The Costs Of Economic Liberalization In Turkey

David Waldner

The Costs Of Economic Liberalization In Turkey:

The Costs of Economic Liberalization in Turkey Mehmet Odekon, 2005 This book's main theme is that the neoliberal economic policies forced on developing countries by the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank serve the interests of Western industrial countries more than those of developing countries as the post 1980 Turkish experience illustrates. Within a simple dependency oriented framework the book presents the effects of liberalization policies in Turkey. These policies were mostly concerned with allocative efficiency disregarding distributional efficiency issues. The results were not always socially or politically desirable. These policies consistently favored capital over labor and created an economic system that made the rich richer and the poor poorer. Privatization in the name of raising allocative efficiency contributed to increasing inequality and poverty. Anti inflationary policies, debt reduction schemes, environmental policies and agricultural reforms all favored the interests of high income groups transferring surplus from the national metropolis to the international metropolis or by restructuring the developing countries' output, input and financial markets so that any exchange between developing and industrial countries would.

Economic Liberalization and Turkey Sübidey Togan, 2010-04-05 The liberalization of the Turkish economy is a key factor affecting Turkey's application to join the European Union. This book examines the impact of economic liberalization in Turkey and Turkey's approach to the elimination of barriers to trade. It focuses on the liberalization of trade in Turkey's agricultural and industrial commodities sector and key services such as telecommunications, electricity, natural gas, banking and transport. The chapters include thorough discussions on WTO and EU approaches for the elimination of barriers to trade, international and EU rules and regulations in the various service sectors and the methods for estimating the tariff equivalents of barriers to trade in the different service sectors as well as methods for estimating the benefits of liberalization of services for Turkey. The experience of Turkey, its approach to liberalization and its measures to eliminate barriers to trade serve as a useful model for other neighboring countries of the European Union.

