

Murder Murder

Lightning flashed and thunder boomed as the wealthiest man in Robertson, TX was chased down the street by a dark figure. The entity was wearing a black leather jacket and holding a gun. The wealthy man fell down to the ground exhausted, but he gave on until he reached a dead end. That's when the unidentified person caught up to him, pointed the gun, and pulled the trigger. The dark figure stole the man's bank card, fled the murder scene, but dragged his jacket on a nearby fence. The entity left the torn patch there, as well as the wealthy man dead in the rain.

Aug. 11, Friday, 7 a.m.

Detectives Bobby Gonzalez and Freddie Obregon made their way to the crime scene. Once there, they began taking samples for evidence. The body was identified as Abraham Flores of the Flores family. They had a bank account bigger than Robertson, TX itself. "Hey, look at that!" Gonzalez said to Obregon while pointing to a leather patch hanging on a fence. "Whoever left this must have been the killer. Let's go question the suspects," Obregon stated. "Who are they again?" Gonzalez asked. "John Moseley Venecia Ramon, and Chris Worthington," Obregon replied. "Let's get to it," added Gonzalez.

The first suspect the detectives questioned was John Moseley and they noticed that he was wearing a jacket with a hole in it. "Where were you when Flores was being murdered?" Obregon asked. "I was looking my business for the day when I saw a dark shadowed figure run past me. It pushed me out of the way and I fell back. I started to chase it until I heard gunshot sounds. I stopped out of fear, and the figure ran past me in the opposite direction. Then, I saw it tear a part of its jacket on the fence of a nearby house. That's when I noticed that the figure was leaving. That's about it," Moseley concluded.

Venecia Ramon was the next suspect the detectives questioned. She appeared to be in her mid-30s and seemed to act very suspicious. Ramon had a cheerful disposition until Flores was murdered; then she got very quiet. The detectives started to question her about the murder. "What did you see at that time?" they asked. Ramon replied, "It was pitch black, and I couldn't see anything at all. I heard one gunshot in an alley close by and I called out to see if anyone was okay, but no one answered. I then heard footsteps, saw a dark figure, and chased after it. I kept on for about five minutes until I tripped over a garbage can. The figure was gone when I got back on my feet." The detectives exchanged quick glances and then looked back at Ramon. "Thanks," they said.

Suspect Chris Worthington was the most nervous of all. He kept shaking as he was questioned. He appeared to be in his early 60s. "I saw a person that was all dressed in black clothing. He was running like he was very hurt in the leg, and he had a gun in his hand. He ran into another alley where I lost sight of him," Worthington stated. "Now, if we're done here", Worthington asked as he stood up to walk away.

World History and the Mysteries Rudolf Steiner,2021-05-17 In this landmark series of lectures Rudolf Steiner challenges the notion that human consciousness has in essence remained the same throughout history On the contrary we can only see the past in its true light when we study the differences in human souls during the various historical eras Consciousness he says evolves constantly and we can only comprehend the present by understanding its origin in the past Delivered in the evenings during the course of the mystery act of the Christmas Foundation Meeting when Rudolf Steiner not only re founded the Anthroposophical Society but for the first time took a formal role within it these lectures study world history in parallel with the ancient mysteries of initiation showing how they are intimately linked Steiner describes consciousness in the ancient East and follows the initiation principle from Babylonia to Greece up to its influences in present day spiritual life He also discusses Gilgamesh and Eabani the mysteries of Ephesus and Hibernia and the occult relationship between the destruction by fire of the Temple of Artemis and the burning of the first Goetheanum in Dornach Switzerland Published for the first time with colour plates of Steiner s blackboard drawings the freshly revised text is complemented with an introduction notes and appendices by Professor Frederick Amrine and an index

In Face of Reality Thomas A. James,2011-04-01 This study of the work of noted liberal theologian Gordon Kaufman tracks his career from his first published book Relativism Knowledge and Faith

1960 through his 2006 book Jesus and Creativity in light of recent conversations about divine action and modern scientific knowledge James interprets Kaufman's mature position as a sophisticated reconstruction of divine activity that makes use of recent scientific theory and its naturalistic assumptions in order to revitalize a theocentric frame of reference rooted in classical theological tradition Though there are costs to be paid in the construction of a theology of radical naturalism particularly with respect to the relation between divine action and the human good Kaufman's program offers a distinctive way forward After developing a critical analysis of the limitations and possibilities of Kaufman's mature position James suggests that a christological reconsideration of the meaning of human flourishing offers the prospect of an even more radically naturalistic and theocentric theology Advanced Hypnotism Marianne Pilgrim Calabrese, Rachel Copelan, 2001 You'll learn hundreds of techniques to enhance life from womb to tomb from painless birth to peaceful death Freedom and History H. D. Lewis, 2021-10-29 First published in 1962 Freedom and History expresses a deep concern about freedom and the way it is imperilled by misunderstandings The cause of freedom has not always been well served by its friends by presenting one-sided ideas of freedom they have often paved the way for extreme forms of collectivism and despotism Professor Lewis examines works of T. H. Green and compares Green with Locke and Rousseau to show how much the attitude of Green and other idealists to questions of education the family punishment slavery and war was affected by the individualism that underlay their thought and the failure to pay due heed to the facts of moral perplexity This in turn is seen to owe much to the optimism of late nineteenth century thinkers and the belief in inevitable progress The volume also discusses the nature of history objectivity in history religion and history and law and morality Author subjects the works of writers like Reinhold Niebuhr Barbara Wootton Ian Ramsey Leonard Hodgson to close critical examination and presents his own ideas about the relation of theology to historical fact This book will be an essential read for scholars and researchers of political philosophy religion theology ethics moral philosophy and philosophy in general The Divine Mystery Allen Upward, 1915 Religion within the Limits of History Alone Demian Wheeler, 2020-09-01 Among the greatest challenges facing religious thinkers today is that created by historicism the notion that human beings and their myriad understandings of reality are utterly historical conditioned by contingent circumstances and tied to particular contexts In this book Demian Wheeler confronts the historicist challenge by delineating and defending a particular trajectory of historicist thought known as pragmatic historicism Rooted in the German Enlightenment and fully developed within the early Chicago school of theology pragmatic historicism is a predominantly American tradition that was philosophically nurtured by classical pragmatism and its intellectual siblings naturalism and radical empiricism Religion within the Limits of History Alone not only undertakes a detailed genealogy of this pragmatic historicist lineage but also sets forth a constructive program for contemporary theology by charting a path for its future development Wheeler shows that pragmatic historicism is an underdeveloped resource for contemporary theology since it offers a model for normative religious thought that is theologically compelling yet wholly nonsupernaturalistic deeply pluralistic unflinchingly liberal and radically historicist
