The Text of Sidney's Arcadian World Michael McCanles, 1989 Text W. S. Hill, Edward M. Burns, 2000-12 Another volume in the distinguished annual Labyrinth of Desire William Craft, 1994 Modern readings of Sidney generally either endorse Greville's judgment defining a poet who transcends through art the conflicts of public virtue and private desire or they reverse it presenting a Sidney trapped by cultural demands and expectations he could neither abandon nor reform

Chiastic Designs in English Literature from Sidney to Shakespeare William E. Engel, 2016-04-08 Paying special attention to Sidney's Arcadia Spenser's Faerie Queene and Shakespeare's romances this study engages in sustained examination of chiasmus in early modern English literature The author's approach leads to the recovery of hidden designs which are shown to animate important works of literature along the way Engel offers fresh and more comprehensive interpretations of seemingly shopworn conventions such as memento mori conceits echo poems and the staging of deus ex machina The study grounded in the philosophy of symbolic forms following Ernst Cassirer will be a valuable resource for readers interested in intellectual history and symbol theory classical mythology and Renaissance iconography Chiastic Designs affords a glimpse into the transformative power of allegory during the English Renaissance by addressing patterns that were part and parcel of early modern mnemonic culture Cosmographical Glasses Constance Caroline

Relihan, 2004 In Cosmographical Glasses Constance Relihan examines the ways in which sixteenth century English texts traveler's reports ethnographic studies and geographic guides provide the foundation for how fictional prose of the period envisions the locations in which its tales are set Relihan suggests that this nonfictional discourse becomes central to how the fictional prose of the period imagines cultural identity fictional purpose and gender identity Places and cultures were defined in opposition to each other in early modern romances In the examples in Cosmographical Glasses writers attempt to define the spaces of their texts in an effort to identify what it means to be male English and Elizabethan pieces seize the spirit of ethnographic and geographic texts as well as the ways in which historically identifiable and overtly fictional places were used to complicate representations of utopian fantasies A number of prose romances and novella collections and their use of historical and geographical facts are analyzed in order to explore the associations between the genre the discourses of colonialism and the construction of gender These texts become glasses that reflect and refract the social and cultural realities of early modern England Those interested in sixteenth and seventeenth century English literature the history of the novel and the influence of travel literature on fictional texts will appreciate Cosmographical Glasses The Rhetoric of Concealment Rosemary Kegl, 1994 Demonstrating how struggles over gender and class were mediated through formal properties of writing The Rhetoric of Concealment offers a new framework for the discussion of court literature and middle class literature in the English Renaissance Rosemary Kegl offers powerful readings of works by Puttenham Sidney Shakespeare and Deloney and considers an array of other texts including journals gynecological and obstetrical writings

misogynist tracts defenses of women prescriptive literature on companionate marriage royal proclamations legal records and town charters

Romancing the Self in Early Modern Englishwomen's Life Writing Julie A. Eckerle, 2016-04-01 Juxtaposing life writing and romance this study offers the first book length exploration of the dynamic and complex relationship between the two genres In so doing it operates at the intersection of several recent trends interest in women s contributions to autobiography greater awareness of the diversity and flexibility of auto biographical forms in the early modern period and the use of manuscripts and other material evidence to trace literacy practices Through analysis of a wide variety of life writings by early modern Englishwomen including Elizabeth Delaval Dorothy Calthorpe Ann Fanshawe and Anne Halkett Julie A Eckerle demonstrates that these women were not only familiar with the controversial romance genre but also deeply influenced by it Romance she argues with its unending tales of unsatisfying love spoke to something in women s experience offered a model by which they could recount their own disappointments in a world where arranged marriage and often loveless matches ruled the day and exerted a powerful pervasive pressure on their textual self formations Romancing the Self in Early Modern Englishwomen s Life Writing documents a vibrant secular form of auto biographical writing that coexisted alongside numerous spiritual forms providing a much more nuanced and complete understanding of sixteenth and seventeenth century women s reading and writing literacies
