Storytelling For Teachers And School Library Media Specialists:

Storytelling for Teachers and School Library Media Specialists Carol Lawrence, Jennabeth Hutcherson, James L. Thomas, 1981-01-01 Administering the School Library Media Center Betty J. Morris, 2010-08-16 This is the most comprehensive textbook on school library administration available now updated to include the latest standards and address new technologies This reference text provides a complete instructional overview of the workings of the library media center from the basics of administration budgeting facilities management organization selection of materials and staffing to explanations on how to promote information literacy and the value of digital tools like blogs wikis and podcasting Since the publication of the fourth edition of Administering the School Library Media Center in 2004 many changes have altered the landscape of school library administration the implementation of NCLB legislation and the revision of AASL standards just to mention two The book is divided into 14 chapters each devoted to a major topic in school library media management This latest edition gives media specialists a roadmap for designing a school library that is functional and intellectually stimulating while leading sources provide guidance for further research The School Library Media Specialist as Manager Amy G. Job, 1997 This collection of case studies emphasizes practical management techniques designed to be used by library media specialists in elementary middle and high school settings Storytelling Strategies for Reaching and Teaching Children with Special Needs Sherry Norfolk, Lyn Ford, 2017-11-21 This book supplies stories essays lesson plans and specialized storytelling strategies to help teachers level the playing field for all learners and better serve children with special needs More than 57 percent of the over 6 million American children with disabilities are in inclusive i e general classrooms self contained classrooms serve children whose disabilities are either more severe or disruptive As much as 20 percent of the children in an inclusive classroom are identified as disabled with the highest percentage of these having learning disabilities While most classrooms have at least one child with a disability teachers often have little or no training in educating and caring for these children The need for resources that support educators working with children with disabilities or social emotional difficulties is clear This book fills this critical need supplying school and public librarians classroom and special area teachers and storytelling teaching artists with storytelling strategies for reaching and teaching children with special needs in inclusive classrooms self contained classrooms and public and school libraries These full text stories essays and lesson plans from experienced storytelling teaching artists provide educators with a wide range of adaptable storytelling and teaching strategies for specific disabilities and enable storytellers to discover new ways to perform their storytelling magic The book also offers compelling real life anecdotes that demonstrate the impact of these strategies in inclusive and self contained classrooms presents an introduction to the skills of storytelling why they are useful and how to use them and includes suggested modifications for a wide range of disabilities as well as detailed resource lists Serving Special Needs Students in the School Library Media Center Margaret Keefe, Robert King, 1995-05-30 School library media specialists are now considered part of the teaching staff and are charged with integrating their library and information skills curriculum with the more general classroom curriculum At the same time more and more special needs students are part of every school and every classroom Thus the media specialist must work effectively with special needs students on a regular basis to develop their information skills and must also serve as a resource to classroom teachers This professional reference offers practical information to school library media specialists on how to serve special needs students and their classroom teachers effectively The first part of the book highlights the teaching role of the media specialist and discusses how and what to teach special needs students The second part views the media specialist as an information expert who must structure the library and its resources for students with special needs The third section treats the media specialist's role as a professional who must collaborate with other teachers
