The Cool Fire How To Make It In Television:

The Cool Fire Bob Shanks, 1976-01-01 Programming for TV, Radio & The Internet Lynne Gross, Brian Gross, Philippe Perebinosoff, 2012-11-12 Where do program ideas come from How are concepts developed into saleable productions Who do you talk to about getting a show produced How do you schedule shows on the lineup What do you do if a series is in trouble The answers to these questions and many more can be found in this comprehensive in depth look at the roles and responsibilities of the electronic media programmer Topics include Network relationships with affiliates the expanded market of syndication sources of programming for stations and networks research and its role in programming decisions fundamental appeals to an audience and what qualities are tied to success outside forces that influence programming strategies for launching new programs or saving old ones Includes real life examples taken from the authors experiences and 250 illustrations The End of the Experiment Stanley Rothman, 2017-09-08 The End of the Experiment ties together Stanley Rothman s theory of post industrialism and his four decades of research on American politics and society Rothman discusses the rise and fall of the New Left the sixties impact on America s cultural elites and the emergence of new post industrial humanistic values The first part of this book explains how cultural shifts in post industrial society increased the influence of intellectuals and redefined America s core values The second part examines how the shift in American social and cultural values led to a crisis of confidence in the American experiment And in a final section Rothman s contemporaries provide insight into his work reflecting on his continued influence and his devotion to traditional liberalism Rothman presents a quantitative study of personality differences between traditional American elites and new cultural elites Rothman argues that the experiment of America as a new nation rooted in democracy morality and civic virtue is being destroyed by a disaffected intellectual class opposed to traditional values How to Read a Film James Monaco, 2000 Explores the medium of film as both art and craft sensibility and science tradition and technology Introduction to Media Production Robert B. Musburger, PhD, Gorham Kindem, 2012-09-10 Introduction to Media Production Third Edition provides students with a practical framework for all aspects of media production by addressing the technological and aesthetic changes that have shaped the industry Offering both hands on instruction and theoretical information it provides a sound basis for the techniques operations and philosophies of media production in the new digital environment The new edition has been updated throughout with detailed information on how digital processes have changed everything from shooting to editing to finishing It includes content on the Internet writing for the Internet Graphics and Animation A Handbook of Qualitative Methodologies for Mass Communication Research Nicholas W. Jankowski, Klaus Bruhn Jensen, 2002-09-11 First published in 1991 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Why Viewers Watch Jib Fowles, 1992-01-14 Television corrupts our children induces us to spend needlessly and stimulates hostility and violence Or does it Jib Fowles sees television as a grandly therapeutic force that television is indeed good for you He examines why nearly every American regularly watches television and why viewing is beneficial Updated and jargon free Why Viewers Watch describes the overall effect of programming on the population What do viewers get from television What does it do for them Why do academics negatively judge television Using recent research reports overlooked past studies and fresh survey data to substantiate this positive role Fowles first reviews the history of television and programming After discussing what people expect from television he explores how different types of programs satisfy different needs Fowles also debunks many of the myths propagated by media scholars and television prigs With an easy to read style that is both entertaining and informative Why Viewers Watch suits both the scholar and the student the specialist and nonspecialist alike As such it is the perfect companion volume for courses in communication journalism sociology and psychology The author does present another side to the complex effects debate a side of which we should all be aware Et cetera from the First Edition An interesting and challenging book about television So good it is surprising it has not received more attention There aren't many really good books about television and this is one of the best Peter Farrell The Sunday Oregonian I would recommend this book to interested television viewers media scholars and professionals Fowles arguments are thought provoking and sometimes compelling The book is very readable and easily accessible to lower division students For those of us who spent our childhoods glued to the screen and believe we still turned out all right this book will help alleviate our nagging guilt when we watch television The book should help scholars reexamine our views on the impact of television's content and our suggested changes Media professionals should find the book a testament to the positive aspects of their medium The Southern Speech Communication Journal

Television Program Master Index Charles V. Dintrone, 1996

Television history has become one of the hottest areas of research in popular culture Because the field is relatively new and so wide ranging no matter what one is researching much of the relevant material will be found scattered through numerous other works frustrating scholarly progress This work makes the television researcher's job easier by providing a single index to 341 books that include information on 1 002 shows Most of the books deal exclusively with television though some autobiographies biographies Congressional hearings and works on communication and the media are also indexed For a show to be included it must have been carried on NBC CBS ABC or Fox and must have been a series Shows on PBS are generally not included though exceptions have been made for Sesame Street and Mister Rogers Neighborhood

