Life and Work Church of Scotland, 1880 Social Exchange in Developing Relationships Robert L. Burgess, Ted L. Huston, 2013-09-11. Social Exchange in Developing Relationships is a collection of papers that deals with the systematic study of the development of relationships. The papers discuss several theoretical perspectives such as evolutionary theory, personality theory, cognitive developmental theory, equity theory, role theory, and attribution theory. One paper discusses romantic relationships, the evolution of first acquaintance to close or intimate commitment. Another paper presents the hypothesis that the factors causing a relationship to begin will also probably steer intermediate cognitive processes eventually influencing the nature of the relationship. Commitment requires specific concepts such as input levels contributed to the relationship, duration of these inputs, and their consistency of occurrence. The equity theory suggests that equity principles determine the selection of one's mate and how they, the partners, will get along in the future. One paper analyzes the dynamic theories of social relationships and the resulting research strategies that the conceptualization of a parameter of a social relationship can affect the choice of data collection techniques and other matters. Sociologists, psychologists, historians, students, and academicians doing sociological research can benefit greatly from this collection. Biology and Management of Bactrocera and Related Fruit Flies Anthony R. Clarke, 2019-07-12. Throughout Asia, Australia, and the Pacific, and increasingly in Africa, the primary horticultural insect pests are fruit flies belonging to the genera Bactrocera, Zeugodacus, and Dacus (Diptera: Tephritidae: Dacini). The Dacini is a hugely diverse clade of nearly 900 species endemic to the rainforests of Asia, Australia, and the western Pacific, and the savannas and woodlands of Africa. All these species lay their eggs into fleshy fruits and vegetables where the maggots feed, therefore destroying the fruit. In addition to being crop pests, dacines are also invasive pests of major quarantine importance, and their presence in production areas can significantly impact market access opportunities. This broad text provides a rapid introduction to this economically and ecologically important group, which includes species such as the Oriental fruit fly B. dorsalis, Melon fly Z. cucurbitae, Queensland fruit fly B. tryoni, and the Olive fly B. oleae. Broken into three primary sections, it first explores the evolutionary history, systematic relationships, taxonomy, and species-level diagnosis of the Dacini flies. The following biology section covers their life history, population demography, behaviour, and ecology, and natural enemies. The final section of the book covers the management of these flies, with chapters on pre-harvest, post-harvest, and regulatory controls. Each chapter concludes with a list of key monographs, papers, or book chapters for further reading. This book will be of interest to field entomologists, extension officers, quarantine officers and market access negotiators as well as students of applied entomology and pest management