Dangers in the Incommensurability of Globalization Gary Backhaus, John Murungi, 2009-03-26 The thesis of incommensurability concerns the interrelation between subjective culture and objective culture through which the constitutive agency of chaos/incommensurability emerges. The objectifications/products of the constituents of objective culture carry their own Being and this Being transcends the original subjective expressivities/intentions. The constitutive agency of this incommensurable interrelation becomes apparent in an age of globalization where its effects become global, bringing about dangerous socio-political volatilities. To illustrate, global warming has been neither the expressive intention of subjective culture nor a constituent of energy per se as an objectivated product in the context of objective culture. It emerges in the interrelation as an unforeseen incommensurability, a chaos in the culture of energy that threatens the globe/world in various ways. Incommensurability, the cultural form of chaos, is recognized as dramatically foiling human instrumental rationality, spoiling its hubris or belief in its own progress. The doctrine of incommensurability shows that we can not know what we are doing while we are doing it for the empirical manifestations of chaos are only knowable after the fact and its effects are unpredictable This book of essays is divided into two parts the first dealing with contemporary themes in subjective culture and the second with those in objective culture A few of the pressing topics treated in this volume are abstracted information of a computer based society versus locally based grounded knowledge abstracted neo liberal economics versus place grounded economics the geo politics of peak oil and the intensification of natural disasters as a consequence of global warming reveal the tenuous character of the contemporary world Historical Dictionary of Turkey Metin Heper,Nur Bilge Criss,2009-01-21 Turkey is both an old and a new country While the Turks have been living in Anatolia for the last millennium the country has gone through extensive Westernization since the end of the 18th century However in the case of Turkey tradition has not arrested modernization rather the traditional has adapted itself to the modern The revival of Islam and the emergence of certain ethnic identities during the recent decades have not led to the reversal of progress in the economy and democracy There is a thriving private sector and the economy continues to grow At the turn of the 21st century Turkey is the only Muslim country with a democratic political system Although Turkey belongs to both the West and the East its Western credentials are more marked It is a member of the Council of Europe North Atlantic Treaty Organization NATO and Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development OECD and it is presently carrying out negotiations with the European Union EU for accession to that Union as a full member The third edition of the Historical Dictionary of Turkey explores the history of this fascinating country through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on important persons places events and institutions as well as on significant political economic social and cultural aspects The Economy of Turkey since Liberalization V. Balasubramanyam,S. Togan,2016-07-27 Many developing countries have embarked on liberalisation programmes in recent years One such programme which has attracted wide attention and posed a number of analytical issues is that undertaken by Turkey during the 1980s The nine essays in this volume provide an analytical review of recent developments in relation to Turkey s economic transactions The primary focus of most of the essays is on the impact of trade and investment liberalization policies of Turkey on Turkey s foreign trade and growth A feature of the book is the in depth empirical analysis of the issues grounded in recent trade and investment theories Financial reforms, stabilization and development in 21st-century Turkey Haluk Haksal,2019-03-28 The central argument of this book is that while central bank independence can contribute to stabilization inflation targeting monetary policy is quite powerless in promoting economic development The basic message is simple Policy makers should not strive to achieve price stability at any cost as stability in product markets does not necessarily translate into economic development The recent experience of Turkey is illuminating and other developing countries in particular those using inflation targeting monetary policy framework can draw useful lessons from this experience Early chapters summarize the deregulation process from 1980 to 2001 The Turkish Central Bank is placed at the center of the analysis as monetary policies have a significant impact both on stability and development Although the 1994 and 2001 financial crises have been extensively studied elsewhere they are nevertheless summarized to underscore the importance of central bank independence Later chapters investigate the impact of an independent central bank on stabilization and development from 2001 onwards Upon visiting the Turkish Central Bank's website readers are greeted with the following statement The primary objective of the Bank is to achieve and maintain price stability By the end of this book the reader should be able to assess the relative merits of a monetary policy that focuses on price stability versus an alternative where price stability is accompanied by other objectives targeting development for instance monitoring also unemployment rates which would undermine its independence to some degree The study aims to provide a perspective on the need for such an alternative in line also with the vision of some international agencies on development such as the UNCTAD and the ILO This is the first book length study examining the financial reforms Turkey undertook in its path towards EU accession This unique work will be of interest to economists and other experts in financial history de regulation institutional economics and economic development as well as a broad range of scholars interested in the dramatic transformation of Turkey's economy and society in the 21st century Gold and the Modern World Economy Moon Joong Tcha, 2005-08-16 Respected international experts such as Michael Bordo Larry Sjaastad and Ken Clements are brought together in a wonderfully well researched new book on this most important of topics This comprehensive well written book provides all you need to know about Gold and the Modern World Economy Turkey Bernard M. Hoekman, Subidey Togan, 2005-06-20 What requirements must Turkey the largest country among the candidate and accession countries meet to join the European Union What progress has been made toward meeting them This timely volume analyzes the economic challenges confronting Turkey in its quest to accede to the European Union EU It focuses on the extent to which Turkey is ready to join the Single Market comply with the EU's body of economic regulations and directives the Acquis Communautaire and meet the Maastricht criteria for fiscal monetary and exchange rate policies This book also provides an assessment of Turkey's national program to meet the accession requirements It describes briefly what Turkey needs to achieve on the economic policy front to satisfy the conditions for accession the progress to date and the likely consequences of implementing the full body of EU requirements The book is divided into four parts An analysis of the macroeconomic policies for EU accession An analysis of the effects of integration on key sectors agriculture manufacturing services industries including banking telecommunications transportation and natural gas and network industries An exploration of key economic policy challenges including labor market regulation foreign direct investment challenges and the costs and benefits of meeting the EU environmental Acquis The quantification of the impact of EU accession and consideration of the welfare effects of integration While the focus is on the specific situation of Turkey the subject will be of value to all researchers with an interest in the challenges of deeper integration through regional agreements The Liberalization of Transportation

Services in the EU and Turkey Sübidey Togan, 2016-06-17 Transport costs have been and still are an important component of trade costs which are one of the major determinants of the volume of trade and thus of gross domestic product GDP and GDP growth Studies show that two of the main determinants of transport costs are regulatory frameworks in transport sectors and transport infrastructure The productivity and competitiveness of goods and services firms depends largely on access to low cost and high quality transport services and those services have a powerful influence on economic growth Countries commit themselves to increasing the efficiency of transport services which can largely be achieved through increased competition and hence through liberalization of transport sectors Since barriers to trade in transport services are typically regulatory in nature this book provides a thorough discussion of international regional and country specific rules and regulations in those sectors Concentrating on the EU and Turkey in particular it considers rules and regulations in transport sectors It shows that economic liberalization pursued unilaterally multilaterally or regionally has beneficial effects for Turkey and that the benefits from such liberalization are substantial Furthermore the volume shows that transport infrastructure is an important determinant of exports and hence GDP and GDP growth

