political and economic domination of the Soviet Union Since then a process of liberalization has been unleashed in the region to dismantle statist economic policies and replace them with free market policies This has involved programs of privatization and restructuring of state owned enterprises as well as the promotion of policies to enable a private sector to develop Small businesses are creating thousands of new jobs while large companies are retrenching and downsizing their workforce In some countries of the region this process is much further along than in others In each country however the small and medium enterprise SME sector has developed at a more rapid pace than has the privatization of the large public companies The privatization of small and medium sized state owned enterprises has been rather more successful With the economic transition there has been a flurry of new enterprises springing up throughout the region some registered as legal entities but many micro enterprises often remaining unregistered in the informal sector Micro enterprises are increasingly seen as an important element of this SME sector although they were traditionally treated separately as belonging to the informal sector and a detriment to economic growth

Handbook of Research on Entrepreneurship Policies in Central and Eastern Europe Friederike Welter, David Smallbone, 2011 This unique Handbook explores the role of government in the development of entrepreneurship in countries where twenty years ago private enterprise was illegal or barely tolerated The expert contributors reveal that government policy is one of the key influences on the external environment in which businesses develop particularly in countries where it has been necessary to redefine the role of the state in relation to business development They outline how government policy can also act as an enabling and or a constraining force with respect to entrepreneurship development particularly in relation to institutional change and the development of a market based economy This Handbook includes up to date information and analysis as to how entrepreneurship policies have evolved in the wider Europe focusing on the challenges that arise in designing and implementing entrepreneurship policy The Handbook of Research on Entrepreneurship Policies in Central and Eastern Europe excellently covers different facets of entrepreneurship policies in Central and Eastern Europe and will prove invaluable for academics students and researchers of entrepreneurship and small business as well as policy studies Policy makers will also find plenty of key insights and relevant information in this important resource

The Arab Spring Five Years Later Hafez Ghanem, 2015-12-29 The dilemma felt by Arab youth was captured in Tunisia by the selfimmolation in 2010 of Mohamed Bouazizi who was frustrated by restrictions on his small street vending business His death became the catalyst for revolts throughout the Middle East The frustration had been building for some time large segments of society were denied economic progress while the middle class was squeezed and governments had cut back on services and public employment Since the series of uprisings began the debate in Arab countries has focused almost exclusively on politics and questions of national identity However economic issues are driving the agenda and real economic grievances must be addressed in order for the many transitions to succeed Hafez Ghanem gives a thorough assessment of the Arab Spring beginning with political developments since the revolutions and changes in the legal and institutional frameworks that affect economies Arab economies grew at healthy rates before the revolts but the benefits of economic growth were unfairly distributed The politically connected reaped great benefits while educated youth could not find decent jobs and the poor and middle class struggled to make ends meet Ghanem advises that Arab countries need to adopt new economic policies and programs that enhance inclusiveness expand the middle class and foster growth in undeveloped regions Key elements include strengthening economic institutions developing small businesses reforming the education system to better prepare Arab youth for the modern labor market promoting gender equality with the objective of raising female labor market participation rates and setting up programs for rural and regional development to reduce inequality and eliminate extreme poverty
