the role of faith in his her suffering Blue recounts a 35 year battle with the daily despair of OCD For the first 25 years his Christian upbringing convinced him he had a faith issue not a chemical one At age 25 after realizing there was more going on than a simple lack of faith he spent the next 10 years struggling to find the right diagnosis doctor and treatment plan This journey landed him in 7 different psychiatrists offices countless psychologists offices and even in the mental hospital for three days In the end Blue finds some answers but also comes to grips with the presence of his questions This book will engage you encourage you and make you think about the sometimes toxic blend between spirituality and mental illness

Excerpt from chapter 3 At its core OCD is a quest for certainty where certainty doesn't exist The person who washes his hands a million times wants certainty that the deadly germs are banished from his hands but he can never be sure The driver who fears she has accidentally hit a pedestrian re drives the same route over and over looking for absolute certainty that she didn't hit the innocent pedestrian but there's no way to be absolutely certain that that odd color on the sidewalk isn't the blood of the child she just ran over who is now at the hospital or the morgue Or the kid who is terrified he'll be abandoned by his parents he can never ask enough questions or stand in just the right spot to check on their early arrival so as to be completely certain that they will always come back Uncertainty dooms the sufferer of OCD to his torture chamber For the religious person uncertainty will at some point attack his quest for peace through faith Let's face it religion comes with plenty of uncertainty Sooner or later everyone on the quest to understand or know God will have to ask some difficult questions Why does God allow bad things to happen to good people Why does God allow so much suffering when he could simply zap the evil doers What does it mean to be saved Unsaved Is there such a thing as hell and if so how do I know that the sweet little old lady who used to live next door who wasn't very religious but who was the kindest person I ever knew isn't there See appendix for a fuller discussion of hell My inevitable questions about the black and white certainties of the Christian faith caused the struggle between my internal self and my external self to rage on Spiritual questions plagued my brain from the time I was old enough to ponder such matters but the stakes were high in my family where failure to see things the Right Way was not acceptable My family's certainty mixed with my inevitable lack of certainty created a struggle within me between intellectual honesty and family acceptance a struggle that persists to this day One of the certainties of my upbringing that troubled my uncertain brain was the question of hell To make matters worse in my early childhood we were Southern Baptists to the core no drinking church on Sunday and Wednesday and sometimes Sunday night just in case suits to church so Jesus could admire our wardrobes etc Dogmatic Christian groups are guilty of excessive certainty about countless uncertain things like how long it took the world to be created where the precise line is between those who are saved and unsaved and that hell is a real place where anyone who hasn't accepted Jesus as his her savior is going Middle school Southern Baptist Tim who had outgrown his fear of being left by his parents needed some new way to be petrified of abandonment and isolation Eternal damnation seemed like just the right thing for my brain to grab ahold of
