The Craft:

The Theology of Craft and the Craft of Work Jeremy Kidwell, 2016-06-03 An important reconceptualisation is taking place in the way people express creativity work together and engage in labour particularly suggests Kidwell a surprising resurgence in recent years of manual and craft work Noting the wide array of outlets that now market hand made goods and the array of popular books which advocate making as a basis for activism or personal improvement this book seeks to understand how the micro politics of craft work might offer insights for a broader theology of work Why does it matter that we do work which is meaningful excellent and beautiful Through a close reading of Christian scripture The Theology of Craft and the Craft of Work examines the theology and ethics of work in light of original biblical exegesis Kidwell presents a detailed exegetical study of temple construction accounts in the Hebrew bible and the New Testament Illuminating a theological account of craft and employing the ancient vision of good work which is preserved in these biblical texts Kidwell critically interrogates modern forms of industrial manufacture This includes a variety of contemporary work problems particularly the instrumentalisation and exploitation of the non human material world and the dehumanisation of workers Primary themes taken up in the book include agency aesthetics sociality skill and the material culture of work culminating with the conclusion that the church or new temple is both the product and the site of moral work Arguing that Christian worship provides a moral context for work this book also examines early Christian practices to suggest a theological reconceptualisation of work

The Craft of Sociology Pierre Bourdieu, Jean-Claude Chamboredon, Jean-Claude Passeron, 1991 The work of the French sociologist Pierre Bourdieu has emerged over the last two decades as one of the most substantial and innovative bodies of theory and research in contemporary social science The Craft of Sociology both a textbook and an original contribution to epistemology in social science focuses on a basic problem of sociological research the necessity of an epistemological break with the preconstructed objects social practice offers to the researcher Pierre Bourdieu and his co authors argue in the epistemological tradition of scholars like Bachelard Canguilhem Koyre a tradition that identifies the construction of the object as being the fundamental scientific act Their way of discussing the issue makes it accessible not only to academics and experts of epistemology but also to advanced students of social science using for illustration a wide range of texts from the various social sciences as well as from philosophy of science The book includes an interview with Pierre Bourdieu and an introduction by the editor to his sociological methodology

The Craft of Teaching in Public Affairs William Hatcher, Beth M. Rauhaus, Bruce D. McDonald III, 2024-10-25 This book explores the art and science of teaching in public affairs programs by asking top instructors to discuss their tools and tips for the trade Public affairs is a discipline that builds scholarly knowledge but also trains and educates public administrators to improve their careers organizations and communities Instructors in public affairs programs at the university level therefore play a vital role in safeguarding the governing capacity of public bureaucracies and nonprofits and it is crucial that their teaching is effective. Containing chapters written by award winning teachers grounded in first hand experience and supplemented with education research this book offers guidance to new and veteran instructors alike on what works and doesn't in public affairs classrooms. Topics covered include teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels, teaching nontraditional students, promoting inclusivity in the classroom, managing classrooms, teaching effectively online, and defining student success in the classroom among other themes. This book will be of keen interest to instructors currently teaching courses on public administration, public policy, and nonprofit management as well as PhD students looking to enhance their teaching skills. Humans, Animals, and the Craft of Slaughter in Archaeo-Historic Societies Krish Seetah, 2018-10-25. This book conceptualizes butchery as an expression of technological knowledge and culture embedded in action, defining the human-animal relationship. The Craft of the Japanese Sword Leon Kapp, Hiroko Kapp, Yoshindo Yoshihara, 1987. From raw steel to tempered blade, this text presents a visual account of the ancient craft of swordmaking as practiced in modern Japan. Well over a thousand years old, the tradition of swordmaking in Japan is one of the most highly regarded metal crafts in the world. When all sword manufacture was prohibited in Japan for seven years after World War II, the age-old techniques were in danger of being lost forever. Today, in the hands of a new generation of practitioners, the craft is making a startling comeback. Connoisseurs say that the swords being produced

