development of a number of genres in modern American fiction and poetry that he was the first literary chronicler of the burgeoning slums of urban America who refused to sentimentalize his materials that his Western stories reveal the steady retreat of the American frontier before the encroachments of a modern Europeanized civilization and that his short stories and poems engage a number of enduring themes Many of the entries cite works for further reading and the volume includes a chronology and a bibliography of the most important studies of his life and writing Student Companion to Stephen Crane Paul M. Sorrentino, 2005-11-30 Born into a family of writers Stephen Crane wrote his first poem I d Rather Have when he was eight and his first short story Uncle Jake and the Bell Handle at around the age of 13 Despite never having completed a course of study at any of the colleges he attended Crane decided in the spring of 1891 to pursue a career as a writer While working as a journalist he penned Maggie A Girl of the Streets a novella written in the Naturalist style that depicted the seaminess of urban tenement life Enduring his own poverty and taking temporary reporting jobs Crane completed his literary masterpiece The Red Badge of Courage a dramatic depiction of a soldier s inner life during the American Civil War in April 1894 The author who continued to write both journalistic pieces and short stories until his death in June 1900 is one of the most highly regarded and popularly taught American authors today Stephen Crane pursued his writing career during a time when the literary world was moving from Romanticism to Realism and Naturalism and later in his life Impressionism and Modernism Sorrentino examines each of Crane s works identifying the influence of these literary movements and world events on his novels short stories and poetry including Maggie A Girl of the Streets New York City Stories and Sketches The Red Badge of Courage War Stories Western Stories and Tales of Whilomville Papers of Stephen Crane Stephen Crane, Willis Brooks Hawkins, 1894 Correspondence literacy MSS notebook Crane s will pen and ink sketches and photos Includes the MS of Crane s The red badge of courage of Ford Madox Ford s Stephen Crane an article which appeared in American mercury and of Robert Wooster Stalalman s Stephen Crane some unpublished manuscripts sketches and stories additions to the canon a bound volume of 42 original letters 1921 to Max J Herzberg entitled Stephen Crane a chorus of tributes by English and American authors correspondence with Edith F Crane together with nine of her letters 1931 33 to Harvey Taylor and ca 30 letters 1895 99 from Crane to Willis Brooks Hawkins illustrating the last years of Crane s life and his deep friendship for Hawkins Other correspondents include the editors of Chapbook Critic and youth s companion Ralph Allen Harry Bacon Collamore Copeland and Day Cora Howarth Crane William Howe Crane Henry D Davray Mrs Moreton Frewen Frederic C Gordon Mrs Edward Pease Michael Pease Mr Perrin Gustav A Roedel Melvin H Schoberlin Wilbur Macey Stowe and Harvey Taylor Encyclopedia of American Poetry: The Nineteenth Century Eric L. Haralson, 2014-01-21 With contributions from over 100 scholars the Encyclopedia of American Poetry The Nineteenth Century provides essays on the careers works and backgrounds of more than 100 nineteenth century poets It also provides entries on specialized categories of twentieth century verse such as hymns folk ballads spirituals Civil War songs and Native American poetry

Besides presenting essential factual information each entry amounts to an in depth critical essay and includes a bibliography that directs readers to other works by and about a particular poet Ephemeral Bibelots Brad Evans,2019-09-10

Restoring proto modernist little magazines known as ephemeral bibelots to the scholarly canon Emanating from the cabarets of modernist Paris a short lived vogue spread around the world for avant garde journals known in English as ephemeral bibelots For a time it seemed that all the young bohemians passing through Paris started their own bibelots modeled on Le Chat Noir the esoteric magazine of the famed Montmartre cabaret These journals were recognizable for their decadence campy queerness astounding art nouveau illustrations fin de si cle color schemes innovative typefaces and practiced bohemianism In Ephemeral Bibelots Brad Evans relays the untold story of this late nineteenth century craze for bibelots dusting off a trove of periodicals largely untouched by digitization In excavating this forgotten archive Evans calls into question the prehistory of modernist little magazines as well as the history of American art and literature at the turn of the twentieth century Considering how artistic movements take shape move and disappear the book is organized around three major themes vogue ephemera and obscurity with authors and artists to match A full color insert reveals a glorious array of bibelot covers This revisionary history of print culture incorporates discussions of pragmatist philosophy and relational aesthetics women writers like Juliet Wilbor Tompkins and Carolyn Wells the graphic artists Will Bradley Louis Rhead and John Sloan the dancer Loie Fuller and twentieth century figures like H L Mencken Amy Lowell and Anita Loos Bringing nineteenth century American literature and culture into conversation with modern art movements from around the world Ephemeral Bibelots provides new ways of thinking about the centrality of various media cultures to the attribution of aesthetic innovation and its staying power American Literary Naturalism Donald Pizer,2020-10-09 The book collects

