The Biography and Typography of William Caxton William Blades, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1877 edition Excerpt poems of his composition displaying after a copious debate between Mercy and Truth Justice and Peace a distinct survey throughout the palace and domains of Sapience of all the products of nature in distinct chapters and of arts and sciences with his further reference at the end of each to the authors who have written on them Ames says Typ Ant page 67 after quoting the whole of the Prohemium I take Caxton to be the poet or author by the above verses This opinion was perhaps too readily adopted Although there is a curious parallel between the poet's statement of his rude and corrupt speech and the apology of Caxton in his additions to The Recuyell for his vnperfightness in English owing to his having been educated where was spoken as brode and rude engliss as is in any place of englond and although we know that

Caxton could put together a few verses as in the instance of the last two stanzas of Moral Proverbs yet judging from the literary ability of his known works and translations we should hardly be justified in ascribing the authorship of Curia Sapiential to him The plan of this work in which theology geography natural history horticulture grammar rhetoric arithmetic geometry music and astronomy are all in turn described was certainly too high a flight for our printer The titles given to this book The werke of Sapience and Tractatus de Fide et Cantus famule sue adopted by Ames and other bibliographers were taken from the first and last lines of the poem The proper title Curia Sapientise appears at the end of Liber Primus Caxton s edition is very scarce St John s Oxford and Earl Spencer have copies and fragments are in the Bodleian and the British Museum
