Mere Bagatelles: Women's Diaries from Ireland, 1760-1810 Amy Prendergast, 2024-09-13 Honorable Mention in the ACIS Robert Rhodes Prize for Books on Literature 2024 An Open Access edition of this book will be available on publication on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library Engaging with previously overlooked diaries by women in Ireland written between 1760 and 1810 this book opens new avenues concerning authorship and female agency transforming our understanding of women's contributions to both literature and culture The result of extensive archival research across multiple international archives this book presents an entirely new corpus that demonstrates the creativity and literary capabilities of women in this period The surviving diaries showcase these women's engagement with a form that allowed them to explore their subjectivity and to experiment with the presentation of self This book demonstrates how these bagatelles should be treated as literary works that were shaped by and in turn influenced wider cultures of reading and writing underlining the generic fluidity at play The diary form forces a dismantling of the neat binaries of public and private of imaginative and non imaginative prose writing complicating our understandings of each The content of these diaries prompts a re evaluation of the very contours of Irish writing and what we consider as literature while allowing us to rediscover the importance of manuscripts to our explorations of literary culture

Diary Poetics Anna Jackson, 2020-08-26 The diary is a genre that is often thought of as virtually formless a capacious hold all for the writer's thoughts and as offering unmediated access to the diarist's true self Focusing on the diaries of Katherine Mansfield Virginia Woolf Antonia White Joe Orton John Cheever and Sylvia Plath this book looks at how six very different professional writers have approached the diary form with its particular demands and literary potential As a sequence of separate entries the diary is made up of both gaps and continuities and the different ways diarists negotiate these aspects of the diary form has radical effects on how their diaries represent both the world and the biographical self The different published editions of the diaries by Katherine Mansfield Virginia Woolf and Sylvia Plath show how editorial decisions can construct sometimes startlingly different biographical portraits Yet all diaries are constructed and all diary constructions depend on how the writer works with the diary form
