

CONTEXTS

The circumstances and setting that provide background information about an event, statement, or idea. The context helps you more fully understand something.

SOCIAL

Social contexts are all about society and what you need to know about your society in any situation. Society has rules around behavior and interaction.

HISTORICAL

Historical contexts are all about what was unique or specific about a certain time in history. This can include cultural and social contexts that are now in the past.

CULTURAL

Cultural contexts are all about understanding cultural expectations and norms. It is different from social context because it's specific to a culture's or subculture's values, not the values of your society as a whole.

ECONOMIC

Economic contexts describe what you need to know about the economics of a situation. For example, a company trying to expand to a new country will want to know the rules of business and supply chain quality to see if they will succeed.

Text And Contexts:

Texts and Contexts Steven Lynn,1994 Gives students practical advice that not only shows them how to write about literature but also introduces them to the most exciting ideas about the meaning and methods in literary interpretation Explains and illustrates contemporary critical theories as they apply to a variety of literary texts These theories include reader response new criticism as well as biographical historical new historical psychological deconstruction and feminist criticism

Texts and Contexts Adrian Beard,2001 The idea of studying texts in context has become a new emphasis in literary studies This book explores the idea of contexts and the way they affect texts concentrating upon the writer s context the reader s context the text s context the language context and the meaning context

Text Or Context Rüdiger Kunow,Stephan Mussil,2013-03-06 Neuware This volume presents a discussion from various positions in literary and cultural studies about the relationship between textual and contextual readings of literature In understanding literary works do we rather map texts onto their contexts or contexts onto texts And what are the rules of projection By theoretical argument as well as exemplary cases Text or Context contributes to the current discussion between text oriented literary criticism and contextbiased cultural studies

English Texts & Contexts 1 F. Pollock,L. Dippel,2003 This book includes chapters dealing with the relationships between composers and responders how to use technology to make texts and how to effectively compose and respond to different types of text There is a wide range of texts presented including film visual and electronic texts Students will learn how to increase their understanding of language features structures the perspectives of composers and responders and the way that context can affect a text

Text and Context in Functional Linguistics Mohsen Ghadessy,1999-06-15 The shift towards a sociolinguistic approach to the analysis of language in the last few decades has necessitated new definitions for a number of concepts that linguists have taken for granted for a long time This volume attempts to demystify the important notions of text and context by providing clear definitions and examples within the assumptions of Systemic Functional SF linguistics After a discussion of the role and significance of context by three eminent SF linguists in section one the influence of context on text is dealt with in section two From Context to Language Section three From Language to Context considers textual features and their relationship to contextual factors All the contributors base their analyses on data collected from a variety of spoken and written registers of contemporary English

English Texts & Contexts 2 F. Pollock,2004

Translation and the Intersection of Texts, Contexts and Politics Mohammed Albakry,2017-07-27 This book analyzes the impact of historical political and sociocultural contexts on the reading rewriting and translating of texts The authors base their arguments on their experiences of translating or researching different text types taking in fiction short stories memoirs religious texts scientific treatises and news reports from a variety of different languages and cultural traditions In doing so they cover a wide range of contexts and time periods including Early Modern Europe post 1848 Switzerland nineteenth century Portugal Egypt in the early twentieth century under British colonial rule

Spain under Franco's dictatorship and contemporary Peru and China. They also consider the theoretical and pedagogical implications of their conclusions for translation students and practitioners. This edited collection will be of great interest to scholars working in translation studies, applied linguistics, and on issues of cultural difference. Text, Context and the Johannine Community David A. Lamb, 2014-04-24. Text Context and the Johannine Community adopts a new approach to the social context of the Johannine writings by drawing on modern sociolinguistic theory. Sociolinguistics emphasizes language as a social phenomenon which can be analysed with reference not only to its broad context of culture but also through the use of register analysis to its narrower context of situation. The Johannine writings have increasingly been seen as the product of a distinct Johannine Community depicted by some scholars as a sectarian group opposed both to wider Jewish society and to other Christian groups. This model has largely been constructed on historical critical grounds yet given our lack of reliable external information about the origin of the Johannine writings a more fruitful approach may be to examine their lexicogrammatical and discourse features to determine what these imply about interpersonal relationships. This study compares selected narrative asides from the Gospel of John with a passage section from 1 John and with the two shorter Johannine Epistles. It concludes that register analysis of these texts does not support the idea of a close knit sectarian group. Text, Context and Construction of Identity Rajesh Kumar, Om Prakash, 2019-04-30. Language is central to our existence and it happens to be the most sophisticated product of the human mind. It is inconceivable to think of ourselves, our societies, our ideas, cultures, or identities without language. It is the primary means of socialization and whatever we know is a result of it. It is the primary medium of construction and dissemination of knowledge and structures our thought processes in important ways that constitute our identity. In very complex ways it interacts with the social, political, and economic power structures that remain significant in defining the identities of individuals and societies. The essays in this volume create an awareness and understanding about the role of linguistic context in negotiating identity. The book explains identity and the complex relations between language and several aspects of our society. It explores identity through text and context and will serve to trigger a novel discourse around the centrality of identity in contemporary society. Text, Role and Context Ann M. Johns, 1997-06-13. This text explores fundamental issues relating to student literacies and instructor roles and practices within academic contexts. It offers a brief history of literacy theories and argues for socioliterate approaches to teaching and learning in which texts are viewed as primarily socially constructed. Central to socioliteracy, the concepts genre and discourse community are presented in detail. The author argues for roles for literacy practitioners in which they and their students conduct research and are involved in joint pedagogical endeavors. The final chapters are devoted to outlining how the views presented can be applied to a variety of classroom texts. Core curricular design principles are outlined and three types of portfolio-based academic literacy classrooms are described.