State Building and Late Development David

Waldner, 2018-05-31 Why does state building sometimes promote economic growth and in other cases impede it Through an analysis of political and economic development in four countries Turkey Syria Korea and Taiwan this book explores the origins of political economic institutions and the mechanisms connecting them to economic outcomes David Waldner extends our understanding of the political underpinnings of economic development by examining the origins of political coalitions on which states and their institutions depend He first provides a political model of institutional change to analyze how elites build either cross class or narrow coalitions and he examines how these arrangements shape specific institutions state society relations the nature of bureaucracy fiscal structures and patterns of economic intervention He then links these institutions to economic outcomes through a bargaining model to explain why countries such as Korea and Taiwan have more effectively overcome the collective dilemmas that plague economic development than have others such as Turkey and Syria The latter countries he shows lack institutional solutions to the problems that surround productivity growth The first book to compare political and economic development in these two regions State Building and Late Development draws on and contributes to arguments from political sociology and political economy Based on a rigorous research design the work offers both a finely drawn comparison of development and a compellingly argued analysis of the character and consequences of precocious Keynesianism the implementation of Keynesian demand stimulus policies in largely pre industrial economies

Turkey in the North Atlantic Marketplace Daniel S. Hamilton, Aylin Ünver Noi, Serdar Altay, 2018-07-31 For decades the partnership between North America and Europe has been a steady anchor in a world of rapid change Today however the transatlantic partnership itself has become unsettled and uncertain Nowhere is this clearer than in the economic sphere Nonetheless the European Union and the United States remain each other's largest and most profitable markets And as Europe changes extended value chains across non EU Europe have become important to the bottom line of many companies from the United States Europe and other parts of the world Given both the danger of fragmentation and opportunities that exist for deeper economic interaction it is time to consider new initiatives that include but go beyond the U S EU partnership to embrace allies and partners across the entire North Atlantic space The concept of the North Atlantic Marketplace would include non EU European countries in a broad North Atlantic commercial architecture Turkey's evolving commercial ties to the EU and the United States are central to such considerations In this book leading experts develop possible ways forward to anchor Turkey in the West by further deepening economic ties between Turkey and its transatlantic partners in the North Atlantic Marketplace

Asian Muslim Women Huma Ahmed-Ghosh, 2015-09-11 Presents multifaceted aspects of Asian Muslim women's lives and agencies This book resists the homogenization of Muslim women by detailing the diversity in their lives and by challenging the dominant paradigm of Arabized Islam as the sole interpreter of the faith Though much has been written on the Middle East there is a huge gap in research on Asia which has two thirds of the world's Muslim population These essays reveal that the lives of Muslim women are impacted not only by Islam but also by local politics class religion and ethnicity Through ethnographic research and other methodologies the contributors describe how economic globalization construction of sexualities and diasporic expectations shape women's lives The book focuses on women's negotiations and resistances to global national and local patriarchies in an attempt to empower themselves This book's greatest strength is the diversity of its scope both geographically and thematically without reducing Muslim women to particular roles and or identities Bahar Davary author of Women and the Qur'an A Study in Islamic Hermeneutics

Police Reform in Turkey Funda Hulagu, 2021-01-28 How has the supposedly liberalizing project of police reform in Turkey become central to the increasingly authoritarian regime of Erdogan's AKP Party Engaging political theory and a gender studies perspective this book traces the implementation of security sector reform in Turkey showing how various agents including Islamist policy makers Turkish police and the women's movement in Turkey have contributed to and resisted growing police powers A critical study which also employs case studies this is a timely intervention on the authoritarian turn in Turkey and contributes to a growing number of studies of neoliberalism and security in the context of liberal internationalism Produced in association with the British Institute at Ankara

