The Creation of the First Arthurian Romance Claude Luttrell, 1974 Paganism in Arthurian Romance John Darrah, 1997
His most original contribution to an unravelling of a pagan Arthurian past lies in his appropriation of the fascinating evidence of standing stones and pagan cultic sites The magical attributes of stones are exemplified in prehistoric standing stones the real counterparts of the perrons of the French romances This is dark and difficult territory but certain events in the Arthurian cycle which take place on and around Salisbury Plain have correspondences with known prehistoric events Building on these elusive clues and tracing a range of sites around the river Severn and south Wales John Darrah has added a significant new dimension to the search for the sources of England's great epic the legends of Arthur and his court Jacket The Complete Romances of Chrétien de Troyes David Staines, 1991-01-22 Eminently readable a translator who understands the spirit as well as the letter of the original and renders it with style Speculum This new translation brings to life for a new generation of readers the stories of King Arthur Lancelot Guinevere Gawain Perceval Yvain and the other knights and ladies of Chrétien de Troyes famous chivalric romances A pleasure to read Library Journal These are above all stories of courtly love and of knights tested in their devotion to chivalric ideals but they are also thrilling wonder stories of giants wild men tame lions razor sharp bridges and visits to the Other World Washington Post Book World This tastefully produced book will be the standard general translation for many years to come Choice Chretien is where the literary tradition of the Arthurian romance can be seen to begin His poems are the earliest we have that portray knights errant questing through dangerous forests to challenge unknown opponents and to learn the meaning of love Times Literary Supplement Lancelot, Or, The Knight of the Cart Chrétien de Troyes, 2011-03-15 In this verse translation of Chrétien de Troyes's Lancelot Ruth Harwood Cline revives the original story of the immortal love affair between Sir Lancelot and Queen Guinevere a tale that has spawned interpretations ranging from Malory's Le Morte d'Arthur to Lerner and Lowe's Camelot By remaining faithful to Chrétien's highly structured form Cline preserves the pace the pungency of proverbial expressions and the work's poetical devices and word play in translating this archetypal tale of courtly love from Old French into modern English Cline's introduction containing a description of Arthur in history and literature a discussion of courtly love and an account of the continuations of the story of Lancelot and Guinevere makes Lancelot an ideal classroom text The Medieval Gift and the Classical Tradition Lars Kjaer, Lars Kjær, 2019-08-29 Explores how classical ideals of generosity influenced the writing and practice of gift giving in medieval Europe Erec and Enide Chrétien de Troyes, 2019-12-16 Published in 1987 Erec and Enide the first of five surviving Arthurian romantic poems by a twelfth century French poet narrates a vivid chapter from the legend of King Arthur The Forest of Medieval Romance Corinne J. Saunders, 1993 Corinne J Saunders's exploration of the topos of the forest a familiar and ubiquitous motif in the literature of the middle ages is a broad study embracing a range of medieval and Elizabethan texts from the twelfth to the sixteenth centuries the roman d'antiquité Breton lay and courtly romance the hagiographical tradition of the Vita Merlini and the Queste del Saint Graal Spenser and Shakespeare Saunders identifies the forest as a primary romance landscape as a place of adventure love and spiritual vision offers a pleasurable overview of the narrative function of the forest as a literary landscape Based on a close comparative and theoretically non partisan reading of a broad range of literary texts drawn from the European canon Saunders's study explores the continuity and transformation of an important motif in the corpus of medieval literature MODERN LANGUAGE REVIEW Dr CORINNE SAUNDERS teaches in the Department of English at the University of Durham BLURB EXTRACTED FROM TLS REVIEW An immense tract not only of medieval literature but of human experience is engagingly introduced and presented here Corinne Saunders considers first forests in reality a reality which keeps breaking through in romance She looks also at the classical and biblical models including Virgil Statius and Nebuchadnezzar only then does she turn to the non real and non Classical i.e. the medieval and romantic Here she follows a clear chronological plan from twelfth to fifteenth centuries also covering the allegorized landscape of Spenser and the lovers woods of Arden or Athens in Shakespeare Her text by text layout does justice to the variety of possibilities taken up by different authors the forest as a place where men run mad and turn into animals a place of voluntary suffering a focus of significance in the Grail quests a lovers bower above all and centrally the place where the knight is tested and defined even as with Perceval created

