

THE LAW ON STRATEGIC ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT ASSESSMENT

("Official Gazette of RS", no. 135/2004 and 88/2010)

AND BASIC PROVISIONS

Subject and objectives

Article 1

This law regulates the conditions, method and procedure for assessing the impact of certain plans and programs on the environment (hereinafter: strategic assessment), in order to ensure environmental protection and promote sustainable development by integrating the basic principles of environmental protection into the process of preparing and adopting plans and program.

Exceptions to the application

Article 2

The provisions of this law do not apply to plans and programs intended for the defense of the country, to plans for mitigating and eliminating the consequences of natural disasters, and to financial and budget plans.

The meaning of the expression

Article 3

Certain terms used in this law have the following meaning:

- 1) plans and programs are all development or other plans and programs, foundations, strategies, including their amendments, prepared and/or adopted by a body at the republican, provincial or local level, or prepared by a competent body for the appropriate adoption procedure in the National Assembly or the Government of the Republic of Serbia, that is, the assembly or the executive body of the autonomous province, that is, the local self-government unit, as well as the plans and programs adopted on the basis of regulations;
- 2) strategic assessment of the impact of certain plans and programs on the environment implies the preparation of reports on the state of the environment, the implementation of the consultation process, the consideration of reports and results of consultations in the decision-making process and the adoption or adoption of certain plans and programs, as well as the provision of information and data about the decision made ;
- 3) the strategic assessment report is part of the documentation that is attached to the plan or program and contains the identification, description and assessment of possible significant impacts on the environment due to the implementation of the plan and program, as well as variants considered and adopted based on the goals and spatial scope of the plan and program ;
- 4) interested bodies and organizations are bodies and organizations of the Republic, autonomous provinces and local self-government units that, in accordance with their competences, have an interest in making decisions related to environmental protection;
- 5) the public includes one or more natural or legal persons, their associations, organizations or groups;
- 6) the interested public includes the public that is affected or may be affected by the plan or program and/or that has an interest in making decisions related to environmental protection, including non-governmental organizations that deal with environmental protection and that are registered with the competent authority.

Strategic Environmental Assessment Barry Sadler, Barry Dalal-Clayton, 2012-04-27 This unique sourcebook provides a global state of the art review of the rapidly evolving field of strategic environmental assessment SEA that is intended to serve as a baseline for the work of an OECD Task Team on SEA and a UNEP initiative on integrated planning and assessment It describes trends in application and experience in different contexts worldwide providing in depth coverage of the status of SEA systems and practice in developed transitional and developing countries by a range of development agencies The book draws on a large body of published and unpublished material and contributions from a wide range of individual experts organizations and agencies It provides an unparalleled and invaluable understanding of the emerging scope and potential of SEA and describes how when and where it is being used The sourcebook includes a probing review of concepts terminology approaches and tools of SEA and a comparative analysis of the different types of existing SEA systems The volume also contains many case examples illustrating SEA practice in different countries and contexts a full set of references and a number of appendices containing source materials The Practice of Strategic Environmental Assessment Riki Therivel, Maria Rosario Paridario, 2013-10-11 The practical application of strategic environmental assessment SEA is becoming increasingly common A growing number of SEAs are being undertaken around the world and several countries have issued guidance on how these should be carried out However few countries as yet have formal SEA regulations and few completed SEAs have demonstrated all the elements of current best practice The Practice of Strategic Environmental Assessment aims to provide a unique analysis of SEAs which have been undertaken drawing on a variety of methods and circumstances to illustrate how best practice can be achieved and providing inspiration for those considering studying commission or carrying out an SEA Part I sets the rest of the book in context giving a review of international SEA guidance and regulations and discussing models and methodologies Part II then analyses a comprehensive set of case studies from countries which have extensive experience in SEA or which provide particularly good examples The case studies are discussed in three sections sectoral SEAs SEAs of land use plans and SEAs of policies and provide examples of different scales and approaches as well as country specific experience The final chapter draws out some constraints to effective SEA as well as positive themes which show how effective SEA can contribute to wider environmental assessment Written by an international team of SEA practitioners and experts this volume will be of particular use to students of environmental policy and management environmental consultants local authorities policy makers and anyone involved in the commissioning process or review of SEAs Handbook of Strategic Environmental Assessment Barry Sadler, Jiri Dusik, Thomas Fischer, Maria Partidario, Rob Verheem, Ralf Aschemann, 2012-09-10 This authoritative handbook surveys the full breadth and depth of SEA bringing together a range of international perspectives and insights on the theoretical methodological and institutional dimensions and practical issues of the field It then subjects this conventional wisdom to a critical reappraisal looks at the vast lessons of experience and offers new ideas and interpretations as to where the field is going The volume is organized into six major sections beginning with an introduction and overview of the development of the field and a framework for evaluating SEA good practice Part I comprises a review of SEA frameworks in leading countries Australia Canada New Zealand and the USA the European Union and developing regions Africa Asia Latin America and Newly Independent States Part II reviews SEA practice in several major sectors energy minerals transport water development assistance and coastal zone management Part III addresses the linkages between SEA and other comparable tools such as spatial planning and environmental management Part IV probes key cross cutting issues in SEA including how to address cumulative and trans boundary effects Part V identifies ways and means of SEA process and capacity development focusing on how to improve and upgrade the theory and practice of the field Part VI examines the shift from conventional SEA towards more integrative approaches drawing on experience and examples from a number of countries Published with IAIA

