Girls Just Want to Have Fun M. Norwood,1999 Short Stories Alfred Ludlow White,1891 Contemporary Short Stories from Central America Enrique Jaramillo Levi,1994-01-01 In Metaphors Samuel Rovinski Costa Rica shows how a writer's superficial attempt to interpret experience metaphorically cripples him in social circumstances while in Gloria Wouldn't Wait Panamanian Jaime Garcia Saucedo focuses on the egotism of the writer's imagination as it tries to convert the tragedies of everyday life into some kind of literary document whose artistic qualities would belie their actual reality Human and humane values in the face of adversity are celebrated throughout even when seemingly futile in the midst of overwhelming odds Contemporary Short Stories from Central America embraces every aspect of the human condition addressed by the literature of the Western world and demonstrates the cultural vitality of our Central American neighbors

BOOK JACKET Narratives of Community in the Black British Short Story Bettina Jansen,2018-08-16 Narratives of Community in the Black British Short Story offers the first systematic study of black British short story writing tracing its development from the 1950s to the present with a particular focus on contemporary short stories by Hanif Kureishi Jackie Kay Suhayl Saadi Zadie Smith and Hari Kunzru By combining a postcolonial framework of analysis with Jean Luc Nancy's deconstructive philosophy of community the book charts key tendencies in black British short fiction and explores how black British writers use the short story form to combat deeply entrenched notions of community and experiment with non-essentialist alternatives across differences of ethnicity culture religion and nationality

Bulletin ,1890 The Cosmopolitan Book of Short Stories Kate Figs,1995 The Best Short Stories of ... and the Yearbook of the American Short Story ,1918 Columbia University Bulletin ,1890 Imitations of Life Abe C. Ravitz,2009-03-10 In the early 1920s Fannie Hurst's enormous popularity made her the highest paid writer in America She conquered the literary scene at the same time the silent movie industry began to emerge as a tremendously profitable and popular form of entertainment Abe C Ravitz parallels Hurst's growing acclaim with the evolution of silent films from which she borrowed ideas and techniques that furthered her career Ravitz notes that Hurst was amazingly adept at anticipating what the public wanted Sensing that the national interest was shifting from rural to urban subjects Hurst set her immigrant tales and her working girl tales in urban America In her early stories she tried to bridge the gap between Old World and New World citizens each somewhat fearful and suspicious of the other She wrote of love and ethnicity bringing the Jewish Mother to prominence of race relations and prejudice of the woman alone in her quest for selfhood Ravitz argues in fact that her socially oriented tales and her portraits of women in the city clearly identify her as a forerunner of contemporary feminism Ravitz brings to life the popular culture from 1910 through the 1920s tracing the meteoric rise of Hurst and depicting the colorful cast of characters surrounding her He reproduces for the first time the Hurst correspondence with Theodore Dreiser Charles and Kathleen Norris and Gertrude Atherton Fellow writers Rex Beach and Vachel Lindsay also play important roles in Ravitz's portrait of Hurst as does Zora Neale Hurston who awakened Hurst's interest in the Harlem Renaissance and in race relations as shown in Hurst's novel Imitation of Life Tales of a Cosmopolitan Renate Harder, 1988
