In the background, there is a large potted plant with long green leaves and a woven basket with a geometric pattern. masters Thomas Aquinas and Meister Eckhart considered problems inherent to speaking of God exploring how religious language might compromise God's transcendence or God's immanence ultimately hindering believers in their journey of faith seeking understanding Going beyond ordinary readings of Aquinas and building a foundation for further insights into the works of both theologians this book draws out the implications of the thought of Eckhart and Aquinas for contemporary issues including ecumenical and inter religious dialogue liturgy and prayer and religious inclusivity Reading Aquinas and Eckhart in light of each other reveals the profound depth and orthodoxy of both of these scholars and provides a novel approach to many theological and practical religious issues As It Is Written and Intended Jason N. Yuh, 2025-09-29

How someone sees Scripture directly correlates with how one sees life If Jesus Christ is seen organically and meaningfully in every part of Scripture then he will be seen that way in every aspect of life As lofty as that might sound the inverse is also true if it is a struggle to see Christ organically and meaningfully in various parts of Scripture then it will be a struggle to see him that way in various aspects of life The purpose of this book is to help readers engage in God's word so that Christ is beheld in every part of both Scripture and life by offering an approach to Scripture that is from Scripture itself Thus the heart of this approach is to engage in God's word as he himself intends As a result readers will see that all of Scripture is grounded saturated and culminating in Christ alone and in turn that all of life is grounded saturated and culminating in Christ alone Reconsidering Creation Ex Nihilo in Genesis 1 Nathan J. Chambers, 2020-11-15

There is a broad consensus among biblical scholars that creation ex nihilo from nothing is a late Hellenistic concept with little inherent connection to Genesis 1 and other biblical creation texts In this book Nathan J Chambers forces us to reconsider the question arguing in favor of reading this chapter of the Bible in terms of ex nihilo creation and demonstrating that there is a sound basis for the early Christian development of the doctrine Drawing on the theology of Augustine of Hippo and Thomas Aquinas Chambers considers what the ex nihilo doctrine means and does in classical Christian dogma He examines ancient Near Eastern cosmological texts that provide a potential context for reading Genesis 1 Recognizing the distance between the possible historical and theological frameworks for interpreting the text he illuminates how this doctrine developed within early Christian thought as a consequence of the church's commitment to reading Genesis 1 as part of Christian Scripture Through original close readings of the chapter that engage critically with the work of Jon Levenson Hermann Gunkel and Brevard Childs Chambers demonstrates that far from precluding interpretive possibilities reading Genesis 1 in terms of creation from nothing opens up a variety of interpretive avenues that have largely been overlooked in contemporary biblical scholarship Timely and innovative this book makes the case for a new or recovered framework for reading Genesis 1 that will appeal to biblical studies scholars and seminarians Proceedings of the Aristotelian Society for the Systematic Study of

Philosophy Aristotelian Society (Great Britain), 1928 List of members in each volume The Implicit Theology of the Lord's Prayer Jan Muis, 2021-01-15 The postmodern and secular culture of the West requires a new reflection on God The

Implicit Theology of the Lord's Prayer A Biblical and Theological Investigation reflects on God on the basis of an original and central expression of the Christian faith the Lord's Prayer First Jan Muis interprets the divine names central to this prayer in their biblical contexts Next Muis understands the divine attributes implied by these names from the biblical narrative of God's self-revealing actions and explains them in a contemporary framework God's Name indicates his particular personal presence and encounter with human beings The holiness of God's Name and the justice of his Kingship are more than just aspects of the love of the Father the Son and the Spirit The Creator is not a human blown large in his companionship with humans he remains the Exalted who lives both within and beyond created temporal reality In the context of a secular age Muis discusses in what sense this God exists Plundering Egypt G P Wagenfuhr, 2017-01-26 Christian engagement with economics tends to baptize pre-existing sociopolitical perspectives thereby assuming a predetermined metaphysical narrative What happens when the story of the development of economics told from an anthropological and sociological perspective is juxtaposed with a biblical theology that focuses primarily on relationships Wagenfuhr tests a theological method grounded in three kinds of relationships Creator-creature estrangement and Reconciler reconciled by comparing these with a fourth relationship the economic He argues that economic relationships and the worlds they create throughout history are the fruit of relationships estranged from God Much theology has committed itself to a metaphysic rooted in the reality of economics and has told a metaphysical story that tends to legitimize current sociopolitical realities Wagenfuhr argues that reconciliation with God is entirely subversive to economic relationships No economic relationship or system is established or justified by God but neither does he reject them Instead the love of God in Christ speaks the economic language of a people with a critical edge leading to loving subversion of any and all economic relationships This book argues for a robust theology that offers the post-Christendom church a renewed sense of the total scale of God's mission of reconciliation
