philosophical framework of analysis enhances the readings put forward while Keats s poems in turn serve to give fuller expression of those ideas themselves Using Keats as a particular case this book also demonstrates the ways in which theory and philosophy supplement literary scholarship Nineteenth-century Literature ,2004 The Nature of Homelands James Jerome Barilla,2004 JCT. ,1991* Social Theory and Practice ,2002 New Left Review ,1960 Differences ,2002
