The Country Of Memory Remaking The Past In Late Socialist Vietnam:

The Country of Memory Hue-Tam Ho Tai, 2001-10 Hue Tam Ho Tai's masterful collection of essays that explore how the past is being remade in contemporary Vietnam constitutes a welcome addition to the study of the larger problem of engineering memory especially in political cultures where the identity of the nation state is in a considerable state of flux. This book also suggests that the commemorative fever that is sweeping Vietnam is about more than Vietnam's history. It also has a great deal to do with the problems premodern cultures presented to those who promoted the creation of contemporary states. In this regard both Vietnam and this book offer all scholars of nationalism and remembering in the West a fascinating perspective on their own nations. John Bodnar, Chancellors Professor of History at Indiana University from the Foreword.

The Country of Memory Hue-Tam Ho Tai, 2001 The Country of Memory Hue-Tam Ho Tai, 2001 The Country of Memory Hue-Tam Ho Tai, 2001. The American experience in the Vietnam War has been the subject of a vast body of scholarly work yet surprisingly little has been written about how the war is remembered by Vietnamese themselves. The Country of Memory fills this gap in the literature by addressing the subject of history, memory and commemoration of the Vietnam War in modern day Vietnam. After the Massacre Heonik Kwon, 2006-11-10. Though a generation has passed since the massacre of civilians at My Lai, the legacy of this tragedy continues to reverberate throughout Vietnam and the rest of the world. This engrossing study considers how Vietnamese villagers in My Lai and Ha My, a village where South Korean troops committed an equally appalling though less well known massacre of unarmed civilians, assimilate the catastrophe of these mass deaths into their everyday ritual life. Based on a detailed study of local history and moral practices, After the Massacre focuses on the particular context of domestic life in which the Vietnamese villagers interact with their ancestors on one hand and the ghosts of tragic death on the other. Heonik Kwon explains what intimate ritual actions can tell us about the history of mass violence and the global bipolar politics that caused it. He highlights the aesthetics of Vietnamese commemorative rituals and the morality of their practical actions to liberate the spirits from their grievous history of death. The author brings these important practices into a critical dialogue with dominant sociological theories of death and symbolic transformation.

Popular Music of Vietnam Dale A. Olsen, 2008-06-30. Based on the author's research in Ho Chi Minh City, Hanoi and other urban areas in Vietnam, this study of contemporary Vietnamese popular music explores the ways globalization and free market economics have influenced the music and subcultures of Vietnamese youth, focusing on the conflict between the politics of remembering nurtured by the Vietnamese Communist government and the politics of forgetting driven by the capitalist interests of the music industry. Vietnamese youth at the end of the second and beginning of the third millennium are influenced by the challenges generated by a number of seemingly opposite ideologies and realities such as the past versus the present, socialism versus capitalism and cultural traditionalism versus globalization. Vietnam has undergone a radical demographic shift with a very pronounced youth movement and consequently Vietnamese popular culture has been radically reshaped by a young population coming of age in the twenty first century As Olsen reveals the way Vietnamese young people cope with these opposing and contrasting forces is often expressed in their active and passive music making Engaging the Spirit World Kirsten W. Endres, Andrea Lauser, 2012-03-01 In many parts of the contemporary world spirit beliefs and practices have taken on a pivotal role in addressing the discontinuities and uncertainties of modern life The myriad ways in which devotees engage the spirit world show the tremendous creative potential of these practices and their innate adaptability to changing times and circumstances Through in depth anthropological case studies from Indonesia Malaysia Thailand Myanmar Laos and Vietnam the contributors to this book investigate the role and impact of different social political and economic dynamics in the reconfiguration of local spirit worlds in modern Southeast Asia Their findings contribute to the re enchantment debate by revealing that the spirited modernities that have emerged in the process not only embody a distinct feature of the contemporary moment but also invite a critical rethinking of the concept of modernity itself the existential issues of exile the idea of home the pain of marginality and racism the question of community formation within the US and the complexity of diasporic lives Subarno Chattarji raises critical questions such as who gets to speak and write and to what ends and purposes Who reads Vietnamese American writings and how can we account for these publications in the US over a period of time What can and cannot be written or spoken What is remembered and what is silenced What traumas and memories are articulated These questions point towards a larger context of diaspora studies as well as the rituals of cultural memory that complicate our understanding of the Vietnam War and its aftermaths
