Mordaunt Crook and Eileen Harris John Harris,      The Chinese Taste in Eighteenth-Century England David Porter,2010-11-11 Eighteenth century consumers in Britain living in an increasingly globalized world were infatuated with exotic Chinese and Chinese styled goods art and decorative objects However they were also often troubled by the alien aesthetic sensibility these goods embodied This ambivalence figures centrally in the period s experience of China and of contact with foreign countries and cultures more generally David Porter analyzes the processes by which Chinese aesthetic ideas were assimilated within English culture Through case studies of individual figures including William Hogarth and Horace Walpole and broader reflections on cross cultural interaction Porter s readings develop new interpretations of eighteenth century ideas of luxury consumption gender taste and aesthetic nationalism Illustrated with many examples of Chinese and Chinese inspired objects and art this is a major contribution to eighteenth century cultural history and to the history of contact and exchange between China and the West      The critical review, or annals of literature ,1773      Then and Now Joan Coutu,2015-07-01 In the mid eighteenth century English gentlemen filled their houses with copies and casts of classical statuary while the following generation preferred authentic antique originals By charting this changing preference within a broader study of material culture Joan Coutu examines the evolving articulation of the English gentleman Then and Now consists of four case studies of mid century collections Three were amassed by young aristocrats the Marquis of Rockingham the Duke of Richmond and the Earl of Huntingdon who consistent with their social standing were touted as natural political leaders Their collections evoke the concept of gentlemanly virtue through example offering archetypes to encourage men toward acts of public virtue As the aristocrats matured in the politically fractious realm of the 1760s such virtue could become politicized A fourth study focuses on Thomas Hollis who used his collection to proselytize his own unique political ideology Framed by studies of collecting practices earlier and later in the century Coutu also explores the fluid temporal relationship with the classical past as the century progressed firmly situating the discussion within the contemporaneous emerging field of aesthetics Broadening the focus beyond published texts to include aesthetic conversations among the artists and the aristocracy in Italy and England Then and Now shows how an aesthetic canon emerged embodied in the Apollo Belvedere the Venus de Medici and the like which shaped the Grand Manner of art      The Philosophy of Medicine: Or, Medical Extracts on the Nature of Health and Disease, Including the Laws of the Animal Economy, and the Doctrines of Pneumatic Medicine A Friend to Improvements,1799      The Oxford Dictionary of Architecture James Stevens Curl,Susan Wilson,2015-02-26 Containing over 6 000 entries from Aalto to Zwinger and written in a clear and concise style this authoritative dictionary covers architectural history in detail from ancient times to

"Turquerie and the Politics of Representation, 1728-1876" Nebahat Avcioglu, 2017-07-05 In this first full length study devoted explicitly to the examination of Ottoman Turkish inspired architecture in Western Europe during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Nebahat Avcioglu rethinks the question of cultural frontiers not as separations but as a rapport of heterogeneities Reclaiming turquerie as cross cultural art from the confines of the inconsequential exoticism it is often reduced to Avcioglu analyses hitherto neglected images designs and constructions and links Western interest in the Ottoman Empire to notions of self representation and national politics In investigating why and to what effect Europeans turned to the Turk for inspiration Avcioglu provides a far reaching cultural reinterpretation of art and architecture in this period Presented as a series of case studies focusing on three specific building types kiosks mosques and baths chosen on the basis that each represents the first full fledged manifestations of their respective genres to be constructed in Western Europe the study delves into the cultural politics of architectural forms and styles The author argues that the appropriation of those building types was neither accidental nor did it merely reflect European domination of another culture The process was essentially dialectical and contributed to transculturation in both the West and the East 'Turquerie' and the Politics of Representation, 1728-1876 Nebahat Avcioglu, 2011 Devoted explicitly to the examination of Ottoman Turkish inspired architecture in Western Europe during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries in this study Nebahat Avcioglu rethinks the question of cultural frontiers not as separations but as a rapport of heterogeneities Reclaiming turquerie as cross cultural art from the confines of the inconsequential exoticism it is often reduced to Avcioglu analyses hitherto neglected constructions and links them to notions of self representation and politics Julien-David Leroy and the Making of Architectural History Christopher Drew Armstrong, 2013-04-15 This book examines the career and publications of the French architect Julien David Leroy 1724 1803 and his impact on architectural theory and pedagogy Despite not leaving any built work Leroy is a major international figure of eighteenth century architectural theory and culture Considering the place that Leroy occupied in various intellectual circles of the Enlightenment and Revolutionary period this book examines the sources for his ideas about architectural history and theory and defines his impact on subsequent architectural thought This book will be of key interest to graduate students and scholars of Enlightenment era architectural history The Philosophy of Medicine Robert John Thornton, 1799 A catalogue of a curious collection of original pictures Lambe's (Londen), 1740

Capability Brown, Royal Gardener Jonathan Finch, Jan Woudstra, 2020-10-26 Lancelot Capability Brown was one of the most influential landscape designers of the eighteenth century at a time when Britain was changing radically from an agrarian to an industrial and colonial nation whilst Europe was periodically convulsed by war and revolution The extent and nature of his influence are however fiercely debated Brown worked at hundreds of important sites across England and his name became synonymous with the English Garden style which was copied across Northern Europe and entranced Catherine the Great who remodelled her landscapes in St Petersburg to reflect the new style He was famed in his time and recognised by the Crown but Brown's style was readily copied over his later life and particularly after his death Arguably this ubiquity led to the denigration of his achievements and even his character particularly by the agents of the Picturesque The lack of any personal primary material from Brown forcing scholars to rely on his landscapes contracts and bank accounts has hindered attempts to provide a rounded and credible account of the man and his works However by exploring his team of associates and his role as Royal Gardener new light can be thrown on the man his landscapes and his landscape legacy Bringing together a number of perspectives from across Northern Europe Capability Brown Royal Gardener explores the lasting international impact of Brown With Brown's position as Royal Gardener at its heart this book explores for the first time his business methods working methods and European influence It assesses how crucially Brown's work practices placed him within the world of nurserymen and landscape designers and how his business practices and long term relationships with draughtsmen and designers allowed him to manage a huge number of projects and a substantial financial turnover This in turn allowed him to work in a way that promoted and advanced his style of landscape Edited by Professor Jonathan Finch University of York and Dr Jan Woudstra University of Sheffield and with a varied range of engaging contributors drawn internationally from archaeology art history history and landscape architecture Capability Brown Royal Gardener weaves together strands from across a broad range of disciplinary interests It makes an important contribution to the scholarly discussion of Brown's work the work of his collaborators and legacy in the UK and across Northern Europe Relevant to students and academics at all levels this volume throws new light on Capability Brown and his impact on the business of place making in Northern Europe
