Studies In Entertainment Critical Approaches To Mass Culture:

Studies in Entertainment Tania Modleski, 1986 This is an important book for all students of literature and history American Studies International thoughtful and provocative the essays grant complexity and contradiction to mass culture while interrogating its objects from positions that explicitly or implicitly derive from the left and from feminism The Independent These innovative and politically engaged essays reflect the paradox inherent in taking a critical approach to mass culture The contributors in many cases pioneers in their particular area of inquiry include Tania Modleski Raymond Williams interviewed here by Stephen Heath and Gillian Skirrow Bernard Gendron Rick Altman Margaret Morse Patricia Mellencamp Judith Williamson Jean Franco Kaja Silverman Dana Polan and Andreas Huyssen Cultures of Modernism Cristanne Miller, 2007 Examines the influences of location on the literary achievements of three modernist women writers

A Companion to Television Janet Wasko, 2009-12-21 A Companion to Television is a magisterial collection of 31 original essays that charter the field of television studies over the past century Explores a diverse range of topics and theories that have led to television's current incarnation and predict its likely future Covers technology and aesthetics television's relationship to the state televisual commerce texts representation genre internationalism and audience reception and effects Essays are by an international group of first rate scholars For information news and content from Blackwell's reference publishing program please visit www.blackwellpublishing.com/reference American Studies Jack Salzman, 1990-05-25 This volume supplements the acclaimed three volume set published in 1986 and consists of an annotated listing of American Studies monographs published between 1984 and 1988 There are more than 6 000 descriptive entries in a wide range of categories anthropology and folklore art and architecture history literature music political science popular culture psychology religion science and technology and sociology Blood Money Richard Nowell, 2010-12-23 Scholars have consistently applied psychoanalytic models to representations of gender in early teen slasher films such as Black Christmas 1974 Halloween 1978 and Friday the 13th 1980 in order to claim that these were formulaic excessively violent exploitation films fashioned to satisfy the misogynist fantasies of teenage boys and grind house patrons However by examining the commercial logic strategies and objectives of the American and Canadian independents that produced the films and the companies that distributed them in the US Blood Money demonstrates that filmmakers and marketers actually went to extraordinary lengths to make early teen slashers attractive to female youth to minimize displays of violence gore and suffering and to invite comparisons to a wide range of post classical Hollywood's biggest hits including Love Story 1970 The Exorcist 1973 Saturday Night Fever 1977 Grease and Animal House both 1978 Blood Money is a remarkable piece of scholarship that highlights the many forces that helped establish the teen slasher as a key component of the North American film industry's repertoire of youth market product Entertainment-Education Arvind Singhal, Everett Rogers, 2012-12-06 Arvind Singhal and Everett M Rogers have developed this unique volume focused on the history and development of entertainment education This approach to communication is the process of designing and implementing a media message to both entertain and educate to increase audience members knowledge about an educational issue create favorable attitudes and change overt behavior It uses the universal appeal of entertainment to show individuals how they can live safer healthier and happier lives Entertainment formats such as soap operas rock music feature films talk shows cartoons comics and theater are utilized in various countries to promote messages about educational issues This book presents a balanced picture of the entertainment education strategy identifying ethical and other problems that accompany efforts to bring about social change

Serializing Age Maricel Oró-Piqueras, Anita Wohlmann, 2015-12-15 Serialized storytelling provides intriguing opportunities for critical representations of age and aging In contrast to the finite character of films television narratives can unfold across hundreds of episodes and multiple seasons Contemporary viewing practices and new media technologies have resulted in complex television narratives in which experimental temporalities and revisions of narrative linearity and chronological time have become key features As the first of its kind this volume investigates how TV series as a powerful cultural medium shape representations of age and aging such as in Orange Is The New Black The Wire or Desperate Housewives to understand what it means to live in time

Media Cultures Michael Skovmand, Kim Christian Schrøder, 2016-10-04 This book first published in 1992 challenges the elitism and cultural pessimism of much Anglo American and Continental cultural debate with regard to the role and power of transnational media practices In a series of ten innovative essays an international group of media researchers explores a wide range of cultural practices across national borders and the cultural politics associated with these everyday practices and debates

Joyless Streets Patrice Petro, 2020-12-08 Patrice Petro challenges the conventional assessment of German film history which sees classical films as responding solely to male anxieties and fears Exploring the address made to women in melodramatic films and in popular illustrated magazines she shows how Weimar Germany had a commercially viable female audience fascinated with looking at images that called traditional representations of gender into question Interdisciplinary in her approach Petro interweaves archival research with recent theoretical debates to offer not merely another view of the Weimar cinema but also another way of looking at Weimar film culture Women s modernity she suggests was not the same as men s modernism and the image of the city street in film and photojournalism reveals how women responded differently from men to the political economic and psychic upheaval of their times

Information Subject Mark Poster, Stanley Aronowitz, 2013-10-23 First Published in 2001 In this collection of essays and interviews Mark Poster examines theoretical approaches and develops his own position on our information based society He contends that new communications media disrupt and transfigure the way identities are constituted in cultural exchanges He looks in detail at several aspects of what might be called internet culture including virtuality and democracy Poster advocates an awareness of the Internet and other new forms of communication calling for a mobilization to ensure accessibility to all and to configure technology into vehicles of open cultural creation For example nothing is pure about the Internet politically he points out and it remains an open question as to who will transform the potentiality of new communications media into determinate cultural configurations This book explores the rupture and potentiality between the electronic self and the face to face self inherent in new forms of technology and media