Pizer s late career essays on various writers and subjects related to American naturalism Of these two seek to describe the movement as a whole six are on specific writers or works with an emphasis on Theodore Dreiser and two reprint informative interviews by Pizer on the subject The essays reflect Pizer s mature engagement of the subject he has spent a lifetime exploring WLA ,1999 Affecting Fictions Jane F. Thraillkill,2007 Thraillkill offers a new understanding of late nineteenth century American literary realism that draws on neuroscience and cognitive psychology positioning her argument against the emotionless interpretations of the New Critics Edinburgh Companion to Nineteenth-Century American

Letters and Letter-Writing Celeste-Marie Bernier,2016-02-15 Provides a wide ranging entry point and intervention into scholarship on nineteenth century American letter writingThis comprehensive study by leading scholars in an important new field the history of letters and letter writing is essential reading for anyone interested in nineteenth century American politics history or literature Because of its mass literacy population mobility and extensive postal system nineteenth century America is a crucial site for the exploration of letters and their meanings whether they be written by presidents and statesmen scientists and philosophers novelists and poets feminists and reformers immigrants Native Americans or African Americans

This book breaks new ground by mapping the voluminous correspondence of these figures and other important American writers and thinkers Rather than treating the letter as a spontaneous private document the contributors understand it as a self conscious artefact circulating between friends and strangers and across multiple genres in ways that both make and break social ties Key Features Draws together different emphases on the intellectual literary and social uses of letter writing Provides students and researchers with a means to situate letters in their wider theoretical and historical contexts Methodologically expansive intellectually interrogative chapters based on original research by leading academics Offers new insights into the lives and careers of Louisa May Alcott Charles Brockden Brown Emily Dickinson Frederick Douglass Margaret Fuller Henry James Thomas Jefferson Abraham Lincoln Herman Melville Harriet Beecher Stowe and Edgar Allan Poe among many others

The Editing of American Literature, 1890-1930 Donald Pizer, 2012-07-30

Since the 1960s Donald Pizer has been writing about late 19th century American literature with an emphasis on the major fiction of Theodore Dreiser and Stephen Crane Most academics whose interests lie primarily in the preparation of scholarly editions are attracted to the paradoxical mix of adherence to a rigorous process and an opportunity for speculative thinking that is distinctive to this branch of literary studies And they often find appealing the notion that the end product of their labors is a book that unlike much criticism is sure to be used by others and to have a long lifespan However Pizer came to textual discussion from a different direction than most editors of scholarly editions who seldom wrote criticism about the authors and works they were engaged in editing Consequently Pizer was drawn into the text wars of scholarly editions and during the last three decades of the 20th century he produced a number of essays tackling this sometimes contentious subject The Editing of American Literature 1890 1930 collects Donald Pizer s essays and reviews that examine the issues associated with providing authoritative scholarly editions of major turn of the century American authors Divided into four sections general essays on editing essays and reviews on the editing of Theodore Dreiser essays and reviews on the editing of Stephen Crane and essays on the interplay of textual theory and critical interpretation in works by Crane and John Dos Passos the volume expresses a distinctive position in the text wars that dominated the editing scene of the 1970 2000 period This collection of essays will be of interest to textual editors of any persuasion as well as literary critics and scholars with a special interest in late 19th and early 20th century American literature

The Art of Youth Nicholas Delbanco, 2013

Portraits of three artistic prodigies who died young Stephen Crane writer Dora Carrington painter and George Gershwin composer that form the centerpiece of a beautiful and fascinating inquiry into creation mortality and the enigma of promise What would they have done had they lived longer

The Aesthetics and Politics of the Crowd in American Literature Mary Esteve, 2003-02-27

Mary Esteve provides a study of crowd representations in American literature from the antebellum era to the early twentieth century As a central icon of political and cultural democracy the crowd occupies a prominent place in the American literary and cultural landscape Esteve examines a range of writing by Poe Hawthorne Lydia Maria Child Du

Bois James and Stephen Crane among others These writers she argues distinguish between the aesthetics of immersion in a crowd and the mode of collectivity demanded of political liberal subjects In their representations of everyday crowds ranging from streams of urban pedestrians to swarms of train travellers from upper class parties to lower class revivalist meetings such authors seize on the political problems facing a mass liberal democracy problems such as the stipulations of citizenship nation formation mass immigration and the emergence of mass media Esteve examines both the aesthetic and political meanings of such urban crowd scenes

Catcher Peter Morris, 2009-04-16 Today the baseball catcher is a familiar but uninspiring figure Decked out in the so called tools of ignorance he stolidly goes about his duty without attracting much attention But it wasn't always that way as Peter Morris shows in this lively and original study In baseball's early days catchers stood a safe distance behind the batter Then the introduction of the curveball in the 1870s led them to move up directly behind home plate even though they still wore no gloves or protective equipment Extraordinary courage became the catcher's most notable requirement but the new positioning also demanded that the catcher have lightning fast reflexes great hands and a cannon for a throwing arm
