Spatial and Temporal Reasoning in Geographic Information Systems Max J. Egenhofer, Reginald G. Golledge, 1998 In an effort to further investigation into critical development facets of geographic information systems GIS this book explores the reasoning processes that apply to geographic space and time As a result of an initiative sponsored by the National Center for Geographic Information and Analysis NCGIA it treats the computational cognitive and social science applications aspects of spatial and temporal reasoning in GIS Essays were contributed by scholars from a broad spectrum of disciplines including geography cartography surveying and engineering computer science mathematics and environmental and cognitive psychology

Spatial and Temporal Reasoning O. Stock, 2007-07-27 Qualitative reasoning about space and time a reasoning at the human level promises to become a fundamental aspect of future systems that will accompany us in daily activity The aim of Spatial and Temporal Reasoning is to give a picture of current research in this area focusing on both representational and computational issues The picture emphasizes some major lines of development in this multifaceted constantly growing area The material in the book also shows some common ground and a novel combination of spatial and temporal aspects of qualitative reasoning Part I presents the overall scene The chapter by Laure Vieu is on the state of the art in spatial representation and reasoning and that by Alfonso Gerevini gives a similar survey on research in temporal reasoning The specific contributions to these areas are then grouped in the two main parts In Part II Roberto Casati and Achille Varzi examine the ontological status of spatial entities Anthony Cohn Brandon Bennett John Gooday and Nicholas Gotts present a detailed theory of reasoning with qualitative relations about regions Andrew Frank discusses the spatial needs of geographical information systems and Annette Herskovits focuses on the linguistic expression of spatial relations In Part III James Allen and George Ferguson describe an interval temporal logic for the representation of actions and events Drew McDermott presents an efficient way of predicting the outcome of plan execution and Erik Sandewall introduces a semantics based on transitions for assessing theories of action and change In Part IV Antony Galton's chapter stands clearly between the two areas of space and time and outlines the main coordinates of an integrated approach Theories and Methods of Spatio-temporal Reasoning in Geographic Space Andrew U. Frank, Irene Campari, Ubaldo Formentini, 1992 This volume collects the papers presented at the first international conference dedicated to spatial and temporal reasoning in geographic space entitled GIS from space to territory theories and methods of spatio temporal reasoning Within the National Center for Geographic Information and Analysis NCGIA one of the supporters of the conference the importance of spatial and temporal reasoning was recognized several years ago Initial research found that spatial reasoning in geographic or large scale space is different from spatial reasoning in small scale space as usually dealt with in robotics and expert systems Temporal reasoning has attracted interest in the artificial intelligence community The volume also includes two invited papers Do people understand spatial concepts the case of first order primitives by R G Golledge and Temporal databases by R