State Reform and Development in the Middle East Amr Adly, 2013 The economies of Turkey and Egypt remarkably similar until the early 1980s have since taken divergent paths Turkey has successfully implemented a policy of export led industrialisation whilst Egypt's manufacturing industry and exports have stagnated In this book Amr Adly uses extensive primary research to present detailed comparisons of Turkey's and Egypt's state administrative and private sector capacities and links between the two The conclusion the author draws is that the external contexts for both were so alike that this cannot account for their diverging paths. Instead the author suggests a counterintuitive yet compelling explanation that a democratic polity is far more likely than an authoritarian one to engender a successful developmental state. Emerging in the wake of the January revolution in Egypt when hopes for democratisation were raised, this book provides a fresh perspective on the topical subject of state reform and development in the Middle East and will be of interest to students and scholars alike.

Human Rights in Turkey Zehra F. Kabasakal Arat, 2013-03-01

Turkey's mixed human rights record has been highly politicized in the debate surrounding the country's probable ascendance to membership in the European Union. Beginning with the foundation of a secular republic in 1923 and continuing with founding membership in the United Nations and participation in the European Convention on Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms, Turkey made significant commitments to the advancement of human rights. However, its authoritarian tradition, periods of military rule, increasing social inequality and economic crises have led to policies that undermine human rights. While legislative reforms and civil social activism since the 1980s have contributed greatly to the advancement of human rights, recent progress is threatened by the rise of nationalism, persistent gender inequality and economic hardship.

Human Rights in Turkey twenty-one Turkish and international scholars from various disciplines examine human rights policies and conditions since the 1920s at the intersection of domestic and international politics as they relate to all spheres of life in Turkey. A wide range of rights such as freedom of the press and religion, minority women's and workers' rights and the right to education are examined in the context of the history and current conditions of the Republic of Turkey. In light of the events of September 11, 2001 and subsequent developments in the Middle East, recent proposals about modeling other Muslim countries after Turkey add urgency to an in-depth study of Turkish politics and the causal links with human rights. The scholarship presented in Human Rights in Turkey holds significant implications for the study of human rights in the Middle East and around the globe.

Reforming Turkish Energy Markets Izak Atiyas, Tamer Cetin, Gurcan Gulen, 2012-05-11

Turkey has been reforming its energy markets since the 1980s, culminating in two major bills in the early 2000s. The country has restructured electricity and natural gas markets, establishing an independent regulatory agency EMRA and passed legislation on renewable and nuclear energy. With these regulatory reforms, Turkey as a candidate country for accession to the European Union (EU) has aimed to direct the energy markets to a more competitive environment in parallel with EU energy directives. This book contains an analysis of regulatory reforms in Turkish energy markets: electricity, natural gas, renewable and nuclear energy, the impact of these reforms on country's energy portfolio and role in global energy trade, especially between the EU, the Caspian, Caucasus and Central Asia. Finally, the book concludes with recommendations for Turkish energy policy. The authors are expert scholars who have written extensively on Turkish regulatory reform and energy economics and who have broad knowledge of global energy market dynamics. The book will be a unique guide for those concerned with the different areas of the Turkish economy and international audiences interested in energy markets of Turkey and surrounding regions.

Democratic Institutions of Undemocratic Individuals Peride K. Blind, 2009-01-08 After almost three decades of economic adjustment and restructuring what have been the political consequences of structural reforms Democratic Institutions of Undemocratic Individuals is a cogent intriguing and a long overdue account of the real impact of economic globalization in the developing world In this essential book Blind bridges an important gap in the literature attempting to straddle the yawning chasm between those scholars who argue that privatizations are good for democracy and those who maintain that they are not This book demonstrates the differential impact of privatizations on different sectors of society It gives a different perspective on the virtues and shortcomings of labor unions in democratization processes and introduces fascinating comparisons between Kemalist and Peronist templates of nation building It yields a judicious process tracing of Turkish and Argentine labor developments and depicts the groundbreaking interlacing of privatization and democratization in the global era

Political Economy of Policy Reform in Turkey in the 1980s Ziya Önis, Steven Benjamin Webb, 1992 Among the lessons from Turkey s experience with economic policy reform The political management of reform requires building and institutionalizing coalitions of beneficiaries from reform
