The Corner Shop:

Jason and the Cornershop Mystery Violetta Antcliff, 2019-10-05 The abrasive love hate between siblings eventually leads to trouble when Jason and his friend Wayne go to the rescue of the owner of the corner shop Unable to convince relatives and friends that Mr Kashmir Singh is in danger they decide to take things into their own hands The result is a hair raising chase round a deserted airfield in a stolen co op hearse before the kidnap plot is foiled The Dialectics of Shopping Daniel Miller, 2001-03 This text explores the many contradictions faced by shoppers on a typical London street and in the process offers a sophisticated examination of the way we shop and what it reveals about our relationships to our families and communities as well as to the environment and the economy as a whole Working Class Credit and Community since 1918 A. Taylor, 2002-11-26 This book explores the forms of credit which have historically been associated with the British working class Taylor seeks to assess the effect of credit on working class communities and relates this to the debate about community This work is the first comprehensive examination of the history of these forms of credit to make comparisons between the periods before and after 1945 Based on extensive archival research and oral history interviews this book combines lively individual accounts with theoretical arguments Breaking News Fred Thirkell, Bob Scullion, George Alfred Barrowclough, 2004 Winner of a City of Vancouver Heritage Award 2005 Before the First World War photographs of major news events were rarely seen in the daily newspapers the technology was still too new to make their use viable Filling the gap and providing the missing images were the postcard photographers who could make their breaking news photos available on the street the day after an event occurred George Alfred Barrowclough was one of those photographers Barrowclough had the eye of an artist and the nose of a newsman His images of Vancouver and the surrounding areas stand out over those of other postcard photographers of his day in that they are more people centred and action oriented capturing the lives and appearances of the people living in and around Vancouver in the decade before the Great War Drawing from postcards that Barrowclough produced between 1908 and 1912 award winning authors Fred Thirkell and Bob Scullion have selected images for Breaking News that showcase the photographer s focus on people and events In Vancouver in those years you looked to newspapers for words you looked to Barrowclough for news This is Fred Thirkell and Bob Scullion s sixth book in the postcard genre Several of their earlier books have also won City of Vancouver Heritage awards The Gold of the Sunbeams and Other Stories Tito Rajarshi Mukhopadhyay, 2005 Two miracles underlie this work the author s age he is seventeen years old and the fact that he is severely autistic Both aspects enrich the substance of his narrative This talented young writer defying the general perception that autistic people imprisoned within themselves are unable to communicate with the outside world has been writing stories of poetic prose and literary eloquence since before he was eight Tito s stories range from beautiful to funny and touching In the title story the young protagonist whose father has been imprisoned for gambling in the park must assume overnight the mantle of responsibility for his family which he does with great heroism until that authority has to be returned to his father and new problems begin In The Showers when a cyclone wreaks devastation in rural India Tito imagines the survivor s plight from the sorrow of losing their homes to the politics of rebuilding their lives In Broken Mirror we learn the history of a room from a broken mirror that hangs on the wall and which Tito imbues with emotions and memories In Grey Apple Green and White he gives life and character to colors the way the French symbolist poet Rimbaud gave colors to vowels The stories connect through a rich and complex imagery of smiles dust motes and margossa trees

BOOK JACKET The Spaces of Bookselling Kristen Doyle Highland,2023-03-09 The spaces of bookselling have as many stories to tell as do the books for sale More than static backgrounds for bookselling these dynamic spaces both shape individual and collective behaviors and perceptions and are shaped by the values and practices of booksellers and book buyers This Element focuses primarily on bookselling in the United States from the 19th through the 21st centuries and examines three key bookselling spaces the store the street and the catalogue Following an introduction the second section considers how the material space of bookstores shapes social engagement in and cultural values associated with the bookstore The third section turns to itinerant and sidewalk booksellers and the ways in which they use the physical social and legal space of the street to craft geographies of belonging And the final section pages through bookseller catalogues examining them as a significant genre that works to spatialize the bookstore

Underivative Duty Thomas Hurka,2011-02-17 These ten new essays by leading contemporary philosophers constitute the first collective study of a group of British moral philosophers active between the 1870s and 1950s including Henry Sidgwick Hastings Rashdall G E Moore H A Prichard W D Ross and A C Ewing The essays help recover the history of this neglected period they treat it as a unity draw out the connections between the thinkers engage philosophically with their ideas and in so doing show how much they can contribute to present day philosophical debates

Living Under Contract Peter D. Little,Michael Watts,1994 Wracked by poverty famine and drought Africa is typically represented as agriculturally stagnant backward and crisis prone Living Under Contract however highlights the dynamic changing character of sub Saharan agrarian systems by focusing on contract farming A relatively new and increasingly widespread way of organizing peasant agriculture contract farming promotes production of a wide variety of crops from flowers to cocoa from fresh vegetables to rice under contract to agribusinesses exporters and processors The proliferation of African growers producing under contract is in fact part of broader changes in the global agro food system In this examination of agricultural restructuring and its effect upon various African societies editors Peter Little and Michael Watts bring together anthropologists economists geographers political scientists and sociologists to explore the origins forms and consequences of contract production in several African countries particularly Kenya the Gambia Zimbabwe and the Ivory Coast Documenting how contract production links farmers agribusiness and the state the contributors examine problematic aspects of this method of agrarian reform Their case studies based on long term field work and analysis on the village and household level chart the complex effects of contract production on the organization of work and the labor process rural inequality gender relations labor markets local accumulation strategies and regional development Living Under Contract reveals that contract farming represents a distinctive form in which African growers are incorporated into national and world markets Contract production which has been a central feature of the agricultural landscape in the advanced capitalist states is an emerging strategy for capturing peasants and for confronting the agrarian question in the late twentieth century

