Text And Context In Islamic Societies:

Text & Context in Islamic Societies Irene A. Bierman, 2004 A collection of papers from the sixteenth Giorgio Levi Della Vida conference which honored Andre Raymond and Josef van Ess Conceptualizing Islam Frank Peter, Paula Schrode, Ricarda Stegmann, 2025-03-31 In recent decades academic debates on how to conceptualize Islam as an object of study and how to approach it theoretically have been revitalized Not only has research on Islam grown enormously and become much more differentiated but Islam is also being discussed more intensively in society and politics than ever before This reader which brings together the perspectives of various disciplines provides an overview of academic approaches to Islam against the backdrop of these in some cases tense entanglements Through two contributions from scholars working on Buddhism and Hinduism these debates are situated in the context of broader trajectories of research history In sum this book does not only offer its readers entry points to a more complex and refined understanding of Islam but also to research processes within the study of Islam as well as religion in general Culture of Letter-Writing in Pre-Modern Islamic

Society Adrian Gully, 2008-02-07 The Culture of Letter Writing in Pre Modern Islamic Society received an honourable mention from the British Kuwait Friendship Society at BRISMES 2009 Writing letters was an important component of intellectual life in the Middle Islamic period telling us much about the cultural history of pre modern Islamic society This book offers a unique analysis of letter writing focusing on the notion of the power of the pen The author looks at the wider context of epistolography relating it to the power structures of Islamic society in that period He also attempts to identify some of the similarities and differences between Muslim modes of letter writing and those of western cultures One of the strengths of this book is that it is based on a wide range of primary Arabic sources thus reflecting the broader epistemological importance of letter writing in Islamic society Islamic Thought in the Dialogue of Cultures Hans

Daiber, 2012-08-03 The monograph aims at a historical and bibliographical survey of the Qur'anic and rational world view of early Islam of the period of translations from Greek into Syriac and Arabic and of the impact of Islamic thought on Europe

Shaping a Qur'anic Worldview Vanessa De Gifis, 2014-04-16 Exploring the subjectivity of the Qur'an's meaning in the world this book analyses Qur'anic referencing in Muslim political rhetoric Informed by classical Arabic Islamic rhetorical theory the author examines Arabic documents attributed to the Abbasid Caliph al-Ma'mun r 813-833 whose rule coincided with the maturation of classical Islamic political thought and literary culture She demonstrates how Qur'anic referencing functions as tropological exegesis whereby verses in the Qur'an are reinterpreted through the lens of subjective experience At the same time socio-historical experiences are understood in terms of the Qur'an's moral typology which consists of interrelated polarities that define good and bad moral characters in mutual orientation Through strategic deployment of scriptural references within the logical scheme of rhetorical argument the Caliph constructs moral analogies between paradigmatic characters in the Qur'an and people in his social milieu and situates himself as moral reformer and guide in order to persuade his audiences of the necessity of the Caliphate and the religious moral imperative of obedience to his authority. The Mahmud case study is indicative of the nature and function of Qur'anic referencing across historical periods and thus contributes to broader conversations about the impact of the Qur'an on the shaping of Islamic civilization. This book is an invaluable resource for those with an interest in Early Islamic History, Islam and the rhetoric of contemporary Middle East regional and global Islamic politics.

Islamic Astronomy and Geography David A. King, 2022-02-13. This volume of 12 studies, mainly published during the past 15 years, begins with an overview of the Islamic astronomy covering not only sophisticated mathematical astronomy and instrumentation but also simple folk astronomy and the ways in which astronomy was used in the service of religion. It continues with discussions of the importance of Islamic instruments and scientific manuscript illustrations. Three studies deal with the regional schools that developed in Islamic astronomy in this case Egypt and the Maghrib. Another focuses on a curious astrological table for calculating the length of life of any individual. The notion of the world centred on the sacred Kaaba in Mecca inspired both astronomers and proponents of folk astronomy to propose methods for finding the qibla or sacred direction towards the Kaaba; their activities are surveyed here. The interaction between the mathematical and folk traditions in astronomy is then illustrated by an 11th century text on the qibla in Transoxania. The last three studies deal with an account of the geodetic measurements sponsored by the Caliph al-Ma'mun in the 9th century, a world map in the tradition of the 11th century polymath al-Biruni, alas corrupted by careless copying, and a table of geographical coordinates from 15th century Egypt.

Kleine Schriften by Josef van Ess (3 vols) Josef van Ess, 2018-03-12. Kleine Schriften, written by the eminent German scholar of Islamic Studies Josef van Ess, is a unique collection of Van Ess's widely scattered short writings: journal articles, encyclopaedia entries, autobiographical essays, reviews, and lectures in mainly German, English, and French, some of which are published here for the first time. It includes a full bibliography of the author's work in addition to two indexes of classical authors and works which aim to make accessible the remarkable riches that these Kleine Schriften have to offer. The three-volume collection, carefully selected by the author himself, offers over 150 texts organized primarily along Van Ess's own biography and the history of the discipline. It is divided into twelve parts, beginning with Tübingen where his career began in 1968 and ending with Retrospects and Postscripts for the future, with the thematic complexes Islam and its first options and Mu'tazila as centre pieces. All parts are introduced by brief accounts of the historical context in which each of the assembled texts was written and which course subsequent scholarship may have taken.