Television in Society Arthur Asa Berger, 2017-09-29

Is television a cultural wasteland or a medium that has brought people more great art music dance and drama than any previous media How do we study and interpret television What are the effects of television on individuals and society and how do we measure them What is the role of television in our political and economic life Television in Society explores these issues in considering how television both reflects and affects society The book is divided into two sections The first focuses on programming and deals with commercials ceremonial events important series such as MASH and Lou Grant significant programs a production of Brave New World on television and the images of police on the medium The second part of the book deals with important issues and topics related to the medium the impact of television violence values found on television the impact of television on education the significance of new technological developments and the always thorny issue of freedom of the press The articles are drawn together by a brilliant introductory essay by Arthur Asa Berger who examines television as culture Television Writing Richard A. Blum,1984 The Sponsor Erik Barnouw,2017-09-29 The television sponsor has become semi mythical He is remote and unseen but omnipresent Dramas football games and press conferences pause for a word from him He makes possible concerts and public affairs broadcasts His underwriting grants brings the viewer music festivals and classic films Interviews with visiting statesmen are interrupted for him to continue in a moment Sponsorship is basic to American television Even noncommercial television looks to it for survival A vast industry has grown up around the needs and wishes of sponsors Television s program formulas business practices and ratings have all evolved in ways to satisfy sponsor requirements Indeed he has become a potentate of our time The Sponsor is divided into three parts In Rise Barnouw sketches the rise of the sponsor in both radio and television to his present state of eminence In Domain the sponsor s pervasive impact on television programming is examined with an emphasis on network television the primary arena of the industry And in Prospect Barnouw assesses what such dominance has meant for American society mores and institutions and what it may mean for our future This is a gripping volume about power how it not only influences programming itself but how it defines for the average person what is good great and desirable Lou Grant Douglass K. Daniel,1996-01-01 When Lou Grant premiered in the fall of 1977 it quickly became a symbol of television drama at its best During its five years on the air Lou Grant earned critical acclaim as an entertaining yet thoughtful drama about important social and political issues a rarity for episodic television in the late 1970s Douglass K Daniel reveals how the creators of Lou Grant investigated journalism in the post Watergate era to present a modern day portrayal of the profession They based characters dialogue and plots on the experiences of dozens of professional journalists By researching social problems they developed relevant story lines that gave episodes unusual immediacy The show won thirteen Emmy Awards among them two for Best Drama and a Peabody Award Journalists hailed the series as television s most realistic newspaper drama The book describes the bitter controversy that erupted in 1982 when lead actor Edward Asner came under fire for his political beliefs regarding American involvement in El Salvador Amid calls for advertiser boycotts right wing charges that Asner had aided the enemy and falling ratings CBS canceled the series Daniel s intensive retrospect includes interviews with actors producers writers directors network censors and journalists He summarizes all 114 episodes discusses original character sketches and includes editorial cartoons Television Research Ronald L. Jacobson,1995 This directory consists of an alphabetical ordering of television related categories For each category a brief conceptual overview is presented followed by a list of relevant research or lecture topic suggestions and a bibliography of selected print sources mostly books Users should appreciate the directory as a reference tool intended solely as as guide to studying television and not as an end in itself As such the categories herein are not necessarily mutually exclusive nor are the overviews topic suggestions and bibliographies meant to be comprehensive Instead this publication is intended to inform broadly to stimulate critical thinking and to serve as a catalyst for further inquiry An Additional Sources section is included at the end of the directory General reference books relevant indexes and databases scholarly journals popular magazines newspapers and trade publications are listed Libraries and museums containing special television related collections are also noted There always seems to be new print publications and electronic databases that provide access to television related content Please consider this directory as but one entry point to television research Users are encouraged to solicit the expertise of a professional librarian in order to access the most relevant sources available on topics of interest

Keepers of the Flame Robert M. Hazen, Margaret Hindle Hazen, 2014-07-14 For Lo We live in an Iron Age In the age of Steam and Fire wrote a poet mesmerized by the engines that were transforming American transportation agriculture and industry during his lifetime Indeed by the nineteenth century fire had become America s leitmotif for good and for ill Keeping the flame was deadly serious even the slightest lapse of attention could convert a fire from friendly ally to ravaging destroyer To examine the cultural context of fire in combustible America Margaret Hazen and Robert Hazen gather more than a hundred illustrations most never before published together with anecdotes and information from hundreds of original sources including newspapers diaries company records popular fiction art and music What results is an immensely entertaining and encyclopedic history that ranges from stories of the tragic great fires of the century to fire imagery in folktales and popular literature Dealing more with technology than with fire in nature the book provides a vast amount of information on fire manipulation and prevention in urban life Hazen and Hazen discuss the people who worked with fire or against it Founders gaffers blacksmiths boilers at saltworks and housewives knew how to read a fire and employ it for their purposes A few dedicated investigators inquired about the scientific nature of heat and flame And firefighters gradually progressed from bucket brigades to using fire to fight fire with the newly invented steam engine The colorful stories of these Americans the risks they took and the rewards they received will fascinate not only social historians but also a broad audience of general readers Originally published in 1992 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Watching Television Todd Gitlin, 1986 7 essays by leading media critics explore the politics and social implications of television An important step into the past wasteland era of writing about the tube NYT Book Review

The Codes of Advertising Sut Jhally, 2014-05-22 This book examines the commercial speech of advertising as a cultural phenomenon whose social significance far exceeds its economic influence Jhally argues that by selling viewing time to advertisers television converts audiences into laborers who work for the media in the same way that workers do in a factory By watching commercial messages on TV viewers actively create symbolic meaning but also generate profit for the media in return for the wage of entertainment First published in 1991

Broadcast Programming, Strategies for Winning Television and Radio Audiences Susan Tyler

Eastman, Sydney W. Head, Lewis Klein, 1981

Envisioning Media Power Brett Christophers, 2009-04-16

Envisioning Media Power develops an original geographical perspective on the nature and exercise of power in the international television economy It uses theories of political economy as the basis for a comparative empirical examination of the UK and New Zealand television markets while closely considering these markets respective relationships with the US market and its globally influential media corporations In fleshing out this geographical perspective the book critically addresses the power to produce reproduce and extract profit from territorialized media markets To understand such powers the book examines processes of creation and dissemination of industry knowledge structures of industry governance and the locational characteristics of television s operational economy Through its rigorous and creative combination of conceptual insights with empirical substance Envisioning Media Power both illuminates the fabric of television s international space economy and ultimately offers a unique theoretic argument suggesting that power knowledge and geography are inseparable not only from one another but from the process of accumulation of media capital