Migration, Family and the Welfare State Karen Fog Olwig,Birgitte Romme Larsen,Mikkel Rytter,2013-09-13 Migration Family and the Welfare State explores understandings and practices of integration in the Scandinavian welfare societies of Denmark Norway and Sweden through a comprehensive range of detailed ethnographic studies Chapters examine discourses policies and programs of integration in the three receiving societies studying how these are experienced by migrant and refugee families as they seek to realize the hopes and ambitions for a better life that led them to leave their country of origin The three Scandinavian countries have had parallel histories as welfare societies receiving increasing numbers of migrants and refugees after World War II and yet they have reacted in dissimilar ways to the presence of foreigners with Denmark developing tough immigration policies and nationalist integration requirements Sweden asserting itself as a relatively open country with an official multicultural policy and Norway taking a middle position The book analyses the impact of these differences and similarities on immigrants refugees and their descendants across three intersecting themes integration as a welfare state project integration as political discourse and practice and integration as immigrants and refugees quest for improvement and belonging This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies

Design for Services Dr Anna Meroni,Dr Daniela Sangiorgi,2012-09-28 In Design for Services Anna Meroni and Daniela Sangiorgi articulate what Design is doing and can do for services and how this connects to existing fields of knowledge and practice Designers previously saw their task as the conceptualisation development and production of tangible objects In the twenty first century a designer rarely designs something but rather designs for something in the case of this publication for change better experiences and better services The authors reflect on this recent transformation in the practice role and skills of designers by organising their book into three main sections The first section links Design for Services to existing models and studies on services and service innovation Section two presents multiple service design projects to illustrate and clarify the issues practices and theories that characterise the discipline today using these case studies the authors propose a conceptual framework that maps and describes the role of designers in the service economy The final section projects the discipline into the emerging paradigms of a new economy to initiate a reflection on its future development

The Year of Miracles Ella Risbridger,2022-05-26 SHORTLISTED FOR THE 2023 ANDRE SIMON BEST COOKBOOK AWARD _____ Ella Risbridger has a comforting talent for delivering deliciousness in a way that seems like an act of compassion NIGELLA

LAWSON An extraordinary heartwarming book with gorgeous recipes I loved it NIGEL SLATER _____ This cookbook is about a year in the kitchen A year of grief and hope and change of fancy fish pie cardamom cinnamon chicken rice chimichurri courgettes quadruple carb soup blackberry miso birthday cake and sticky toffee Guinness brownie pudding A year of loss and every kind of romance and fried jam sandwiches A year of seedlings and pancakes A year of falling in love A year of recipes A year in other words of minor miracles The Year of Miracles by bestselling author Ella Risbridger is more than just a cookbook like her award winning Midnight Chicken every page is a transporting blend of recipes and life story This is about what happens when you've lived through the worst thing you could have imagined and how you can still cook and eat and love _____ Love sorrow grief and how cooking can get you through Ella Risbridger has such a sincere and distinctive voice A book full of wisdom DIANA HENRY Gut wrenching and beautiful VOGUE Both a beautiful memoir and a hugely comforting cookbook MARIAN KEYES Sickert Wendy Baron, Walter Sickert, 2006-01-01 Walter Richard Sickert 1860 1942 was an artist of prodigious creativity For sixty years in his roles as painter teacher and polemicist he was a source of inspiration and influence to successive generations of British painters With his roots in the Victorian era Sickert broke all taboos He was uncompromisingly truthful revealing beauty in the squalid as in the sublime in cockney music halls the crumbling streets of Dieppe the grand sites of Venice and the low life of Camden Town Decades before Warhol he exploited the potential of photo based imagery and of studio production lines to create iconic portraits of the grandees of theatrical social and political life This catalogue is divided into two parts essay chapters describe Sickert's chronology in terms of stylistic and technical development and a fully illustrated catalogue presents more than 2800 drawings and paintings many of which have never been published before Back to the Shops Rachel Bowlby, 2022-02-24 What will become of the shops More than ever the high street appears to be under mortal threat its shops boarded up as the sad bricks and mortar survivals of a pre online retail world But behind the bleak appearance there is more to see Back to the Shops offers a set of short and surprising chapters each one a window into a different shop type or mode of selling Old shopping streets are seen from new angles fast fashion shows up in eighteenth century edits Here are pedlars and pop ups mail order catalogues and mobile greengrocers shops Here too are food markets open till late on a Saturday night and tiny subscription libraries tucked away at the back of the sweet shop Over time shops have occupied radically different places in cultural arguments and in our everyday lives They are essential sources of daily provisions but they are also the visible evidence of consuming excess They are local community hubs and they are dreamlands of distraction Shops are inherently spaces of imagination as well as of practicality They belong with their own surrounding streets and town they bring back the times and places of our lives They linger in stories of all kinds whether far fetched or round the corner From butcher to baker and from markets to motor vans after reading this book you will want to go back to the shops Reclaiming Cities as Spaces of Middle Class Parenthood Johanna Lilius, 2018-09-12 For nearly a century families have been out migrating to suburbs and peri urban areas In this book

Johanna Lilius conceptualizes the relatively recent phenomenon of families choosing to live in the inner city Drawing on a range of qualitative data the book offers a holistic approach to simultaneously understanding changes within parenting practices and changes connected to city development The book explains not only why families choose to stay in the inner city and how they use the city in their everyday lives but also how families change the landscape of contemporary cities and how the family is and has been perceived in urban planning and policy making The Nordic perspective provided by Lilius makes this book an important contribution in helping understand inner city change outside the Anglo American context and will appeal to an international audience