Chivalry in Twelfth-century Germany W. H. Jackson,1994 Concerned principally to situate Hartmann s works in their social and cultural historical context Jackson's carefully constructed and lucidly written book will be required and compelling re-reading at every level of interest from undergraduate student to specialist scholar. It expounds knighthood as the major theme of Hartmann's varied oeuvre reflected and refracted through the prism of different genres, fictional material and narrative positions. Jackson's unrivalled grasp of the historical evidence for the material, social and ideological dimensions of chivalry in the twelfth century is brought to bear on the texts in a way which never reduces these to mere functions of an extra-literary reality but brings out the subtle and dynamic interplay of their aesthetic patterns and documentary correlatives. The book also builds up a persuasive framework for understanding Hartmann's literary production as a whole and for grasping it as an evolving reflection of and on knighthood as the key mode and model of social self-realisation for his chivalric audience.

FORUM FOR MODERN LANGUAGE STUDIES Hartmann von Aue is a major figure in medieval German literature and his works document key features of the history of chivalry in an important phase of transition and consolidation. This book is the first full-scale enquiry undertaken of the presentation of the role of knighthood across the full range of Hartmann's works considering the social, ideological and literary dimensions of chivalry and fruitfully combining literary, linguistic and historical approaches. The opening chapters place Hartmann's works in the broader perspective of Arthurian literature and of kingship and chivalry in western Europe and in the context of the changing historical reality of knighthood as a military and a social order in twelfth-century Germany. Further chapters are devoted to each of his works: Erec, Gregorius, the Klage and his lyrics Der arme Heinrich and Dwein, which are interpreted both with a historical Lancelot and Guinevere Lori J. Walters, 2015-12-03. Beginning with an introduction that examines the portrayal of the characters of Lancelot and Guinevere from their origins to the present day, this collection of 16 essays, five of which appear here for the first time, puts particular emphasis on the appearance of the two characters in medieval and modern literature. Besides several studies exploring feminist concerns, the volume features articles on the representation of the lovers in medieval manuscript illuminations. 18 plates focus on scenes of their first kiss and the consummation of the adultery in film and in other visual arts. A 200-item bibliography completes the volume.

A Preface to the 'Nibelungenlied', 1987-06. This book aims to make available the necessary background for an informed reading of the Nibelungenlied, the twelfth-century epic perhaps best known to non-Germans from Wagner's music dramas. Two traditions of scholarly thought exist about the Nibelungenlied. The first sees the poem as a development out of German heroic legend; the second focuses on the work's location in the contemporary literary context at the end of the twelfth century. The first and older school deals with the evolution of the story over time and the question of how short heroic poems attained epic compass in the later Nibelungenlied. The second seeks to interpret the poem in terms of the new emergence of Arthurian romance around 1200. The author attempts to bridge the gap between the two contending schools, suggesting that neither approach precludes the other. Although the Nibelungenlied poet drew the story itself from earlier heroic poems, the author makes clear that the poet absorbed impulses from other types of literature.

as well. The book is in three parts. Part I discusses literary antecedents tracing the development of German heroic poetry from the Migration Age on, then describing narrative practice in the twelfth century in historical and legendary epic on the one hand and romance on the other. Part II analyzes the Nibelungenlied in its immediate literary context, addressing possible sources and narrative innovations. The author relates the story of the poem to the immediate antecedent versions of the legend that are now preserved only in the Norse Thidrek's Saga, surveys recent general interpretations, and suggests a literary-historical analysis that can plot the Nibelungenlied more accurately on the literary map of the twelfth century. Part III comprises previously untranslated texts and summaries of source materials bearing on the Nibelungenlied.