The Craft of Political Research W. Phillips Shively, 2016-06-03. The Craft of Political Research immerses readers not only in how political scientists work but also in how ideas produce research questions and guide the selection of research methods. Emphasizing the internal logic of research methods and the collaborative nature of the research process, this slender text explores the design behind interesting questions, problems in measurement and analysis, and key statistical methods. Brief and inexpensive to include in any course, The Craft of Political Research's elegant explanations inspire a big picture understanding of how political scientists explain political reality and encourage students to create their own inventive, original, and bold research work. Features include: Focuses on the big picture of how good research leads to good theories instead of just what research method to use; Provides concise and accessible coverage of key topics including the nature of research, research design, sampling, statistical analysis, ethics, and more; Includes detailed examples of classic and contemporary political science research to give students models for their own original research. The Lost World of the Craft Printer Maggie Holtzberg, 1992. She finds that a significant number of printers independently developed similar responses to the deskilling of their craft and the threat of unemployment. Demonstrating a widespread consistency in themes and expressive forms in the printers' occupational narratives, Holtzberg shows that what once served as the printers' rhetoric of tradition is now their rhetoric of displacement. Initiation rites, long apprenticeships, a complex and peculiar jargon, and a gallery of legendary figures once bound hot metal printers into a specialized, highly regarded occupational folk community. The hot metal printers' lore has survived in an exemplary form that functions as a source of reconciliation with the demise of their craft Holtzberg Call analyzes how and why the printers traditionalize and idealize their work experience drawing parallels between the shift from mechanical to computer typesetting and an equally disconcerting transition in the nineteenth century when Linotype deposed handset type She also shares her knowledge of the many aspects of hot metal printing culture from the life of the tramp printer to the meanings of various printing terms to the operation of a Linotype machine One gains a sense of the conditions in the old type shops where long hours excessive heat and poorly ventilated fumes from solvent ink and molten lead were the crucible in which camaraderie pride and fulfillment were forged The Craft of Political Analysis for Diplomats Raymond F. Smith, 2011-10-01 Until the recent unauthorized release of thousands of classified State Department cables public attention was rarely drawn to the frequently outstanding political analysis done by American diplomats abroad The existing literature on diplomacy has heretofore been limited to memoirs of former diplomats and analyses of international affairs by diplomats academics and think tanks The Craft of Political Analysis offers a fresh approach one that provides a context for interpreting this embassy reporting and a guide to understanding the work that went on behind the scenes to produce it Author Raymond F Smith combines a practitioner s personal view of what is required to do good diplomatic political analysis with his understanding of the social conflict and change that informed his work for the State Department Smith clearly explains everything the Foreign Service candidate or professional as well as the interested layman needs to know about crafting political analysis including how to write for the analyst s intended audience how to make best use of the intellectual and analytical tools of the trade what happens when the analyst s views differ from government policy and why political analysis risks becoming irrelevant even though it is still urgently needed In addition The Craft of Political Analysis for Diplomats features two case studies using legally declassified cables not included in the Wikileaks release The first is built around four highly restricted Embassy Moscow cables on the collapse of the Soviet Union the second includes two cables on the Arab Israeli conflict that received the State Department s highest award for political analysis Selected for the Diplomats and Diplomacy Series of the Association for Diplomatic Studies and Training ADST and DACOR an organization of foreign affairs professionals The Craft and Cruelty of the Churches Adversaries, etc Matthew NEWCOMEN, 1643 Middle English Romance and the Craft of Memory Jamie McKinstry, 2015 An examination of the depiction and function of memory in a variety of romances including Troilus and Criseyde and Sir Gawain and the Green Knight David Jones and the Craft of Theology Elizabeth R Powell, 2020-10-01 This is an imaginative exploration of the art of David Jones which addresses Christian teaching through engagement with selected artistic works a poem a painted inscription and a wood engraving Elizabeth R Powell s study does not just enable readers to understand Jones but also to use his kind of loving attention in their own lives which Jones would argue is theology s most important task Through close readings of material objects Powell draws the reader into the participatory performative and dialogical possibilities of the craft of theology She frames an older style of theology in a distinctive and modern way as a graced human practice and a place of transforming relation with the divine Powell argues that Jones's art works offer places of beauty in which to become beauty along the way Located at the cross section of theology literature and the arts this volume shows that being interdisciplinary is nothing less than finding ways for theology and humanity to be more richly itself
