

The Truly Maryland Way Of Steamed Crabs

Whereas it's very easy to make cocktail sauce, it's cheaper and easier to buy already prepared seafood seasoning such as Old Bay (and many seafood restaurants sell their own home brand) than to make your own. The following recipe is called "The Truly Maryland Way of Steamed Crabs."

¼ cup seafood seasoning

¼ cup salt - rock salt if possible

1 cup white vinegar

1 cup beer

12 crabs

Mix seasoning, salt, vinegar and beer.

Put six crabs in large pot, followed by half the seasoning mixture, then the rest of the crabs and mixture. Cover tightly and steam crabs for 30 minutes.

Книга для чтения на английском языке Эрих Мария Ремарк,2018-10-11 The Art of God and the Religions of Art David Thistlethwaite,2008-04-01 The Art of God traces the progressive loss in the West of contact with or faith in a real created order and discusses the manifestations of this loss in fine art Making detailed reference to specific artists and works Thistlewaite shows how the diversity of our responses to modern art as well as that of previous centuries inescapably raises the question of truth This readable and thought provoking book breaks new ground as it links the pleasures of art to the dynamic character of God and asks what happens to creativity and to artists when the appreciation of God is absent It thus offers readers a fresh perspective from which to appreciate art FROM THE AUTHOR June 23 2009 All art historians must find a way of explaining the gap between the traditional art and modern Older art answered questions such as what was Henry VIII like The new is not so much about the world as about the breakdown in perceiving the world But some histories are still written as if art has followed a path of inevitable progress Others as if all beliefs that produce genuine art however weird are equally valid In my book I argue that modernism has produced a genuine art that grapples with perceived reality but that its real lack of content is disastrous When we see objects that are essentially blank or empty and start to find them significant and powerful we ought to be getting worried To explain this I have developed an account of art which sees it as a given and delightful form of knowing that equips us for living in God's world. But when the art area becomes part of the human agenda for unbelief, independence, and defining ourselves in the cosmos, it ceases to be a window on reality. It starts to function as a totem replacing thought, a sub-human icon for humanity. However, towards the end of the book, I focus on the dynamism of the living God and the transformative power of his grace that can turn any modern form, however desolate, into a vehicle of truth and meaning. When modernism plunges into the depths of not knowing, it can seldom go so far that real humanity and truth are not discovered in the unlikely places.
