The Birth Of The British Motor Car Vol 1 3:

The Emergence of Bicycling and Automobility in Britain Craig Horner, 2021-01-28 In the late 19th century bicycling and motoring offered new ways for a hardy minority to travel Escaping from the tyranny of the train timetables these entrepreneurs were able to promote private mobility when the road technology and infrastructure were unequal to the task With a moribund network out of town poor roadside accommodation and few services how could road traction persist and ultimately thrive Drawing on a wealth of primary sources including magazines newspapers and advice books on stable management this book explores the emergence and development of bicycling and automobility in Britain with a focus on the racing driver cum entrepreneur SF Edge 1868 1940 and his network Craig Horner considers the motivations prejudices and cultures of those who promoted and consumed road traction providing new insights into social class leisure sport and tourism in Britain In addition he places early British bicycling and automobility in an international context providing fruitful comparisons with the movements in France Germany and the United States The Emergence of Bicycling and Automobility in Britain is an excellent resource for scholars and students interested in mobility studies social and cultural history and the history of technology The Birth of the British Motor Car, 1769-1897 T.R. Nicholson, 1982-06-18

The Birth of the British Motor Car, 1769-1897: Revival and defeat, 1842-93 Timothy Robin Nicholson, 1982 Veteran Motor Cars Steve Lanham, 2020-06-25 This colourful introduction to the first decades of the motor car covers its earliest iterations when the automobile represented the very peak of technological innovation It is packed with fascinating facts about the experimental origins of the motor industry when these horseless carriages were largely constructed in back street workshops many simply resembling the frame and bodywork of a horse drawn carriage but fitted with a petrol engine Experimentation was rife however and there was much debate as to whether petrol steam or electricity should lead the way with endurance runs hill climbs and organised races pitting them one against the other Early motorists had to employ novel measures to overcome challenges such as the rudimentary engineering of early cars the difficulty of fuel supply the poorly maintained roads and hostility from other road users The Motor Car Industry in Coventry Since the 1890's David Thoms, Tom Donnelly, 2017-07-06 This book originally published in 1985 examines the development of the car industry in Coventry within both its local context and the wider economic environment It is a study of expansion and adjustment which reflects the broader pattern of Britain's industrial history The book analyses the emergence and early dominance of Coventry's motor manufacturers the appearance of the volume producers in the 1920s and the instability of the post war era The relationship between cars and other sectors of the local economy particularly cycles machine tools and aircraft is discussed while the significance of the two world wars receive special attention Extensive use is made of original sources material much of which prior to publication had received little or no attention from business historians International Bibliography of Business History Francis Goodall, Terry Gourvish, Steven Tolliday, 2013-12-16 The field of business history has changed and grown dramatically over the last few years There is less interest in the traditional company centred approach and more concern about the wider business context With the growth of multi national corporations in the 1980s international and inter firm comparisons have gained in importance In addition there has been a move towards improving links with mainstream economic financial and social history through techniques and outlook The International Bibliography of Business History brings all of the strands together and provides the user with a comprehensive guide to the literature in the field The Bibliography is a unique volume which covers the depth and breadth of research in business history This exhaustive volume has been compiled by a team of subject specialists from around the world under the editorship of three prestigious business historians

Car Illustrated ,1906 Includes section Royal Automobile Club news from Mar 1915 Dec 1928 Engineering Abstracts ,1913 Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1897 The Autocar ,1914
