Ritual bones or common waste J. Thilderkvist, 2013-11-01 This book addresses the problems of identifying human actions behind finds of bones in settlement archaeology exemplified with the identification of ritual deposits In order to formulate a methodological framework for approaching the identification of ritual deposits different methods are tested on four Early Medieval case studysites Dongjum and Leeuwarden two artificial dwelling mounds situated in the then undiked salt marches of the Northern Netherlands Midlaren an inland settlement in Drenthe also in the Northern Netherlands and finally Upp kra a central place in the South of Sweden The bone fragments from the four materials are studied in a five step process of definition description identification interpretation and explanation The deposits are discussed with the help of various archaeological ethnographic and historical sources The results of the analysis lead to a methodological framework for understanding individual deposits based on a holistic perspective where all information is regarded as potentially valuable various methods are taken into consideration and simplification is avoided

Bones and Identity Nimrod Marom, Reuven Yeshuran, Lior Weissbrod, Guy Bar-Oz, 2016-07-31 Seventeen papers demonstrate how zooarchaeologists engage with questions of identity through culinary references livestock husbandry practices and land use Contributions combine hitherto unpublished zooarchaeological data from regions straddling a wide geographic expanse between Greece in the West and India in the East and spanning a time range from the latest part of the Palaeolithic to the Middle Ages The vitality of a hands on approach to data presentation and interpretation carried out primarily at the level of the individual site the arena of
