Fiscal Implications of the Global Economic and Financial Crisis International Monetary Fund, 2009-09-18 The economic and financial crisis is affecting the fiscal accounts of virtually every country Public sector support for the financial system fiscal stimulus and the automatic stabilizers as well as the revenue decline from the downturn in commodity and asset prices are leading to sharp increases in deficits and debt stocks around the world Expansionary fiscal policy continues to be necessary in the short term to stimulate economic recovery But it is now essential that governments reassess the state of their public finances in light of the global crisis and adopt strategies that will ensure medium and long term fiscal sustainability Many of the advanced economies most affected by the crisis are also those where age related spending will increase markedly in the coming years adding particular urgency to the need to identify medium term consolidation strategies This new paper which focuses mainly on advanced and emerging market economies employs projections based on the April 2009 World Economic Outlook to quantify the fiscal implications of the crisis for a cross section of countries The authors assess the post shock fiscal balances and debt outlook and suggest ways for governments to clarify their strategies for maintaining fiscal solvency

Financial Crisis, Labour Markets and Institutions Sebastiano Fadda, Pasquale Tridico, 2013-02-11 This book seeks to explain the global financial crisis and its wider economic political and social repercussions arguing that the 2007-9 meltdown was in fact a systemic crisis of the capitalist system The volume makes these points through the exploration of several key questions What kind of institutional political economy is appropriate to explain crisis periods and failures of crisis management Are different varieties of capitalism more or less crisis prone and can the global financial crisis be attributed to one variety more than others What is the interaction between the labour market and the financialization process The book argues that each variety of capitalism has its own specific crisis tendencies and that the uneven global character of the crisis is related to the current forms of integration of the world market More specifically the 2007-09 economic crisis is rooted in the uneven income distribution and inequality caused by the current financial led model of growth The book explains how the introduction of more flexibility in the labour markets and financial deregulation affected everything from wages to job security to trade union influence Uneven income distribution and inequality weakened aggregate demand and brought about structural deficiencies in aggregate demand and supply It is argued that the process of financialization has profoundly changed how capitalist economies operate The volume posits that financial globalization has given rise to growing international imbalances which have allowed two growth models to emerge a debt led consumption growth model and an export led growth model Both should be understood as reactions to the lack of effective demand due to the polarization of income distribution

Pensions Sinéad Agnew,Paul S Davies,Charles Mitchell,2020-08-20 State pensions are the largest item in the UK social security budget costing 96 7 billion in 2017 18 In the same year 45 6 million people were members of UK occupational pension schemes out of a total population of 66 4 million and the total amount saved into workplace schemes in 2018 was 90 4 billion A consequence of the pensions sector s large size has been that pensions law and social security law have become increasingly specialised areas of practice Yet despite their social and economic importance and the fascinating legal issues they generate pensions have not been the subject of sustained academic attention This book starts to fill this gap by initiating a dialogue between practitioners and scholars working on pensions law and policy groups who have much to learn from one another This title is included in Bloomsbury Professional s Pensions Law online service
