Zink,1959 Guide to American Literature and Its Backgrounds Since 1890 Howard Mumford Jones,1959 Sexualizing Power in Naturalism Irene Gammel,1994 Presenting a revisionary reading of German Canadian and American texts such as Fanny Essler Settlers of the Marsh and Sister Carrie Gammel English U of Prince Edward Island attributes to naturalism a predominantly male genre the appropriation of a disruptive female sexuality not so much to liberate it from Victorian repression as to contain it within the male boundaries of naturalism Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Just what War is Michael W. Schaefer,1997 A stimulating study of two of the finest soldier authors in American literature Just What War Is explores the Civil War writings of John William De Forest and Ambrose Bierce Michael W Schaefer argues that among the many Civil War veterans who wrote memoirs novels and stories based on their own experiences in combat De Forest and Bierce stand alone in their efforts to create an unromanticized portrayal of war in literature While exploring issues of literary realism in general Schaefer examines the struggle of these two major writers to represent the moral and human dimensions of combat De Forest and Bierce who both served as Union officers wanted to correct mistaken ideas about war that they believed had been propagated by journalists fiction writers and historians Writing from the vantage point of soldiers directly involved in battle they developed a more accurately descriptive and realistic form of combat discourse in their memoirs and fiction Drawing on numerous histories and psychological profiles of men in combat Schaefer s close readings of De Forest and Bierce confirm the validity of these writers versions of literary realism Schaefer shows De Forest and Bierce moving beyond mere accuracy of detail to infuse their depictions of combat with their own visions of what it means to fight under fire Their differences Schaefer points out emerge largely in their attitudes toward using other writers texts as guides both during battle and in later writing about it For his part De Forest believed that history properly used enabled the soldier writer to assimilate his experiences in a rational way Thus he often portrayed characters who survive the stresses of combat by conducting themselves in accordance with what history had taught them about correct battlefield behavior Bierce in contrast saw combat as an inherently irrational state and any attempt to rationalize it a lie Eschewing stylistic borrowings from other war writers Bierce favored protagonists whose destruction results from their efforts drawn from their concepts of history to impose a rational understanding on their experiences In its insightful discussion of how the Civil War changed the manner in which wars were described in literature Just What War Is will broaden critical appreciation of both the place of war literature and the figure of the soldier writer in American literary history Predicting the Past Michael Boyden,2009 Drawing from the social theories of Niklas Luhmann and Mary Douglas Predicting the Past advocates a reflexive understanding of the paradoxical institutional dynamic of American literary history as a professional discipline and field of study Contrary to most disciplinary accounts Michael Boyden resists the utopian impulse to offer supposedly definitive solutions for the legitimization crises besetting American literature studies by going beyond its inherited racist classist and sexist underpinnings Approaching the existence of the American literary tradition as a typically modern problem generating diverse but functionally equivalent solutions Boyden argues how its peculiarity does not as is often supposed reside in its restrictive exclusivity but rather in its massive inclusivity which drives it to constantly revert to a self negating beyond perspective Predicting the Past covers a broad range of literary histories and reference works from Rufus Griswold's 1847 Prose Writers of America to Sacvan Bercovitch's monumental Cambridge History of American Literature Throughout Boyden focuses on particular themes and topics illustrating the self induced complexity of American literary history such as the early Anglocentric roots theories of American literature the debate on contemporary authors in the age of naturalism the plurilingual ethnocentrism of the pioneer Americanists of the mid twentieth century and the genealogical misrepresentation of founding figures such as Jonathan Edwards Emily Dickinson and Robert Lowell
