Space For Living Novel Of Grand Coulee:

Space for Living Margaret Thompson,1986-02-01 The Bioregional Imagination Cheryll Glotfelty,Karla Armbruster,Tom Lynch,2012-03-01 Bioregionalism is an innovative way of thinking about place and planet from an ecological perspective Although bioregional ideas occur regularly in ecocritical writing until now no systematic effort has been made to outline the principles of bioregional literary criticism and to use it as a way to read write understand and teach literature The twenty four original essays here are written by an outstanding selection of international scholars The range of bioregions covered is global and includes such diverse places as British Columbia s Meldrum Creek and Italy s Po River Valley the Arctic and the Outback There are even forays into cyberspace and outer space In their comprehensive introduction the editors map the terrain of the bioregional movement including its history and potential to inspire and invigorate place based and environmental literary criticism Responding to bioregional tenets this volume is divided into four sections The essays in the Reinhabiting section narrate experiments in living in place and restoring damaged environments The Rereading essays practice bioregional literary criticism both by examining texts with strong ties to bioregional paradigms and by opening other less obvious texts to bioregional analysis In Reimagining the essays push bioregionalism to evolve by expanding its corpus of texts coupling its perspectives with other approaches or challenging its core constructs Essays in the Renewal section address bioregional pedagogy beginning with local habitat studies and concluding with musings about the Internet In response to the environmental crisis we must reimagine our relationship to the places we inhabit This volume shows how literature and literary studies are fundamental tools to such a reimagining Pacific Northwest Quarterly ,1944 The Retail Bookseller ,1946 Bucking the Sun Ivan Doig,2013-07-09 Bucking the Sun is the story of the Duff family homesteaders driven from the Montana bottomland to work on one of the New Deal s most audacious projects the damming of the Missouri River Through the story of each family member a wrathful father a mettlesome mother and three very different sons and the memorable women they marry Doig conveys a sense of time and place that is at once epic in scope and rich in detail NASA Historical Data Book: NASA launch systems, space transportation, human spaceflight, and space science, 1989-1998 ,1988 NASA Historical Data Book: NASA launch systems, space transportation ,1988 The National Union Catalog, Pre-1956 Imprints ,1968 NASA historical data book, Volume 7: NASA Launch Systems Space Transportation/Human Space Flight ,1988 A Catalog of Books Represented by Library of Congress Printed Cards Issued to July 31, 1942 ,1942 NASA Historical Data Book, V. 7 ,1976 This volume of the NASA Historical Data Book is the seventh in the series that describes NASA s programs and projects Covering the years 1989 through 1998 it includes the areas of launch systems human spaceflight and space science continuing the volumes that addressed these topics during NASA s previous decades Each chapter presents information much of it statistical addressing funding management and details of programs and missions Atomic Frontier Days John M. Findlay,Bruce W. Hevly,2011-10-01 Outstanding Title

by Choice Magazine On the banks of the Pacific Northwest's greatest river lies the Hanford nuclear reservation an industrial site that appears to be at odds with the surrounding vineyards and desert The 586 square mile compound on the Columbia River is known both for its origins as part of the Manhattan Project which made the first atomic bombs and for the monumental effort now under way to clean up forty five years of waste from manufacturing plutonium for nuclear weapons Hanford routinely makes the news as scientists litigants administrators and politicians argue over its past and its future It is easy to think about Hanford as an expression of federal power a place apart from humanity and nature but that view distorts its history Atomic Frontier Days looks through a wider lens telling a complex story of production community building politics and environmental sensibilities In brilliantly structured parallel stories the authors bridge the divisions that accompany Hanford's headlines and offer perspective on today's controversies Influenced as much by regional culture economics and politics as by war diplomacy and environmentalism Hanford and the Tri Cities of Richland Pasco and Kennewick illuminate the history of the modern American West Steal the North Heather Brittain Bergstrom, 2014-04-10 A novel of love in all its forms for the land for family and the once in a lifetime kind that catches two people when they least expect it Emmy is a shy sheltered sixteen year old when her mom Kate sends her to eastern Washington to an aunt and uncle she never knew she had Fifteen years earlier Kate had abandoned her sister Beth when she fled her painful past and their fundamentalist church And now Beth believes Emmy's participation in a faith healing is her last hope for having a child Emmy goes reluctantly but before long she knows she has come home She feels tied to the rugged landscape of coulees and scablands And she meets Reuben the Native American boy next door In a part of the country where the age old tensions of cowboys versus Indians still play out theirs is the kind of magical fraught love that can only survive with the passion and resilience of youth Their story is mirrored by the generation before them who fears that their mistakes are doomed to repeat themselves in Emmy and Reuben With Louise Erdrich's sense of place and a love story in the tradition of Water for Elephants this is an atmospheric family drama in which the question of home is a spiritual one in which getting over the past is the only hope for the future