Strategic Environmental Assessment in Transport and Land Use Planning Thomas B. Fischer, 2023-04-28

Assessing the full scale of environmental impacts is essential for effective planning of transport and land use This is an analysis of transport and land use planning using strategic environmental assessment SEA It establishes the effectiveness of SEA through comparative studies of practice in three countries Britain the Netherlands and Germany The author shows that use of SEA is widespread but far from systematic He demonstrates the advantages of adopting a systematic application of a comprehensive form of SEA derived from all the major current approaches Only once this approach is fully understood and systematically applied will all the full benefits be achieved and environmental impacts be minimized Strategic

Environmental Assessment Legislation and Procedures in the Community Norman Lee, European Commission, 1998

Strategic Environmental Assessment Legislation and Procedures in the Community European Commission, 1998 The Strategic Environmental Assessment Directive Gregory Jones KC, Eloise Scotford, 2017-02-23 The Strategic Environmental Assessment Directive Directive 2001/42/EC SEA Directive has been a lurking legal presence in EU and UK environmental law Now just over a decade since its implementation the impacts of the SEA Directive are beginning to be felt throughout the UK and more broadly throughout the European Union as a whole These developments have been driven both by the expansive interpretation of the Directive's scope by the Court of Justice of the European Union and by a slow learning process about how this new type of regulation should be legally interpreted and applied This edited collection is the first volume to reflect comprehensively on the emerging legal identity of SEA in the EU and UK With contributions addressing the impact of the SEA Directive on the fields of town and country planning and European environmental law the book is a comprehensive analysis of all aspects of the Directive from its history and scope to its impact on governmental policy and its implications in practice The volume both reflects on key cases such as Case C-567/10 Inter-Environnement Bruxelles and HS2 and looks forward as it considers and projects future legal implications of the SEA Directive Written by a blend of distinguished academics and leading practitioners it provides an in depth critique and rounded appreciation of both the immediate practical effects of SEA and its wider impact on European and UK environmental law     Strategic Environmental Assessment in International and European Law Simon Marsden, 2012-05-16 Strategic environmental assessment SEA is a regulatory requirement for development across Europe North America Australasia and elsewhere yet understanding the legal aspects is challenging This comprehensive guide provides that understanding in a clear and straightforward way The introduction considers SEA and the law explaining what SEA is why it is needed how it works and why it is required as well as examining the role of the law Part One provides an overview of international law environmental impact assessment EIA and international law including treaties customary international law and soft law relevant to SEA It analyses the Kiev SEA Protocol and related UNECE conventions the Espoo Convention on EIA in a Transboundary Context and the Aarhus Convention on Access to Information Public Participation and Access to Justice in Environmental Matters It also analyses the role of SEA in conservation conventions Part Two considers how the European legal system works including an overview of the current status of European law It examines the EIA Directive and SEA Directive together with other relevant directives and regulations such as the Habitats and Wild Birds Directives the Water Framework Directive the Public Participation for Plans and Programmes Directive and the Structural Funds Regulations Finally the volume draws conclusions about the relationship and comparisons between international and European law generally and in regulating SEA     Strategic Environmental Assessment Legislation and Procedures in the Community European Commission, 1998     Strategic Environmental Assessment Legislation and Procedures in the Community Norman Lee, 1998
