Making Scientific Instruments in the Industrial Revolution A.D. Morrison-Low, 2017-03-02 At the start of the Industrial Revolution it appeared that most scientific instruments were made and sold in London but by the time of the Great Exhibition in 1851 a number of provincial firms had the self confidence to exhibit their products in London to an international audience How had this change come about and why This book looks at the four main and two lesser English centres known for instrument production outside the capital Birmingham Liverpool Manchester and Sheffield along with the older population centres in Bristol and York Making wide use of new sources Dr Morrison Low curator of history of science at the National Museums of Scotland charts the growth of these centres and provides a characterisation of their products New information is provided on aspects of the trade especially marketing techniques sources of materials tools and customer relationships From contemporary evidence she argues that the principal output of the provincial trade with some notable exceptions must have been into the London marketplace anonymously and at the cheaper end of the market She also discusses the structure and organization of the provincial trade and looks at the impact of new technology imported from other closely allied trades By virtue of its approach and subject matter the book considers aspects of economic and business history gender and the family the history of science and technology material culture and patterns of migration It contains a myriad of stories of families and

firms of entrepreneurs and customers and of organizations and arms of government In bringing together this wide range of interests Dr Morrison Low enables us to appreciate how central the making selling and distribution of scientific instruments was for the Industrial Revolution The Handplane Book Garrett Hack, 2003-09-15 Master the art of handplanes history technique and craftsmanship in one essential guide The Handplane Book by Garrett Hack is a richly illustrated tribute to one of woodworking s most iconic tools Published by Taunton Press this comprehensive guide covers everything from selecting and tuning handplanes to mastering their use in fine furniture making Hack blends practical instruction with historical insight tracing the evolution of handplanes from Roman times through the golden age of 19th century toolmaking With profiles of specialty planes advice on buying vintage and modern models and tips for planing technique this book is both a workshop manual and a collector's reference Whether you're a seasoned woodworker or a curious beginner The Handplane Book invites you to reclaim the romance and precision of traditional craftsmanship The Chronicle of the Early American Industries Association, Inc ,2006 Reports on the Philadelphia International Exhibition of 1876, 1877 Exhibition of the Works of Industry of All Nations, 1851, 1851 Official Catalogue of the Great Exhibition of the Works of Industry of All Nations 1851 Anonymous, 2011-07-07 A corrected edition of the single volume catalogue of the Great Exhibition 1851 with maps of the Crystal Palace Sheffield Steel and America Geoffrey Tweedale, 1987 The book provides an important contribution to the technological and commercial history of crucible and electric steelmaking by thoroughly examining its development in Sheffield and American centres such as Pittsburgh It also discusses cutlery saw and file manufacturing where the Americans guickly shed Sheffield's traditional technologies and with the help of superior marketing established a word lead by 1900 It is also shown however that this did not free the US from its dependence on Sheffield steel Sheffield's innovation in special steelmaking which began with the Hunstman crucible process in 1742 continued with a series of brilliant firsts which gave the world tool manganese silicon vanadium and stainless steel alloys Thus the US continued to draw from Sheffield know how even in the twentieth century a transfer of technology that was facilitated by the foundation of Sheffield's own subsidiary firms in America the history of which is recounted here
