The Blue Streak Some Observations Mostly About Advertising:

The Blue Streak: Some Observations, Mostly about Advertising Fairfax M. Cone, 1973 The Advertising Age Encyclopedia of Advertising John McDonough, Karen Egolf, 2015-06-18 For a full list of entries and contributors a generous selection of sample entries and more visit the The Advertising Age Encyclopedia of Advertising website Featuring nearly 600 extensively illustrated entries The Advertising Age Encyclopedia of Advertising provides detailed historic surveys of the world's leading agencies and major advertisers as well as brand and market histories it also profiles the influential men and women in advertising overviews advertising in the major countries of the world covers important issues affecting the field and discusses the key aspects of methodology practice strategy and theory Also includes a color insert The Sounds of Capitalism Timothy D. Taylor, 2024-05-31 From the early days of radio through the rise of television after World War II to the present music has been used more and more to sell goods and establish brand identities And since the 1920s songs originally written for commercials have become popular songs and songs written for a popular audience have become irrevocably associated with specific brands and products Today musicians move flexibly between the music and advertising worlds while the line between commercial messages and popular music has become increasingly blurred Timothy D Taylor tracks the use of music in American advertising for nearly a century from variety shows like The Clicquot Club Eskimos to the rise of the jingle the postwar upsurge in consumerism and the more complete fusion of popular music and consumption in the 1980s and after The Sounds of Capitalism is the first book to tell truly the history of music used in advertising in the United States and is an original contribution to this little studied part of our cultural history Chicago Portraits June Skinner Sawyers, 2012-03-31 The famous the infamous and the unjustly forgotten all receive their due in this biographical dictionary of the people who have made Chicago one of the world's great cities Here are the life stories provided in short entertaining capsules of Chicago's cultural giants as well as the industrialists architects and politicians who literally gave shape to the city Jane Addams Al Capone Willie Dixon Harriet Monroe Louis Sullivan Bill Veeck Harold Washington and new additions Saul Bellow Harry Caray Del Close Ann Landers Walter Payton Koko Taylor and Studs Terkel Chicago Portraits tells you why their names are inseparable from the city they called home Selling the President, 1920 John A. Morello, 2001-04-30 Modern advertising moved into the 20th century borne on many vehicles and distinguished by many techniques three of the most frequently used being reason why advertising celebrity endorsements and pre-emptive claims Best known for his reason why advertising Albert Davis Lasker president of the Lord Thomas Agency of Chicago championed all three techniques helping Lucky Strike Cigarettes Van Camp's Pork Beans and Sunkist Oranges become business successes His least known but best work was in the political area where he helped the Republicans gain control of Congress in 1918 and with the election of Warren G Harding recapture the White House in 1920 This book covers events leading to Harding's nomination and election and the key role Lasker played in his election Bringing along the tricks he had used to sell soap beer cigarettes and canned food Lasker plunged into political advertising forever changing the way political candidates are publicized Adcult USA James B. Twitchell, 1996 Why advertising has become the dominant meaning making system in American culture and satisfies our desires in fundamental ways Brought to You By Lawrence R. Samuel, 2009-03-06 A lively history of how TV advertising became a defining force in American culture between 1946 and 1964 Technology and Culture The two decades following World War II brought television into homes and of course television commercials Those commercials in turn created an image of the postwar American Dream that lingers to this day This book recounts how advertising became a part of everyday lives and national culture during this midcentury period not only reflecting consumers desires but shaping them and broadcasting a vivid portrait of comfort abundance ease and happy family life and of course keeping up with the Joneses As the author asserts it s nearly impossible to understand our culture without contemplating these visual celebrations of conformity and consumption and this insightful entertaining volume of social history helps us do just that Handbook of American Popular Culture M. Thomas Inge, 1978 Library has Volumes 1 and 2 Information Sources in Advertising History Richard Pollay, 1979-07-26 Image Makers Robert Jackall, Janice M. Hirota, 2000-07-20 Talking dogs pitching ethnic food Heart tugging appeals for contributions Recruitment calls for enlistment in the military Tub thumpers excoriating American society with over the top rhetoric At every turn Americans are exhorted to spend money join organizations rally to causes or express outrage Image Makers is a comprehensive analysis of modern advocacy from commercials to public service ads to government propaganda and its roots in advertising and public relations Robert Jackall and Janice M Hirota explore the fashioning of the apparatus of advocacy through the stories of two organizations the Committee on Public Information which sold the Great War to the American public and the Advertising Council which since the Second World War has been the main coordinator of public service advertising They then turn to the career of William Bernbach the adman s adman who reinvented advertising and grappled creatively with the profound skepticism of a propaganda weary midcentury public Jackall and Hirota argue that the tools in trade and habits of mind of image makers have now migrated into every corner of modern society Advocacy is now a vocation for many and American society abounds as well with technicians in moral outrage including street smart impresarios feminist preachers and bombastic talk radio hosts The apparatus and ethos of advocacy give rise to endlessly shifting patterns of conflicting representations and claims and in their midst Image Makers offers a clear and spirited understanding of advocacy in contemporary society and the quandaries it generates
